4-H Mini Marathon

The 5th annual Simnasho 4-H Mini-Marathon has been approved by Tribal Council and the date set for March 5, 1983. There will again be the 14.5 mile run from Simnasho to Kah-Nee-Ta Village, the 6 mile run, and the 3 mile "fun run."

This year the mini-marathon should be pretty much the same as in the past, but a slightly different group will be in charge of the event. The mini-marathon was originally started by one 4-H club, the Simnasho 4-H "Discovery" Club, to fund an annual field trip for club members who were also students at Simnasho Elementary School. This year, while there is no Simnasho School and therefore no Simnasho 4-H Club, the tradition will be carried on by the Warm Springs 4-H Program as a whole. The money raised will go to the Warm Springs 4-H Leaders Association and will be used to support various 4-H programs such as 4-H camp, 4-H Summer week, and to send local 4-H leaders or members to trainings or special 4-H conferences.

A planning committee has been formed to begin working in earnest on planning the 1983 mini-marathon. The first meeting was held on Wednesday, October 27th to; committee members include Winona Strong, Jerry Sampson, Evelyn Nequatewa, Papo and Caroline Cruz, and Dale Spencer, all local 4-H leaders. There will be plenty of opportunities for volunteers to help in different capacities; interested people should let one of the planning committees know how they would like to be involved or contact the Extension Office.

Basketball tourney set

The first basketball tournament of the Warm Springs season will be the 3rd annual Ribbon Shirt Tourney on November 5, 6 and 7 at the Community Center. This tournaments is sponsored by the Oregon Travelers.

Twelve teams from throughout the western states will be vying for the championship title. The National Indian Athletic championship team from Vermillion, South Dakota will be among those seeking first place ribbon shirts.

Other teams appearing in the tournament will be the Warm Springs King Kids; the Portland Chiefs; Satus Cowboys; Warm Springs

Magpies; Oregon Travelers; Pendleton; Toppenish Bloodrunners; North American Plains Indians of Seattle; Hoopa, California, Lawrence, Kansas; and Lapwai, Idaho.

The first game scheduled will be the W.S. King Kids vs Portland Chiefs at 5:30 p.m., the second game will feature Satus Cowboys vs W.S. Magpies at 7 p.m. Tony Suppah of the Oregon Travelers suggest people be aware the games may end early and he advises players as well as spectators to be prepared for a fast moving tournament. The teams in the winners bracket will play games with 10 minute quarter while those playing in the losers bracket will be 8 minute quarters.

And then there were none

Hopefully this won't be the final outcome of the deer population here on the reservation. During the last week of October the remains of four deer which had been gutted but not skinned were found in the garbage dump at Dry Creek. Nearby were discarded deer hides. Terry Luther, tribal wildlife biologist said there appeared to be four deer dumped at the same time.

Sanitize water systems

Families with drinking water from cisterns or natural springs should clean and sanitize their water systems.

Every year, water storage tanks/reservoirs must be drained, cleaned of sediments and sanitized against contamination. To sanitize your system, add one gallon of bleach to the cistern or storage tank after it has been drained; cleaned and refilled. Then, turn on all faucets and taps in the home until the swimming pool water taste disappears. Make sure to secure the cistern cover(s) to prevent future contamination.

This yearly maintenance is not difficult, take only a short time, and keeps your drinking water safe.

If you have any questions about your water safety, contact Jerry Shipps, IHS Sanitarian, or Satish Puri, Tribal Sanitary Engineer.

Originality awarded in costume contest

Taking time from busy schedules tribal employees gathered, on October 29 for the annual Halloween costume contest. The contest was held in the front lobby of the Administration building at 4 p.m.

Judges for the contest were Anita Jackson, juvenile court judge and Mary Anstett, BIA administrative secretary.

The costumes were divided into five categories: monsters, 21st century, historical, TV and movie stars and original.

Winning the monsters division were Eddie Henderson, accounting department and Joann Byrant, credit department. The 21st century winners were Frances Alle of the personnel department and Pat Leno, Spilyay. Dave

Book Fair

Nov. 9-10

The annual paperback book fair will be held in the Warm Springs Elementary Library on November 9 and 10 for students and November 12 for parents. These are quality paperback books, with many new titles, for all members of the family. All books will be available during the sale with 25% discount. This is not a money making project. The goal is to give everyone a chance to buy good books at a reasonable price.

Harding, associate tribal judge and George Stevenson, tribal prosecutor won the historical category. Two Dallas cowboy cheerleaders Marcia Soliz (court administrator) and Versa Smith (Health branch secretary) won the movie star division. Clown Shelly McCool (tribal court staff) and a "dirty old man," Evelyn Nequatewa, won the original category.

Parent workshop to be held

On Tuesday, November 9, 1982, the Warm Springs Elementary School will be sponsoring a workshop on Reading and Math. We will be presenting what children will be learning in grades K-6 while attending Warm Springs Elementary, and, how parents can help their children at home to become better reading and math students.
