Fires destroy homes

Three attempts were made to rescue Alfred by the fire crew. One the fourth try, when the fire fighters located him, Wolfe was "lifeless—he was not breathing and there was no pulse," said Huff. Wolfe was rescued from the second floor room through a window and down a ladder.

Once Wolfe was outside, EMTs administered CPR, oxygen and started an I.V. Wolfe was stabilized at Mt. View and later transported to St. Charles Medical Center in Berd, where he is listed in "fairly good" condition.

"Our guys did a fantastic job in saving his (Wolfe's) life," said Huff. He also said that the doctors commended the crew for their "professionalism. Had it not been for that, Wolfe wouldn't be alive. He had a very high amount of carbon monoxide in his blood and lungs," said Huff.

Cause of the Wolfe fire has not been determined, but it was "probably caused by a fireplace insert," said Huff. Huff estimated that about 80% of the Wolfe's personal belongings were lost and the house was probably 85% destroyed. "It's gutted. The garage and lower level are still intact, but there's a lot of water damage."

The family has expressed the need for clothes. One boy wears size 5 slim pants and size 8 T-shirt and another boy wears size 29-32 pants and medium shirts. Two girls also need clothes. One girl wears size 14 slim pants and size 16 girls size blouse. The other girl wears size 14 misses size pants and size 16 blouse.

Doris wears size 16 pants and size 38 blouse and Alfred wears size 34-34 pants and a large shirt. All donations can either be taken to the Baptist Church or given to Pat Speakthunder or Norma Smith.

Both fires are still under investigation.
