WARM SPRINGS, OREGON 97761

JANUARY 7, 1983

Lenora Starr chosen Miss Warm Springs '83

by Pat Leno

A soft spoken young lady of poise and stature, Lenore Kim Starr of Warm Springs, was selected to wear the Miss Warm Springs 1983 crown by a panel of four judges on December 28. The 10th annual pageant was held at the Warm Springs Agency Longhouse.

Lenora, age 18, is the eldest of three children of Dennis and Ramona Starr. She is an enrolled member of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs. She resides with her parents in Warm Springs.

She had planned to attend college during the winter and spring term to pursue an education in nursing. Her plans for college will be postponed during her reign as Miss Warm Springs. Lenora said, "I will have to wait to enter the University of Oregon but it will only be a postponement." She had attended the 1982 summer term at Brigham Young University in Salt Lake, Utah.

Gaining the crown and title has opened a door for Lenora for what she feels gives her the opportunity to attain a long-

Little Miss Warm Springs Contestants still accepted

The Little Miss Warm Springs Contest is nearing its final stages. There is still time for any interested girls to participate.

Each child must demonstrate particular skills according to their age group or category.

Each participant will be required to wear only the costumes representing one of the three Warm Springs Confederated Tribes.

Each child will be given a few minutes to express her views. She will be judged on her speaking ability and poise.

On January 19, when the finals begin, each girl will have the chance to display her own handwork.

The categories according to age group will have different requirements.

Girls entering the contest in Category 1, ages 3 and 4, must know their name and address. They should know their parents name. They will have to demonstrate the Circle Dance and Skip Dance.

Category 2, ages 5 and 6 years, requires the participating girls to know their name and address. They should also know their parents' name. They will have to demonstrate the Circle dance and Skip Dance.

Girls entering category 3, ages 7 through 9, must know their name, address and parents' name. They should know a little about their reservation. They must demonstrate the Circle and Skip Dance.

Category 4, girls aged 10 to 13, requires knowledge of name, address and parents' name. The girls should know a little about their reservation and culture. They will demonstrate the shuffle Dance and Butterfly Dance.

Girls aged 14 to 17 in Category 5 must know everything required of categories 1, 2, 3 and 4. They must know their culture and and the culture of each Warm Springs Tribe including the name of each tribal chief. Knowledge of the tribal government is necessary such as they council structure, its members and what they do, how long they serve and how they become members of the council.

The Warm Springs Tribal Council and Mid-Oregon Indian Historical Society

Cordially invites all tribal members to attend and view the acquired Tribal museum artifacts.

Auction scheduled for Jan. 9

An auction and mini-affle will be held at the Simnasho Longhouse on January 9 at 4 p.m. The proceeds will go to the Lincoln's Birthday Powwow which will be held February 11, 12 and 13.

Featured at the auction will be cash door prizes. Tickets for the cash prizes will be given at the door and will be free. A chance will be given one-to-a-person.

Raffle tickets for the mini-affle can be purchased from Richard Craig in Personnel, Kate Jackson in Planning, Charlotte Herkshan in the Family Counseling Center and Anna Clements in Cultural and Heritage department. Tickets will be sold at the Longhouse on Sunday. Items to be raffled will be foods, beadwork, wing dresses, quilts and other items.

The committee has selected four local girls as Hostesses for the Powwow. Bridgett Scott, Monica Wahnetah, Gayleen Adams and Stacy Leonard. The hostesses will be in the community selling tickets for raffles. Support the Lincoln's Birthday powwow for 1983.

Participants meeting planned

The Little Miss Warm Springs contest is just around the corner. It is scheduled for January 19.

A potluck luncheon meeting is being held for those interested or involved with the contest. The meeting will be held at 12 noon in conference room 1 at the Community Center.

Those attending are asked to bring their own table service along with an item for the lunch.

The meeting begins at 6:30 p.m. in conference room 1 at the Community Center. The girls will string beads and learn to act out a legend. It will also be time to have any questions answered.
