

Thanks for supporting powwow

The Lincoln's Birthday Powwow Committee would like to extend their appreciation for fund raising events that helped many people involved in all the fund raising events will be held make this year's powwow bigger and better.

Thanks to those who donated items for the powwow raffle, mini-affle, auction, rummage, bake sales and the bottle/can drive. Thanks also to everyone who supported the sales by buying.

Special thanks to the hostesses, Gayleen Adams, Stacey Leonard, Brigitte Scott and Monica Wahnetah for doing a great job in selling the powwow raffle tickets. Thanks to you, the 1984 powwow is off to a good start. Other fundraising events will be held throughout the year, so watch for dates and time.

To anyone, anywhere, whose involved with a powwow, we wish you the best of luck, because it takes a lot of teamwork and effort to put on a powwow.

On behalf of the Committee,
sincerely,
Kate Jackson

Thank You

To our dear Brothers and Sisters,

Thank you for your comforting words, your help is deeply appreciated, you're beautiful and we love you very much.

We apologize for error

Unlike indicated by the outline under the photo of Madras Junior High honor students Carla Tewee and Annette Archer on page two in the last issue of Spilyay Tymoo the students are not Indian students, they are Indian students. Our apologies for the typographical error.

Longhouse activities varied

Reatha Johnson

This all happened Sunday March 6, 1983, at the Agency Longhouse, which included a birthday, wedding and a appreciation dinner.

Reatha Sue Johnson, the daughter of Buford "Biff" and Nancy Johnson, celebrated her 14th birthday. She was honored with a dinner and a cake. Reatha, who is one of the younger ones who is involved with longhouse activities, was one of the guests of honor.

Combining with the Sunday dinner, Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong Wolfe held a dinner of appreciation for their two daughters Lani and Tiffany Wolfe who were adopted into the Tribes just recently.

Also, on the same day, a wedding dinner and cake was served for Florine Johnson and Robert Allen. The couple were married the day before.

Following the activities, there was Indian dancing in the longhouse during the afternoon. Prior to all activities that day, there were Washut services during the morning hours. Washut services are held each Sunday and are open to anyone who is interested.

On Sunday the 13th, there was another dinner of appreciation for a new adoptee to the Tribe. This was for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kirk. Also during the same day there was a birthday dinner for Arthur Mitchell which was put on by his family members and friends. After the dinner there were give aways and some dancing in the longhouse. There were several people on hand for each of the weekend functions.

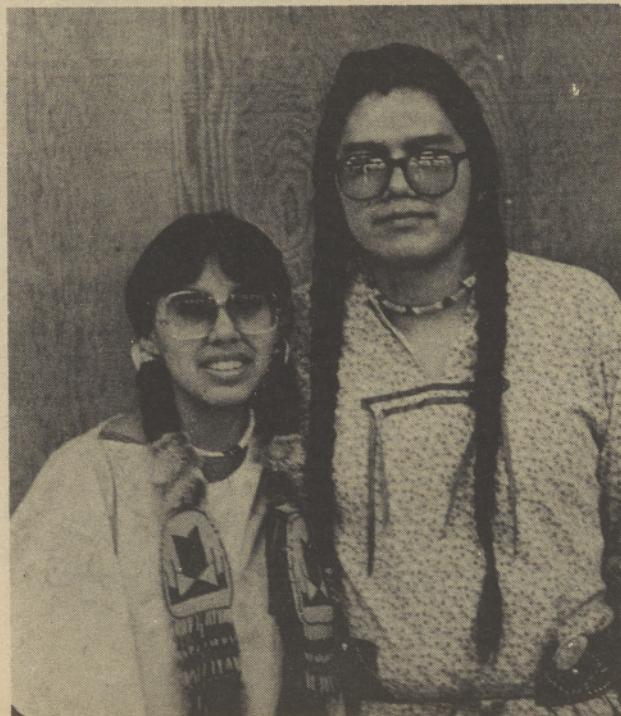

Couple weds

Florene Johnson and Robert Allen were married in Vancouver, Washington on March 5, 1983.

Florene is the daughter of Wilbur and Katie Johnson of Warm Springs, and Robert is the son of David and Matilda

Allen of Satus, Washington.

Florene spent her school years here in Warm Springs and at Madras High School. Robert attended school in Granger, Washington. The newly weds plan to make their home here in Warm Springs.
