work and water development, totalling approximately $23,000, will be done in the Tenino area.

In Boulder, $25,000 has been appropriated for fence and corral construction and fence repair. In Sidwalter, $27,000 has been earmarked for fence construction and water development. 4-H will receive $3,000 for corral repair and spring work. The Simnasho and Mutton Mountains will receive a total of $45,000 for fence and corral construction and repair and spring work. All projects will hopefully be completed by September but weather may be a factor that could stall the completion.

The appropriations for the forestry program, totalling $160,000, includes work in crop trees/Christmas sales, establishing meals log timber guidelines, road and maintenance, identifying the reservation boundary lines and the construction of a "heli spot" near fire control. The projects are scheduled to be completed by September.

The fisheries and streams improvements projects with funding totalling $48,000, will include improvements on the Shitike water works Mill Creek screen, fish marking and some liaison projects.

The housing appropriations, says community services manager Ed Manion, will hopefully cover the expenses of training men and women in the field of housing construction, from electrician and plumbing work to sheet rocking and finish carpentry. The funds, totalling $32,000, will cover the training and construction of a new 1,200 square foot home and possibly repairs to existing homes. Hopefully, says Manion, CETA will have funds that could cover some of the labor and training.

Awards presented to FFA members

by Hobo Patt
FFA Chapter Reporter

The Madras FFA held their 36th annual awards dessert last May 24, Tuesday night. Over 100 guests and members were in attendance. This year's guest speaker was Todd Heidergerkin. He is the 1983-1984 State FFA Reporter from the Yamhill-Carlton FFA Chapter. His speech was about thanking parents for what they have done for the members since they got started in FFA. He commented that "everyone can't be a winner tonight but everyone can set goals for themselves to reach."

Next on the program was the awards. Tim Bauer of Willowdale won the chapter Public Speaking Award. Tim won second place on the district and sectional level last February and March. Tim then won 5th place in state which was held in Bend in March.

Creed Speaking was won by Lyman Jim of Simnasho, Oregon. Hai Tran and Mike Alps both won the outstanding GPA award with a GPA of 3.87 each. Leslie Harris of Antelope won the outstanding Freshman GPA award with a GPA of 3.50.

Rich Henderson won the DeKalb award. This award is given to the outstanding Senior. Rich is going to enlist in the Marines and then enter the law enforcement field. The Co-op award, sponsored by the Jefferson Co-op, is given to the student who shows the greatest knowledge of how Co-ops run and operate. This year's winner was Tim Bauer.

The Key Person award was earned by Troy Quillin and Karla Hood. The Key Person award is given to the person or people who the chapter can always count on to be there to do the hard and dirty work for the chapter.

The following students won the following award for their projects: Sheep production, Rich Henderson and Mike Alps; George Rufener Memorial Swine award, Tim Bauer; Dairy Production, Teri Thomson; Ag Electricity, Mike Alps; Ag Mechanics, Mike Alps; Ag Sales and Service, Tim Bauer; Doug Robertson Memorial Diversified Livestock Award, Tim Bauer and Mike Alps; Beef Production, Kent Wulf; Turf and Landscape, Kent Wulf; Fish and Wildlife Production, Ray Williams; Horse Production, Kent Wulf; and Small Animal Production, Mike Alps.

The highest award that the FFA can give an adult who helps the chapter is the Honorary Chapter Farmer Degree. This year the award was given to Mr. Floyd Bauer and Jim and Susan Hood. Mr. Floyd Bauer has donated equipment, given advice, set up judging practices and has helped coach the winning Madras FFA livestock judging team. The Hoods have attended overnight FFA events with the chapter, have helped with the FFA Float at the county fair parade and have helped coached the FFA skills contest team.

The best Star Chapter Farmer in the Madras FFA Chapter is Mike Alps. The best greenhand in the chapter is George Garren.

The new FFA officers for next year were installed. They are: President, Mike Alps; V.P., Troy Quillin; Secretary, Karla Hood; Asst. Sec, Stan Sullivan; Treasurer, Rob Irwin; Reporter, Hobo Patt; Asst. Reporter, Tim Bauer; Sentinel, Alvis Smith III.

After the awards were presented the members and guests ate a large variety of homemade desserts that were provided by the parents.
