Advice offered to parents

Infancy and childhood passes so quickly many parents have a difficult time keeping up with the physical, social, intellectual and emotional changes their child experiences.

Perhaps you wonder whether your child is growing and developing at a rate consistent and typical of other youngsters the same age.

The OSU Extension Service has developed a series of 12 letters written specifically to aid you as a parent in the understanding of your infant, toddler or preschooler.

The letters "Oregon Children" address such topics as reading, nutrition, self-image, allowances, etc... "Oregon Children" would be an excellent resource material for any adult working with small children.

The "Oregon Children" series of newsletters is available free of charge from the Warm Springs Cooperative Extension Office, 553-1161, ext. 238.

Adult Learning Center now open

The Warm Springs Adult Learning Center at the Community Center has opened for the year. This year the center has a new schedule and some new ideas for the public.

The Center will be open Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Friday from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m. Reba Powell and Nancy Jolstead will be at the Center to assist people who are interested in setting and attaining their educational goals.

This year, the Center will feature both structured and lab settings to help students with their studies. The Center is open for adults who want to brush up on their basic skills, prepare for their GED, take Adult High School Diploma courses or just want a pleasant place to read. The Center can help a person find educational goals, so if a person is not quite sure about their direction, Reba and Nancy can assist them.

A new "Be Informed" series is starting at the Center this fall on Friday mornings at 10 a.m. Topics will be geared to help inform adults on areas of: wellness as a lifestyle, job application skills, colleges and vocational schools, handling money sensibly, buying insurance, credit, handling stress and other topics. The topic of each week will be posted at Macy's and the Center.

PNB offering speaker program

Pacific Northwest Bell's public speaker program is being expanded during the next few months to help customers understand how the phone company is changing.

"On January 1, 1984, the Bell System is being split apart," says Glenn Kennedy, PNB's area manager for community affairs. "The divestiture of PNB and the other Bell operating companies from American Telephone and Telegraph is the most sweeping change in the history of American business."

To arrange for a speaker for the fall months, groups are invited to call PNB's toll free information number, 1-800-555-5000.

Kennedy says the Bell System break-up is the culmination of major changes in federal policy over the past 20 years. "Competition is increasingly replacing regulation in this industry, and that means new ways of doing business for all telephone consumers."

In addition to PNB's special presentations on changes in the industry, the company's Speaker Bureau has an on-going program of public talks on communication subjects.

Two classes offered through COCC

Two classes will be offered for the community through Central Oregon Community College. For the month of November the classes offered are:

Natural Baking- November 9, Wednesday—instructor Karen Gordon. 7-9 p.m. for three weeks. Fee of $6. $2.50 materials fee due at first class. Class will cover snacks, quick breads, baked goods using less sugar, less salt, whole wheat flour will be demonstrated with some student participation. How recipes fit into Basic 4 food groups and nutritional value.

Auto Mechanics- November 17, Thursday—instructor Ken Lydy. 7-10 p.m. for 8 weeks. A fee of $24. Cut the cost of your automobile expenses by doing you own work. Give student insight into what makes a auto operate. Hands on experience, indepth knowledge of the automobile for advanced students.

If you are interested or have any questions regarding these classes or other classes call Nancy Garrison at 553-1428 on Tuesday or Thursday, hours 9-12 p.m. On Monday, Wednesday or Friday, Reba Powell and Nancy Jolstead can take messages for Nancy.

Help the COCC program to help you, call and let them know what classes are of interest to you.

Keep Warm Springs Beautiful

Trash dumped along Shitike Creek is both unsightly and unsanitary, attracting vermin. A dump service funded by the Tribe will pick up trash at any residence on the Warm Springs reservation.

Memorial dinner Nov. 12

A memorial dinner is planned at the Warm Springs Agency Longhouse on Saturday, November 12 for Leland Tom. A ceremony for setting up his stone will be at the Seekseequa Cemetery that same morning at 9 a.m. The dinner will be held at 12:30 p.m.

All people are welcome to join in the memorial dinner to open the Longhouse for their families at that time. Persons interested in joining in the dinner can contact Rosie Tom at 553-1161, ext. 258.
