

Parents, patrons assisting Latchkey

Howlak Tichum

Clarence McKinley

Spilyay Tymoo photo by Shewczyk

HELPING CHILDREN—Louie Aripa and Josie Wolfe enjoy the contents of a child's book from the display shelf at the Latchkey gift shop.

Paying the fuel bill is the incentive for operation of the Latchkey gift shop. Located in the administration building lobby parents are helping to keep the Latchkey program going.

Children of working parents attend Latchkey activities after school, during vacations and during the summer months. The program was threatened with elimination this year because of budget cuts. It was written back in after parents guaranteed their support of the program.

If keeping the Latchkey center open means extra support from parents then parents will give that support. Volunteers watch the gift shop, setting it up for business every Tuesday and Thursday and man it for three hours on those days. They also contribute many of the handmade and baked goods found on the shelves. Money earned from sales helps pay the fuel bill.

The Latchkey gift shop is open from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday of each week.

The Presbyterian church offers space for the program at no cost as their contribution.

Chair for sale

For Sale—Large wicker papasan chair with light brown cushion. Excellent condition. Call 553-1055 anytime.

Immunizations important

Immunizations continue to be an important part of the health care program for all young children. The Clinic staff has been very diligent in following children from birth until all of the necessary shots are given, usually by age five. Recently we have noticed that a number of young children have not been keeping up with their immunizations schedule.

Parents are reminded of the responsibility of bringing their children to the Clinic in order to maintain the necessary protection against childhood diseases such as measles, mumps, rubella, polio, typhoid, tetanus and whooping cough.

Spilyay Tymoo

Coyote News

*****Spilyay Tymoo Staff*****

MANAGING EDITOR ..... Sid Miller
ASSISTANT EDITOR ..... Donna Behrend

Darkroom/Writer
Reporter
Typesetter

Marsha Shewczyk
Pat Leno
Priscilla Squiempfen

FOUNDED IN MARCH OF 1976

Published bi-weekly by the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon, Warm Springs, Oregon 97761. Located in the Old Administration Building. Any written material to Spilyay Tymoo should be addressed to:

Spilyay Tymoo
P.O. Box 735
Warm Springs, Oregon 97761

Phone 553-1055, 553-1101, Ext. 274, 280
and The Darkroom ext. 286

Subscription Rate: $6.00 per year

Baker and Joyce McKinley; one brother, Ivan McKinley; three sisters, Maxine McKinley, Bessie Eder and Patricia Tanewasha; 17 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Tribal Elder and Head Elder for the Shaker Church for the State of Oregon, Clarence McKinley died at Mt. View Hospital on December 16.

McKinley was a lifelong resident of Warm Springs. He was born on January 2, 1912 to Charley and Jessie (Pistolhead) McKinley. He retired from logging in 1974. He was a Tribal committeeman on the Fish and Wildlife Committee and the Timber Committee. He was a member of the Warm Springs Shaker Church.

He is survived by his wife, Martha McKinley; four daughters, Iva Pennington, Inez McKinley, Madeline Dressing ceremonies were held at Madras Evergreen Chapel on December 17 with Harris Teo officiating. Overnight ceremonies followed at the Warm Springs Shaker Church. Burial was at Wolfe Point Cemetery on Monday, December 19.

Contributions may be made to the American Heart Association.

Kenneth Evan Calica

Enrolled member of the Confederate Tribes and lifelong resident of Warm Springs, Kenneth Evan (Wa-Wo-Toh) Calica, age 27, died in a fire at his residence on December 7, 1983.

He was born in Prineville, Oregon on October 15, 1956 to Joe and Inez (Sumpter) Calica. He attended grade school in Warm Springs and high school in Madras. During his high school years he was active in football, track and baseball. He graduated in 1974.

In 1974 he trained at Willard-Little White Salmon Fish Hatchery as a fisheries technician. He returned to Warm Springs and was the first employee at the present Warm Springs National Fish Hatchery. He was the only full-time tribal member employed at the hatchery. He recently attended a fisheries school in Bellingham, Washington.

On June 2, 1978 he married

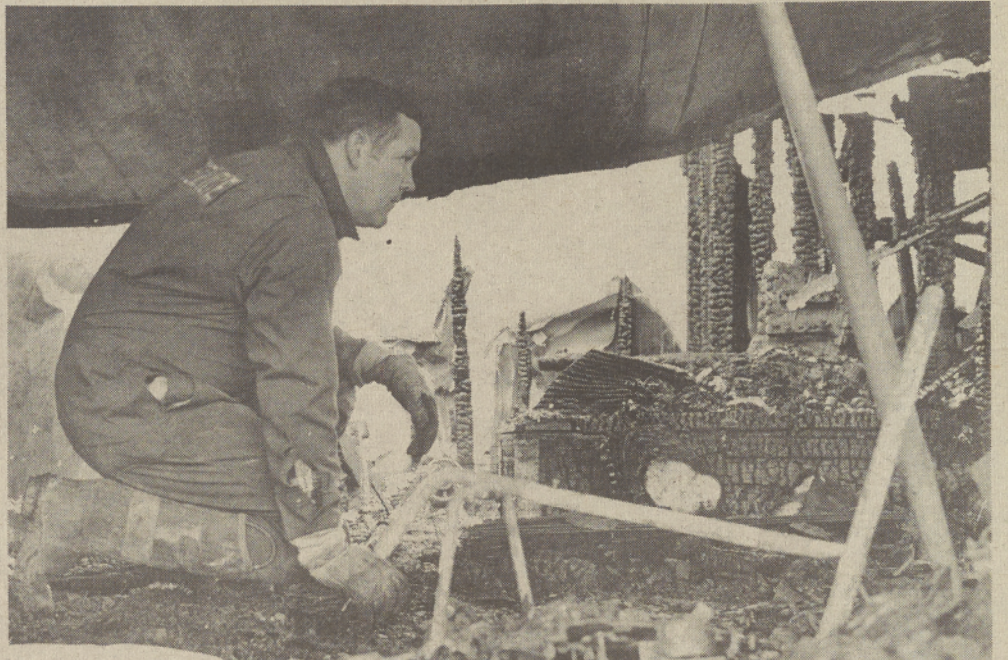

Charlene Wainanwit at Reno, Nevada.

He held special interests in ranching, hunting, fishing, metal work and pool. He was a member of the Simnasho Cattle Owners Group.

Surviving Calica are his mother, Inez; his wife, Charlene; a daughter, Bobbi Jean Calica; two sons, Regan and Lei Walker Calica; four brothers, Raymond, Larry, Jody and Darrell Calica, all of Warm Springs.

Private dressing ceremonies were held at the Madras Evergreen Chapel on December 8 with George Williams officiating. Overnight ceremonies followed at the Warm Springs Shaker Church. On December 9, tribal overnight ceremonies were held at the Simnasho Longhouse with Herb Stwyer Sr, and Matilda Mitchell officiating. Burial was December 10 at the Simnasho Cemetery.

Fire destroys home, kills one

LOOKING AT THE DAMAGE—Fire/ arson investigator for the Oregon state police Lt. Lynn Hillman sifted through debris left after fire destroyed a mobil home and killed one 27-year-old tribal member.

An early-morning fire in Warm Springs December 7 claimed the life of 27-year-old Kenny Calica. He was at home alone at the time fo the fire.

Warm Springs fire chief Jerry Huff said the fire was reported to the Warm Springs police department by Oregon state police in the field office who were notified by state highway sanding truck driver Ron Binder.

Warm Springs fire department responded to the fire with three engines, one ambulance and 14 firefighters. Huff reported that the mobile home, valued at $24,000, was totally involved in flames when firefighters arrived and that the roof had completely collapsed. Entry was delayed because the home was "energized by a downed powerline." Firefighters had to wait to enter the home until PP&L arrived to remove the hot wire. It has been determined that the fire was probably caused by a smoldering cigarette or electrical problems. It is believed to have started under a chair/loveseat in the living room.

Calica was found on the living room floor. The state medical examiner's office who performed the autopsy, said Calica died of smoke inhalation.