Support provides comfort

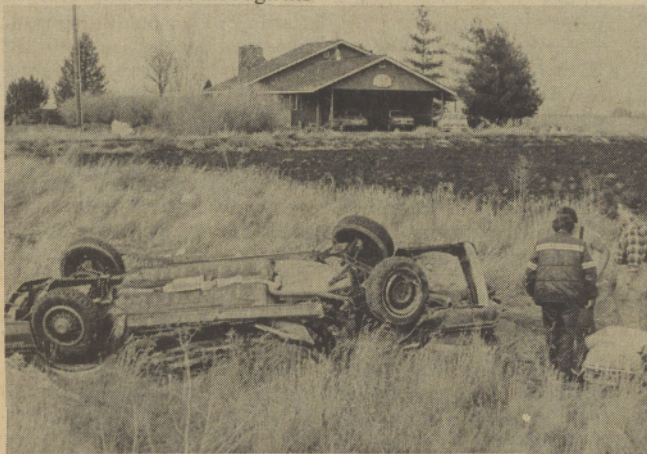

To the Editor,

We would like to convey special thanks to all of our friends and relatives for their support, both at the funeral and at Harbor View Hospital. Your calls, prayers and cards were a great comfort while we were going through all the stress of seeing our loved one suffer through his surgeries. Thanks for all the food and contributions for the dinner at the church and the home.

We cannot express our gratefulness to all of you, we miss Norman very much, it will affect the family for a long time.

Appreciates sponsorship

To the Public,

We are very grateful to all our sponsors who gave us the opportunity to enter the Blood-runners basketball tournament. It gave us a chance to represent the Simnasho District.

Our team, the Oregon Travelers, has become known throughout the United States at various basketball tournaments. The team is an independent organization and we feel we are very fortunate to have such great sponsors who support and back the team.

Ahern's Stop and Shop paid

our entrance fee for the tournament and we were pleased to present Mike Ahern with the team trophy as well as a championship jacket from the Blood-runners.

Aherns will sponsor our team for the Chemawa All-Indian Basketball tournament which will be February 17, 18 and 19. We hope to see you all at that tourney.

We also would like to thank all the people who give us support at the games with their cheers and encouragement.

Parent's meeting scheduled

The Warm Springs Elementary Parent Community Advisory Committee meeting is held the third Monday of every month. Any interested parents or community members are inited to attend. The next scheduled meeting is February 18 at 7:00 p.m. in the Warm Springs Elementary library. One of the topics for discussion is Chapter I.

Check heat tape

A recent fire alarm at a local residence indicated the need to remind the community about a potential problem. Heat tapes when installed, should be clear to all combustibles. Make sure plastic, insulation and other burnables are not touching and cannot be blown up against the heat tape.

If you recently had your home weatherized, it would be advisable to make an inspection to determine if there is a problem.

High expectations in self-manager program

by Ed (Duso) Roley

Beginning with the third nine weeks grading period the Warm School Elementary School started a program, in the second through sixth grades, designed to reward responsible self-disciplined behavior.

Self Manager Pins will be presented to students when they complete their application form. It must be signed by the home room, music, physical education teachers, librarian, teachers aide, bus driver, and parent or guardian.

Signing the application indicates that the signer believes the student to have self managing skills and can be trusted to handle special privileges responsibly.

Examples of the type of privileges wearers of the pin might receive include going to the lunch ahead of the rest of the class, eating lunch at a separate table without adult supervision, being awarded a few minutes free recess, having special self managers time in the gym, being class messenger, etc.

The theory behind this being that privileges will provide an incentive for those without pins to work towards one. A student may have his home room teachers approval, but hasn't been cooperating in music class. Realizing that without the pin he won't receive special privileges, he just might decide it will be worth cooperating in music class to get the music teachers approval so he could get the pin.

Once a student has the Self Managers Pin, he/she may lose it for breaking a school rule. We have already had three of our Self Managers lose theirs. If this happens, after a week waiting period, another application may be filled out to regain the pin.

At this point thirty five youngsters are receiving their self managers pins and many others are close to getting theirs.

We have high expectations for this program as we have already noticed improved behavior on the part of a number of children.
