MJH eighth grade football team defeated Pilot Butte 16-8 at Madras October 1.

Junior High defeats Pilot Butte 16-8

The Madras Junior High School eighth grade football team lost their first game 18-0 to a strong and big Redmond team. Even though the Madras boys were smaller, they made a good showing for themselves. Redmond, much larger and more disciplined, were just too much for the Madras boys.

The eighth graders came back strong, though, to beat Pilot Butte of Bend, 16-8, in the Buffalo stadium. The Madras boys put up a good defense against the Pilot Butte team in the likes of Tony Valde, Cinon McDonald, Gerald Sampson, Nick Budge and a host of Madras boys.

A 40-yard run by Tony Valde capped the scoring for the day for the Madras boys. However, there was another long run scored by Valde, only to be called back for a penalty.

On Valde's first long run for the score, several times he was completely boxed in by Pilot Butte defenders but somehow he managed to spring himself free to make his way to the end zone for the score. The team has improved a great deal since their first game and are looking for a good season.

Prior to that the record was set by Mike Donaghu who will be remembered for his great running ability where he has set several records during his time with the White Buff team.

St. Helens won the Scappoose Invitational with a score of 71, Astoria 124, Seaside 130, Scappoose 143, Tillamook 154, Washougal 158, Chemawa 182, Stayton 197, Sweet Home 199, Madras 204, Yamhill-Carlton 223, Sherwood 223 and LaSalle 224.

It was the Hawes brother-sister effort who finished for the Buffs with the top scores. For the boys Jeff Hawes came in eleventh with the time of 16:36, Dave Hoglin 41st, 17:29.42, Jabar Davis 42nd, 17:29.52, Link Olsen 17:55 and Mike Dunten 18:08.

Astoria won the girls team title with 66, Washougal 70, Scappoose 86, St. Helens 90, Tillamook 98, LaSalle 169 and Madras 176.

Marcy Hawes finished 20th 12:17, Julie Martin 26th 12:30, Kathy Farrell 38th 13:03, Sue McCool 42nd, 13:13 and Leslie Waldow 50th, 13:40.

Buff defeat Ontario in overtime

"WHEW, that was a close one!" The White Buffaloes edges out the Ontario Tigers 21-20 in overtime to extend their league record to 2-0, to lead the GOL pack.

This was a very important win for the Buffs who are now sitting on top of the conference standings. It was a sudden-death overtime game with the Kansas plan. The Buffaloes won the toss and elected to go on defense first. With the ball put down on the ten yard line the Ontario Tigers scored on their first play as quarterback Mosso rolled left and hit Britton in the end zone, but their run for two points failed.

The Buffs got the ball on the ten yard line for their four downs. The first down they picked up two yards and after a couple more yards on third and six, quarterback Todd Beamer was sacked on the 23 yard line. With fourth and 25 some of the fans started to eye the exit signs. But the Buffs were cool as they went to the line of scrimmage for what appeared to be the last play for the night when Beamer faded back, Tony Stacona raced down the sideline where Beamer zeroed in and let his aerial fly. Stacona went high to pull down the pass and bolted into the end zone to tie the score at 20 all. Immediately the Buffaloes went into kick formation where Chris Lytle split the uprights to give the Buffs the win.

This was the Madras White Buffaloes second league game and appeared to be out of reach during pre-game warm-ups by some of the experts who saw a sure win for the Ontario Tigers, who just joined the Greater Oregon League after dropping out of the Inter-mountain league of AAA schools.

The Buffs, on their first possession after taking the opening kickoff marched right down the field to score on a pass from Beamer to McGuire. The PAT failed as a Beamer pass was dropped in the end zone leaving the score 6-21p, for the Buffs. It was not until the second quarter before the Ontario Tigers could get on the score board as running back Danny Britton scooted in from ten yards out, but a pass went astray on the try for two points.

It was a night for Tony Stacona as the Tigers punted on fourth and a bunch where Stacona took the ball, changed directions a couple of times where it appeared he was trapped, but then say daylight on the left sideline where he raced 60 yards to score and put the Buffs out front once again. Lytle took the hand-off and carried the ball into paydirt for two points giving the Buff's a 14-6 lead at the intermission point.

At halftime, some of the fans were amazed at the performance of the Buffs after being tabbed the underdog team for the night.

A hard-played scoreless third quarter and in the final quarter it appeared that the Buffs might run out the clock after stopping the Tiger's drive on a fumble recovery, but after a couple of plays, Beamer attempted to pitch out to running back McGuire who could not get control of the ball where it fell free and defensive back Dan May picked it up and went in to score untouched. A run by Graves tied the score at 14 all. Then, the overtime.

The whole Buff team played one whale-of-a-game both on offense as well as defense. There were some hard hits, good blocks to pave the way all night long. It's interesting to see how things can turn from bad to good. The fans all went away with a happy ending.

received certification from the International Dance-Exercise Association (IDEA) Foundation. "The IDEA Foundation certification exam is a written test designed to measure the instructor's knowledge in a variety of crucial areas, such as exercise physiology, leadership techniques, emergency training and nutrition concerns," said Sheryl Marks, executive director, IDEA Foundation.

Passing this test means that an instructor has proven the minimum professional level knowledge in three areas: 1) designing a safe and effective class, 2) leading and instructing others in dance exercise, and 3) responding to typical questions and problems that arise in a class setting.

In the past few years, more than 100 training and certifying organizations have emerged to meet the industry's need for properly trained dance-exercise instructors. The non-profit IDEA Foundation was formed in 1985 to bring together more than 100 experts actively involved in health and fitness to create one standard for the training of dance-exercise instructors.

The IDEA Foundation exam is administered by the Educational Testing Service (EST), developers of other major testing programs such as the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT).

Earlier this year, Montee was also certified through the Kenneth Cooper Aerobics Institute in Dallas, Texas, demonstrating proficiency as a fitness specialist.

Mills sets Olympic record

Billy Mills, an Oglala Sioux from the Pine Ridge Indian reservation in South Dakota, earned world-wide fame with a stunning come-from-behind victory at the Tokyo Olympics in 1964 in the 10,000 meters. He was the first and only American to ever achieve a win in the 10,000 meters.

It was not until he was being escorted to a press conference and the victory ceremony, with a crowd of 8,000 spectators cheering, that he began to fully realize what he had accomplished. He had won the Olympic gold medal for his country, defeating what had been called the greatest field of long-distance runners ever assembled and setting an record Olympic record in the process.

Twenty-two years have passed since Mills ran from obscurity to glory at Tokyo, engraving the name Billy Mills in Olympic history. Although he continues to run, he no longer competes. A movie "Running Brave," starring Robby Benson, released in 1983, has amplified interest in the Olympic gold medal winner. He travels extensively throughout the country encouraging Indian youth to build their own self-image for success.
