Minority graduate fellowship to exceed $11,000

Students selected for awards in the 1987-88 National Science Foundation Minority Graduate Fellowship competition, conducted for NSF by the National Research Council, will receive stipends of $11,100 for a twelve-month fellowship tenure. The cost-of-education allowance to the institution chosen by the Fellow for graduate study will be $6,000 in lieu of all tuition costs and assessed fees.

In this fellowship competition, panels of eminent scientists and engineers are appointed by the National Research Council to evaluate fellowship applications on the basis of ability. Final selection of Fellows will be made by the Foundation, with awards to be announced in March, 1987. Subject to the availability of funds and to sustained academic progress, new fellowships awarded in March, 1987 will be for maximum tenured periods of three years.

As one means of increasing the number of practicing scientists who are members of ethnic minority groups which traditionally have been underrepresented in the advanced levels of the Nation's science and engineering personnel pool, NSF Minority Graduate Fellowships will be offered to minority individuals who have demonstrated ability and special aptitude for advanced training in science or engineering. Applicants must be citizens of the United States who are members of one of the following ethnic minority groups: American Indian, Black, Hispanic, Native Alaskan (Eskimo or Aleut), or Native Pacific Islander (Polynesian or Micronesian).

NSF Minority Graduate Fellowships are intended for students at or near the beginning of their graduate study, and will be awarded for study or work in science or engineering leading to a master's or doctoral degrees in the mathematical, physical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science. Awards will not be made in clinical, education, or business fields, in history or social work, for work leading to medical, dental, law, or public health degrees, or for study in joint science-professional degree programs. Eligible applicants must not have completed, by the beginning of the Fall 1986 term, more than 20 semester hours, 30 quarter hours, or equivalent, of study in the science and engineering fields listed above following completion of the first baccalaureate degree in science or engineering, or its equivalent. Additionally, no individual will be eligible who, at the time of application, has earned an advanced degree having a significant science or engineering content.

Applicants will be expected to take the Graduate Record Examinations (GRE) designed to measure developed abilities as well as achievement in particular fields of scientific study. The examinations, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on December 13, 1986 at designated centers throughout the United States and in certain foreign countries. The Foundation will pay December 13 test fees for the fellowship applicants, providing NSF application is the primary purpose.

The deadline date for the submission of applications for NSF Minority Graduate Fellowships will be November 14, 1986. Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D.C. 20418.

Low income families eligible for USDA food program

Today the Early Childhood Education Programs of Warm Springs announced its sponsorship of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Child Care Food Program. Meals will be made available to enrolled children at no separate charge without regard to race, color, handicap, age, sex, religion or national origin. Parents' income determines the amount of money Oregon Department of Education (ODE) will reimburse us to provide meals to enrolled children. The income eligibility guidelines listed below are used to determine our reimbursement from ODE. Children from households whose monthly income is at or below these levels are eligible to be counted for free or reduced price meal reimbursements.

Meals will be provided at the Head Start/Day Care and the Head Start Part Day Programs.

Any person who believes that he or she has been discriminated against in any USDA-related activity should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Homework is a reality

Homework is a reality at Madras High and most teachers give some homework nearly every evening. Few students should have more than one-half hour to an hour of home study, reading or other homework per evening. Those with more or less college prep courses should expect as much as two hours on certain evenings. Parents can be of great help in getting their youngsters settled into the high school positive routine by:

- 1) Asking for homework or evidence of it each evening.
- 2) Seeing to it that a good, reasonably quiet place for study is made available each evening.
- 3) Calling teachers and asking for a feel of what to expect when parents see no homework for several days in a row.

Nearly all teachers are available from 8 a.m. to 8:35 a.m. daily and those who are not coaching are additionally available from 3:25 to 4 p.m.

The school year is a full month old now and habits that will lead to success or lack of success are being made right now. Please do look for homework and encourage your youngster(s) to complete it every evening, no matter how small the assignment.

College representatives come to the high school to explain their programs and, in general, sell their schools to our seniors. Below are some of the dates of the visits now scheduled. Parents are welcome to attend any of these sessions.

October 9—9 to 12 p.m. All state of Oregon Colleges and Universities.

October 9—12:40 p.m. Willamette University

November 5—12:40 p.m. Lewis and Clark

On October 21, Preliminary Scholastic Tests (PSAT) will be given. A good practice test for juniors who will be taking the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) as Seniors. The cost of the PSAT is $5.00.

November 4, Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) will be given. This test is free and will be administered to all juniors. This is an excellent instrument to evaluate abilities and learn more about the job opportunities in the military.

Financial Aid for college-bound seniors will be discussed. A workshop will be held for all college bound seniors and their parents on December 15 at 7 p.m. in the high school.

The Buff Boosters have opened the 1986-86 school year with a new membership drive. The $10 membership includes a corduroy Booster Cap, bumper stickers, 20% off gate prices to most high school extra-curricular activities and free admission to the October 25 dance that will feature the KWSI four-member band playing 50s and 60s music. During the band's breaks, teen music will be provided. Should be great fun.

MJH to hold spaghetti feed

Madras Jr. High student council is sponsoring a money-raising spaghetti feed Tuesday, October 21, in the Jr. High cafe.

Held from 6-8:00 p.m. the all-you-can-eat dinner includes spaghetti, french bread, salad, desert, milk and coffee.

Students will be charging $7.00 per family or $2.50 per adult and student. Senior citizens and children under 12 may eat for $1.00.

Class of 1999 answers...

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Students in Laura Fuentes' kindergarten class drew pictures of what they wanted to be. Violet Heath drew this one.

It's a cool and nippy morning and the children are dressed in their school attire, anxious and maybe a little nervous about beginning their first day at school. What they don't realize is that this is just the beginning. Twelve more years of school awaits these youngsters. Yet they all have aspirations concerning their futures.

The students in Arlene Graham's and Laura Fuentes' kindergarten classes have been asked, "What do you want to be when you grow up?" Some of the answers were very imaginative, but in these childrens' minds, everything and anything is possible.
