"Spilyay Speaks"

Now that all the winter sports are all tucked away for another year in all the schools we look forward to the spring sports, such as softball and track.

At this point I would like to look back and view what we have here in Central Oregon. For one thing we have a good basketball program each year for the youngsters. It all starts out from the Kiwanis basketball program for the 8 year olds and up and from there they move into Jr. High for the 7th and 8th grade basketball teams. Also in the Jr. High, if the boys and girls can't make the traveling team there is the intramural basketball for the rest of the kids. By the time they all get into high school the picking gets pretty tough to make the varsity. All the basketball programs are super but all the kids can't make the varsity team, just the 10 or so and that leaves all the rest of the kids twiddling their fingers with nothing to do.

What we do really need is programs in wrestling for the kids at an earlier age like some other schools. There are a lot of potentials for a good wrestling team around but because these kids were never exposed to wrestling earlier they don't take interest in high school. Each year Crook County is a power house in wrestling and are well represented in each meet they attend. They are always well represented in state each year. That's because they have a wrestling program for their youngsters at an early age. There is no reason why this couldn't happen around here. There could be some tough competitors around here if only the sport were introduced to the kids at an earlier age.

Tygh Valley rodeo is on

Information on tribe sought

To the Editor,

The purpose of this letter is to stop rumors that the All Indian Rodeo in Tygh Valley is not taking place this year. That is certainly not true. We are going on as strong as ever.

Thanks for memorable event

To the Editor,

In commemoration of the completion of their beautiful new market in Simnasho, Frank and Russell Charley, Jr. hosted a long and meaningful day of activities on March 21, combining the traditional and new in ceremonies, food and music.

Roadrunners win tourney

To the Editor,

The wait was well worth the effort for the Northwest Roadrunners to defend their 1983 title as champions of the seventh annual Maggies Six-foot and under tournament. The team was never invited back to defend the title after 1983. The team was informed just days before the tournament that they were included in the tournament. It was difficult to contact players for commitment. . . were very fortunate to get the players we did.

The team roster include Bob Main, James Cabontoy, Jeff Greene, James Scott, Rick Gallegos, Larry Scott and Suppah.

We had a very tough schedule, but that's the name of the game, good rough competition. We figured as a team, that once we got by the competition, we were there.

Our only concern was the refereeing, which is supposed to be the neutral party on the court. But that never seems to be the case, especially when playing the host team. Unfair refereeing really hurts the tournament and makes teams not want to return. We do thank Austin Greene for inviting us this year. Whether we get invited back and get seated with a BYE as the defending champs, we will have to wait until next year's tournament.

You never get improvement, as a player or a team, by playing the easy teams every year. When you do come up against competition, the team will fold in defeat a majority of the time. We don't win them

As a promotion this year the Tywama Saddle Club of Tygh Valley will sell advance tickets to groups of ten or more for $3.50 which is $1.50 less than gate price. Also, the person who organizes the group gets two free tickets, to come see the All Indian Rodeo first hand. The price for kids is still $2 and small children are still free. To get your advance tickets contact Tywama Saddle Club, Tygh Valley, Oregon.

The Tygh Valley All Indian Rodeo is one of the biggest and best in the greater Northwest, or anywhere else. This year we, The Tywama Saddle Club, are going all out to put on one of the best weekend rodeo shows in this part of the west.

Now, a little information about our All Indian Rodeo. It has been put on for almost forty years by the Tywama Saddle Club. Tywama meaning TY-Tygh Valley, WA-Wamic, MA-Maupin. We are made up of local people, farmers, ranchers, mill workers, grocery store owners, tavern owners, loggers, construction workers, longshoremen and we have members from Pendleton, Portland, The Dalles, Dufur, Terrebonne, Wapato, Warrenton, Tigard, The Dalles, Boring and we also have members from Warm Springs, all of our members work together to make the All Indian Rodeo one of the best in the Northwest. The 1987 rodeo will have all the standard events plus a couple new ones. The Tywama Saddle Club is a non-profit organization. We donate to local churches, schools, little league, clubs, scholarships, wheat league, and various other local functions.

We hope to see you at our rodeo! For more information write Nella Price Rt. 1 Box 39, Tygh Valley, Oregon or call 544-2831. If no answer call Pete at 544-2681 or Cyndie at 483-2434.

To the Editor,

I am a student at Pyramid Lake High School. I am doing a report on your reservation. I would be happy to get any kind of information on your reservation on the following subjects: people, (elders), powwows, business, culture and school. I would also be happy to receive any references of people (elders) I can write to.

Thank you,

Festivities enjoyed

To the Editor,

I enjoyed the Root Feast held at the Longhouse in Warm Springs. It was very spiritual. There was an intrinsic meaning to this event which brought people closer to their Creator. I thank the people that put so much effort into this festival, and shared it with us all.

The Indian people are very spiritual, though this is not to say others are not. There can be no doubt whatever that the people of the world, of whatever race or religion, derive their inspiration from one heavenly source and are the subjects of one god.

Yours truly,
Larry Pedersen

Geoffery Bury, COCC coordinator at the Warm Springs office, stated that there are several applications that are still pending for local people. He added the scholarship will pay for tuition and books for a semester. Bury encourages Native American students to apply for the monies if not for spring term than for fall term.
