"Spilyay Speaks"

Now that the summer vacation is here all the kids will have plenty of time on their hands, makes one wonder what can be done to keep them occupied for the next three months.

For the older ones who are of working age there are several jobs available throughout the organization under the student trainee program. This will contain a majority of them for a short duration with temporary jobs such as office help are out in the field with the Fish and Wildlife, forestry and right on down to the litter patrol along the roadways on the reservation.

As of June 15, 1987, several students started their summer jobs in offices throughout the organization as well as in the field, these are high school aged kids and younger, while the returning college students try to find jobs in their field of study.

All the departments who have taken students for the short time should be congratulated for taking the time to create jobs for them. This gives them a chance to see how each department functions and perhaps helps them to decide on what type of jobs they would like to do later on in life. There is such a wide variety of future opportunities a child can choose from for future study while he/she is employed during the summer months.

For the smaller children there is the summer recreation program at the Community Center where parents can sign up their children for daily activities. There is a small charge involved to help defray costs for the field trips during the summer. Each Friday they go on a field trip, as in the past they have gone to the Zoo in Portland, to the coast and many other places of interest. The small fee is $10 for one child $15 for two and $20 for three children from family. The Summer Recreation Program has plenty to offer the youngsters during the summer vacation. Each day they do things different, such as swimming, all sorts of games, arts and crafts, hikes, etc.

At one time many years ago, during the summer vacation months Berry Picking and Hay Hauling were some of the Prime jobs for the youngsters. There jobs where one had to produce in order to earn money. Of course if one wanted to goof off, he would get no pay. Working in the farm fields was no picnic by no means. The more one produced with longer hours the more money was to be made, but it was a back breaking chore because what else was there for the youngsters to do to earn some spending money.

It would be very important at the present time for all the students to pay attention to their jobs, this could help them determine just what type of field or occupation they would like to enter later on in life. So these summer jobs are very important in many ways for the kids.

There was this guy who didn't get any respect... He went on his first blind date and he waited on the corner until a girl came along. He said, "Are you Louise?" She said, "Are you Rodney?" He said, "Yeah." She said, "Oh! Ahh Ahh, "I'm not Louise." YIKES

Police involvement at school appreciated

To the Editor,

I'm writing on behalf of the Warm Springs Elementary School to express our gratitude to the Warm Springs Police Department for the involvement they have had this year in our school.

That involvement was extensive including a police officer in the cafeteria one day each week lunch with the kids and another helping students construct models as part of our self managers program.

Also as part of our self managers program the police department conducted tours of the Warm Springs Jail every other week during a period of four months. Our kids found the officers to be personable and efficient. Certainly the cookies, balloons, and gifts didn't hurt as far as the kids thinking positively about police. Some students were given an extra treat of riding to the jail in the police car which escorted the group.

To top off the police department's involvement in our school this year, Lietenant Fones and Corporal Cowden visited every classroom explaining that the police are here to help people and assist them in any way possible. The students learned that police are friends and that students are not to hesitate to call should they need assistance. Because of the actions and extensive efforts made by the Warm Springs Police Department this year, I'm sure that our students will find it much easier to see police officers as friends and helpers.

Thanks especially to Chief of Police, Raymond Calica, BIA Special Investigator, Rob Moran, and Lieutenant Fones for initiating this effort. Without their leadership and cooperation this important step toward improving relations between the community and police department would never have happened.

Mrs. Jane Westergaard-Nimocks

Dentist says goodbye

To the People of Warm Springs,

It has been four years and it seems like the time has gone by much too quickly. I am writing this letter to all of you to express my gratitude in having had an opportunity in working and providing you with dental care.

Providing health care, in my opinion, has always been and should always be a "privilege" and not a "right" just because you hold a degree. You have allowed me that privilege and I appreciate your support.

I will miss many of you, especially those who I have come to know very well.

As many of have heard, I have recently been accepted to an Advanced General Practice Residency program in Tahlequah, Oklahoma. This program is sponsored by the Indian Health Service and will give me an opportunity to further develop my skills in the fields of Dentistry and Public Health.

The people of Warm Springs will be a lasting memory in my heart for many years to follow. Thank you again for your trust, cooperation and support.

Sincerely,
Michael S. Bell, DMD

Education put to use

To the Editor,

Thank you Head Start, Fire and Safety and Warm Springs Police Department for the lives of our children. We have nothing but a burnt shell of what used to be our family van.

Our son Matthew, who attends Head Start, had told us of a visit from the Fire and Safety and Warm Springs Police Officers to his classroom earlier this school year. We never thought he would ever have to use the education taught to him on those days.

While I was in the house packing for a picnic, Matthew ran into the house to tell me the van was smoking. When I got to the van it was already on fire with all three of our girls in back of the van! No sooner had I taken the girls out of the van was the front seat fully on fire.

We thank God for having His hand on us, and thank you folks for your time and commitment to the safety education of our children!

George and Valerie Aguilar

Thanks for help

To the Editor,

I would like to take this time to thank all of my family members, and friends who helped me obtain the honor of Ms. Tiin-o-wit for 1987-88. This was a very exciting time for me, but also alot of hard work.

A special thank you to those who continually supported and encouraged me during the time I was selling tickets. Anita Davis, Captain Moody, Charlotte & Enie Herkshan. A special thank you to Hilda Culpus for the cutbead belt buckle she donated during my fundraising sale.

I enjoyed traveling and meeting people from other tribes from all over the nation, and Canada. To me, wearing a banner and crown requires respect not only to the committee and powwow but to all tribes and Indian people. The eagle feather is the one who causes us to gather and to enjoy each gathering.

Miss Tiin-o-wit 1987-88
Queen,
Danielle Gabriel

Will services free to members

For those Indian persons desiring to make a last will and testament, this service is provided free of charge by the realty office staff, probate administration in tribal court, and the tribal attorneys. For those persons who do not wish to utilize these services, they may retain a private attorney at their own expense.

In those instances where a conflict arises between family members and enrolled member, the tribal attorney cannot draw the will and the requesting party will be referred to the Realty Office, Tribal Court or other private attorney services.

If there are any questions, contact the Realty office at 553-1121, ext. 419.

Wedding dinner set

The family of Abraham Hunt, son of Ernest Hunt, is honoring Abraham and his new wife with a wedding reception dinner at the Agency Longhouse June 19. The dinner will begin at 6 p.m. All family and friends and the entire community are invited to give them a real "Warm Springs welcome."

OMA mtg. June 29

The Oregon Museum Association (OMA) will hold its quarterly meeting Monday, June 29 at Kah-Nee-Ta Resort. Hosts of the meeting are the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs and the Middle Oregon Indian Historical Society.

On the agenda is an introduction of MOIHS by executive director Dr. Duane King, a presentation titled "Starting a Museum", lunch at the Agency Longhouse, tours of artifact displays, fish hatchery, WSFPI, hydro plant and the Information Center.

For more information contact Beulah Calica at 553-1161, ext. 331. Deadline to register is June 24.

Closure set

The Cookhouse Cafe at the Rainbow Market will be closed June 18 until at least June 29 due to construction work on the bridge.

Help appreciated on first call

To the Editor,

I would like to express my respect and gratitude to those who were involved in my first call at the Simnasho Fire and Safety station. I had been patiently waiting for my first call out of the Simnasho area (in stress), since my hire as a part-time employee for Fire and Safety. Co-workers have helped by telling me that my first call would be a Trail-ways bus accident.

My first call was last Saturday, June 13, 1987. It was a serious one-car accident with four patients.

I would like to extend my thanks to the police personnel: Chief Ray Calica, Investigator Steve Caddy, Officer Dave Hill, Officer Jack McCellan; Fire and Safety personnel: EMT Sara Scott, EMT Brenda Yordy, EMT Tom Wright, First Responder Bruce Yeo; and to the Air Life crew, plus the valuable assistance provided by the bystanders.

Thank you,
Keith Baker
