home being punished because they have "done something wrong" at school or home. I never baby my players, I figure they can be babied at home.

Rule 3. Responsibility, they must make all practices and games on time. They must also take care of their equipment and themselves.

Rule 4. Teamwork, they must learn to support each other on and off the field and to always back each other up.

Rule 5. No quitting, once they start something to complete it and not quit when things get tough.

Rule 6. Game rules, to teach them t-ball rules as follows: a. if they throw the ball three lengths of a bat they are out, b. if they touch the ball when it falls off the tee when batting they are out, c. if they side into first they are out, d. never leave the base until the ball is hit, e. after three outs no more runs count but each player bats each inning, f. to play 11 eleven players at a time then substitute (to play anymore then 11 causes confusion, also kids get lazy and don't seem to learn anything).

G. Reverse batting order in second inning and no wooden bats are used, h. must have lineup for each game, i. home team provides the game ball, j. advance one base on an overthrow, k. when the pitcher has the ball it stops the advances on base running.

These rules should be given to all coaches every season so there will be no questions by other coaches who would like to make their own rules. I apply these rules and other coaches in town do. They are the rules even though some coaches don't seem to care for them. It seems that some coaches could care less if kids learn the game and its rules.

Rule 7. Fundamental of game, fronting the ball, catching, throwing, batting, base running, location of bases, all positions, relaying and teamwork.

I give a great deal of credit to the parents of the kids I have coached. They have given support for me, the kids and the team. Without them this would not be possible.

Kids, now, have to be tough mentally and physically in this world. All the kids I have coached have been fantastic and I love them all. For the amount of pressure from competition put on them at their young age, win or lose, they come out as a team and a team of winners.

The team has pride and they now have their own song. "We are the tiny, tiny Rat Pac, wherever we go. People want to know who we are. So we tell them." The song was made up by Jerome Spino.

The kids are fantastic, tough and I love them all. I let them know everyday of practice and at all games. Rumors are out that I am mean and yell alot. This is not true, I just give instructions and coach in a tone of voice so that I am not misquoted or misunderstood. All I do is show them it is up to them as individuals to do their part for themselves and as a team to produce. I want them to be good in all sportsmanship matters.

This year's roster consists of 1. Canku "goose" Smith-Mr. backstop; 2. Isareal "lil whopper" Scott-most determined; 3. Wamblee "grum-py" Smith-Mr. emotional; 4. Taralee "tigger" Suppah-most determined; 5. Lorian "basful" Suppah-most improved player; 6. Tyrone "pongo" Lewis-inspirational; 7. Lil Bull "Lil Rat" Suppah-most valuable player; 8. Willia "sluggo" Anderson-rookie of the year; 9. Jessie "alfalfa" Gilbert-rookie hitter of the year; 10. Jonathan "sleepy" Smith-Mr. Heavy Stick; 11. Nathan "snaush" William-glove; 12. Jerome "jughed" Spino-mr. consistent; 13. Raymond "pigmy" Anderson-Mr. try harder; 14. Jacob "thumper" Harding-Mr. hustle; and 15. Bruce "bambi"

Howtopat-Mr. adaptable. This is the second youngest team I have coached. You would never think so from the way they played. Kids are beautiful people and they are the future of our tribes.

Next year there will be two rat pac teams. I am moving up to the minor baseball league but I already have successors to coach next season's 1988 Rat Pac t-ball team.
