Cowdeo—a crowd pleaser

by Sid Miller

The nineteenth annual St. Pats Cowdeo ended on a bright, brisk and sunny autumn afternoon with all the little buckaroos with their fantasies of being a world champion in the rodeo game someday all headed home to hang up their spurs at the end of another season.

The first event of the two day affair was a crowd pleaser as the five and six year olds came a flying out of the chutes aboard those wiley sheep. Some of the youngsters making their debut in the rodeo game. The little boys and girls were eager to climb aboard those sheep and come a riding. Some hung on for the full ride while some had a little bad luck and tasted some of that dust. The winner of that event was a local by the name of Juice Scott age six who stole the show on his ride to the whistle and more. Other local kids making their first were Ty Eaglespeaker, William Spino, Fawn Begay, Jolene George, Smokey Wewa and Jered Moses.

Shirley Allen topped the field of 14 entries in the senior calf riding, other local kids in this event included Edward Heath, Lief Suppah, Gary Sampson, Zee Smith, Vernon Suppah, Vernon Squiemphen and Tony Fuentes. These part brama calves were real rank for some of the boys to hang on to.

Trevor McCain of Condon, Oregon, won the breakaway calf roping as he topped a field of 15 entries where Ryan Florendo, Vernon Squiemphen, Gary Sampson and Justin Tom participated.

In the peewee calf riding it was Evans Spino, Jr., who shut out the lights on the field of 14 other entries in that event as he walked away with the buckle. Other locals in the event were Jessie Reese, David Fuentes and Lil' Bull Owl Suppah.

In the goat un-decorating event for 6-8 years olds Isreal Scott won the event where there were 16 entries, other locals were Smokey Wewa, Juice Scott, Roselyn Scott and Evans Spino, Jr.

The junior calf riding was won by Kirk Giovanninni of Prineville, Oregon locals who participated in that wild event were Lil' Fawn Suppah, Tracy Sam, Flint Scott, Su Yen Smith and Frank Reese, Jr.

Bobby Alexander of Redmond, Oregon, won the peewee horseless calf roping where there were only just a few who caught their stock. The local kids were Lil' Bull Owl Suppah, William Spino, Fawn Begay, Jesse Reese, Roselyn Scott, Smokey Wewa and Jered Moses.

Buff girls top Ontario

In the Greater Oregon League in Volleyball Madras is sitting in a pretty good position after stopping the Ontario Tigers last Saturday here in Madras.

In their first game they had to come from behind to win after trailing 14-11, they scored the next five points for the win. In the second game it was shut-out 15-0 for the Buffs. This gives them a six win one loss record to date. Their next game will be Friday, October 23, when they travel to Vale who leads the league with a 7-0 record. Hopefully the girls will be ready to topple the league leading Vale Vikings on their home floor, although Vale is considered a top contender for state honors this year.

It was homecoming, it was time for Madras to win to keep their hopes alive for any kind of a playoff shot.

The Nyssa Bulldogs came to town hungry with a one win three loss record and with the Buff Stadium filled for a game that should have been won by the Buffaloes. But things don't always turn out the way they should even though the Buffs took the opening kick-off and marched right down the field for the first score on a one yard run from Jason Harris to give the Buffs the early lead. Stoddard put the boot to the ball which split the up-rights giving the Buffs a 7-0 lead midway through the first quarter.

The visitors came right back to answer with a 44 yard scoring yard by Brady Jensen, Zamora kick failed and the Buffs held a one point lead at the end of the first quarter 7-6.

The bottom sort of fell out when the Bulldogs quarterback Talbott hit Martinez on a 27 yard pass to pay dirt, Cole run failed, Madras was held and were forced to punt and after a series of downs Cole broke loose on a 33 yard scamper into the end zone for another Nyssa tally but again Zamora's kick failed but the bulldogs were sporting a 18-7 half time lead.

Both teams were scoreless in the third quarter as both teams sort of settled down on defense. In the fourth quarter the Buffs pounced on a Nyssa fumble. It appeared that the Buffs had regrouped and the tide was turning in their favor when Aaron Schneider connected with Curt Cosgrove on a 22 yard aerial to pay dirt. Another pass to Jason Harris for two points put the Buffs with in three points where the score board read 18-15 in favor of Nyssa, a field goal could tie the score and force a overtime game. The Bulldogs dug in to stop the Buff drive and forced them to punt. Nyssa was able to move the ball where they pushed it over the end zone to build their lead to 25-15. In one more drive the Buffs were unable to move into the end zone and were forced to punt giving Nyssa good field position where they were able to score again on a short run to cap the scoring for the night with the final score of 32-15.

On Friday, October 23, the Buffs will be on the road to Burns where they meet the Hilanders in another conference game.
