

IHS offers scholarships for 88-89

The Indian Health Service (IHS), Department of Health and Human Services, is now accepting applications for the fiscal year (FY) 1988 scholarship cycle for three scholarship programs authorized by the Indian Health Care Improvement Act (Public Law 94-437) and its amendments. Awards made will be for funding in the 1988-89 school year. This will be the only scholarship cycle in FY 1988 for the following programs:

Health professions preparatory scholarship program—This program provides financial assistance for Indian students only to enroll in courses that will prepare them for acceptance into health professions schools. Courses may be either compensatory (required to improve science, mathematics, or other basic skills and knowledge) or preprofessional (required in order to qualify for admission into a health professions program).

In order for an applicant to be considered for Section 103 funding during the FY 1988 Scholarship cycle, he/she must be accepted by and/or enrolled in a program beginning in fall 1988 for one of the priority career categories of: 1. pre-nursing-preparatory to entry into BSN programs only; 2. preaccounting—preparatory to entry into an Accounting program and; 3. prepharmacy—preparatory to entry into a pharmacy program.

Health professions pregraduate scholarship program provides financial support for Indian students only to enroll in courses leading to a baccalaureate degree in specific preprofessional areas.

For the 1988 scholarship cycle, an applicant must be accepted by and/or enrolled in a program beginning in Fall 1988 for one of the priority career categories of: premedicine—priority given as follows: senior, junior, sophomore, freshman and pre-dentistry—priority given as follows: senior, junior, sophomore, freshman.

Health professions scholarships program financial assistance to students enrolled in health professions and allied health professions programs. For the Health Professions Scholarship program, there are service obligations and payback requirements that the recipient incurs upon acceptance of the scholarship funding.

For the 1988-89 scholarship cycle, an applicant must be accepted by and/or enrolled in a program beginning in Fall 1988 for one of the following priority career categories:

Medicine: Allopathic and osteopathic; nursing: adn, bsn, and ms degrees; pharmacy: (priority given as follows: senior, junior, sophomore and junior).

Careers in engineering: civil, environmental and mechanical: BS degree. (priority given as follows: senior, junior, sophomore and freshman). Dietician/nutrition: BS degree. (Priority given as follows: senior, junior, sophomore and freshman). Sanitation: Environmental science, and environmental health and occupational safety and health: BS degree (priority given as follows: senior, junior, sophomore and freshman). Medical technologists: BS degree. (Priority as follows: senior, junior, sophomore and freshman).

The application booklet which include the application form, complete description of the three programs, instructions for completing the application, and all required forms is available from: Darlene B. Marcellay, Scholarship Coordinator, Portland Area Indian Health Service, 1220 S.W. Third Avenue, Room 315, Portland, Oregon (503) 221-2019.

Completed applications must be received by the Portland Area scholarship coordinator before close of business (4:30 p.m.) on May 16, 1988. Applications received after this date will not be accepted.

do is not having the desired effect," then something is wrong, says Calica. He adds, "We need to be an advocate for these people when we recognize that they are in need of help."

In other workshops participants gained experience with theoretical and classroom applications of various projects, learned how to set up a tutoring program and developed language lessons.

An exciting event of the conference was the presentation of awards. OIEA members selected three Warm Springs residents to receive recognition. Herbert Stwyer was selected elder of the year. Warm Springs Elementary fifth grade teacher Harry Phillips received teacher of the year recognition. An award for special contribution to Indian Education went to Lloyd Smith, Sr.

Other awards went to Klamath Falls residents including: Jerald Jackson for lay person of the year; Counselor of the year recognition to Alison Watch; Walter Wilson received administrator of the year; and, educator of the year went to Helen C. Smith.
