Brightwood wins co-ed tourney

The National Indian Slow Pitch tournament for 1988, was held August 4, 5 and 6, at Richland, Washington. This year for the first time a Co-ed tournament was included with 17 teams participating.

There were four co-ed teams from Warm Springs entered which included, The Arrows, Smith-Green Logging, Macy's and Brightwood. Brightwood came out the first annual champions. The team Coach-Player Capt. Ricky Minthorn, said, first of all he wanted to express his appreciation to Alvis Smith, Jr., and Brightwood lumber for their sponsorship.

The team would like to dedicated this championship to Kevin Little George, who was a member of the team until his accidental death recently. Winning this tournament took a lot of stamina after playing in the men's and ladies' tournaments than playing in the co-ed tourney. The temperatures each day were in the high 90s and 100s, so playing in so many games in weather like that was tough on all the teams. The coach expressed to his team that to go and play in the tourney and win the championship is a once in a life time experience. The kids were tired but they kept their composure said the coach. All the teams entered in the tourney were the very best from their region and there were several in attendance.

On their road to the championship Brightwood first played another local team where they beat Macy's 5-2, than went on to beat Lummi Nation by the score of 8-5. Their third game was with the Tacoma Tribes where they beat them 14-7. The final championship game was a showdown right into the last inning when Brightwood was able to get a run in to win the game 1-0, over the Yakima Equalizers, and their first Co-ed national championship.

The team roster included: Deannie Johnson, Maria Minthorn, Tonia Mitchell, Allie Johnson, Paula Sallitwe, Julie Taylor, Ricky Minthorn, Coach-Capt.; Donnie Winshut Co-Capt., Jerry Sampson, Frank Ball, Joe Ball, Brooker Jones, and Charlie Minthorn.

The final tournament results are as follows: For the men's bracket the champion was The Chips from Minnesota who defeated the Blue Mountain Bombers from Pendleton. For the ladies', Stevens Farms from Lapwai, Idaho, defeated the China Delight from Lummi.

There was 24 men's teams entered in this year's tourney and 14 all-girl teams along with the 17 co-ed teams this year. The tournament is getting stronger each year and all players are all looking forward to the next one.

The National Indian Softball Tournament August 4-6 at Richland, Washington provided plenty of action from teams across the country.

Youngsters try the cowboy scene

The annual cowdeo held during the Huckleberry Feast at He He proved to be fun, exciting and entertaining for contestants as well as for spectators. The crowds witnessed kids trying their hand at being a part of the cowboy scene, and in some cases kids just being the professional cowboys that they are. It really did not make a big difference to the participants. The main object was to just enjoy and share that enjoyment with all.

Chief Delvis Heath of the Warm Springs tribe had asked his people to attend the celebration with joy in their hearts. In past years Heath ran the cowdeo but due to the death of his mother, he was not prepared to take part in the annual event.

This year the two-day rodeo was handled by Gordon and Brenda Scott and friend. Adding two new events to this year's show proved to be a crowd pleaser. On Saturday, August 4, a women's mud wrestling contest was held for the first time. Cheryl Tom, Seekseequa, who was described by her fellow mud wrestlers as "mild mannered" (that was before the contest) showed great skill and strength. She won the title, "1988 Mud Wrestler."

On Sunday, August 5, the 1988 "Cow Pie Throwing" contest was won by Rick Minthorn. His fellow competitors watched with envy as he hurled his pie across the arena with all the ease of a professional ball player.

Jr. Tourney held

Shauna Craig finished first in her division during the Junior Golf tournament held August 8 and 9 at Kah-Nee-Ta. Entrants totaled 146.

In the Pee-Wee division, Tamra Fullmer and Randall Palm placed first in their division. Jennifer Briggs and Alex Palm placed first in the intermediate division. In the age group of 14 and 15, Lonnie Damon placed first. For the junior boys, ages 16 and 17, Ron Grove took first.

World class rodeo returns to Tingley

The Coors Indian National Finals Rodeo will return to Albuquerque's Tingley Coliseum on the New Mexico State Fairgrounds November 17 to 20, 1988. A total of four performances will pit the top bucking stock of the professional rodeo circuit against top event winners from the nine INFR regions in the United States and Canada.

They will be competing for $75,000 in prize money and awards for saddle and bareback bronc riding, bull riding, calf and steer roping, steer wrestling, team roping, barrel racing and the coveted title of All Around Champion.

A powwow and trade show will be held in conjunction with INFR

'88 in the Ag Exhibit Complex adjacent to Tingley Coliseum.

The Coors Indian National Finals Rodeo offers world class rodeo competition, colorful Indian dancing, authentic arts and crafts and traditional Indian food. Proceeds from the event help fund a Native American scholarship program.
