

Who's getting a piece of the action?

Ever wonder where the money goes from folks trying their luck at the MegaBucks million dollar jackpot games? In a recent Oregon Farm Bureau Federal Newsletter this graphic breakdown of how the money is distributed was shown. There was not a particular explanation with the chart; it's fairly self-explanatory.

Training set

A three-day training, sponsored by the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, titled "Alcoholism, Learning to Change", will be held November 17-19 at Kah-Nee-Ta Resort. The training is open to the public and is offered free of charge. Two sessions per day will be offered during the afternoon and evening hours. Topics to be discussed will be co-dependency, family dynamics, community action, children of alcoholics and adult children of alcoholics. Sessions will begin at 2 p.m. in the afternoons and 6 p.m. in the evenings. Guest speakers will include Anna Latimer, Theron Ruiz and Steve Galton. Other speakers will be announced. For more information or for participants interested in attaining college credits for the training, please contact Anita Davis or William Moses at (503)553-1161, ext. 205.

Looks even to me.

Enrolled member of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, Levi Kennedy, survey engineer, checked land elevations at the Sunnyside housing project site. Work on the streets was started earlier this fall with Ray Davis Construction. Davis hoped to have road work completed before bad weather sets in. The housing area will have 27 home sites for tribal members. According to the tribal construction department spokesperson, with the rainy weather conditions, work will be postponed on the actual construction of homes until spring of 1989. Tribal construction will sub-contract some of the homes to two local contractors, Alvis Smith, Jr. and George Aguilar.

Senior Citizen's Corner

The following information was inadvertently omitted from the last issue of Spilyay. We apologize if the omission caused any inconvenience.

by Barbara Yaw

In the last Spilyay, I answered a question on fences and was incorrect. I was made aware of this very quickly and, after further investigation, found that the only way anyone can get a fence built is through a personal loan. Sorry! I appreciate the fact this error was caught because I want the information in this column to be correct. It also tells me that people are reading my articles. Thank you!

The Senior Citizen's program is now offering a "Dial-A-Ride" service to local area senior citizens.

Senior citizens in the Agency area can call 553-1161, ext. 313 for an appointment and get a ride anywhere in the immediate area.

The Bend Bulletin visited Senior Citizens October 11 to check out the program. They interviewed and photographed our senior citizens for a future article. Also the MOIHS came and showed a video on the proposed museum and answered questions.

On Thursday, October 13, Ginger Morrison and her campaign committee, (her mother and Shirley Gibson) came for lunch and was helpful in answering questions on her campaign for Jefferson County Treasurer. Thank you Ginger for remembering our Senior Citizens.

The Low Income Energy Assistance Program will begin December 5 for Senior Citizens only. Applications will be taken at the Senior building one day a week. We will be scheduling appointments. More information will be available at a later date.

Oregon lost 121 Senior Citizens last year to motor vehicle accidents, comprising 26 percent of the total motor vehicle fatalities. Of those killed, seven out of 10 were not buckled up! There are 505,000 registered Oregon drivers over the age of 55 who comprise one of the populations least likely to use safety belts.

Older drivers have the highest accident rate per mile driven among all age groups. The Senior population began driving before safety belts were required in motor vehicles and therefore have not been exposed to the intensive traffic safety education that younger populations have. Senior Citizens suffer serious, long-term injuries and fatalities everyday as a result. Oregon statistics indicate that most seniors injured in motor vehicle accidents who were wearing safety belts had a hospital stay less than 10 days while those not buckled were hospitalized over 21 days.

Oregon Traffic Safety Now (OTSN) is targeting October as Buckle Up Oregon Seniors month to emphasize Governor Neil Goldschmidt's proclamation of Buckle Up Awareness Month. OTSN is a non-profit safety belt coalition developed to promote safety belt use through education and information.

Safety belts save lives—with proper use, they could save your life or reduce your injuries by 57 percent.

Bobb selected NASU director

Eugene—Myrna Bobb of Warm Springs was elected the 1988-89 director of the Native American Student Union (NASU) at the University of Oregon. Elections were held October 10.

Bobb, a junior human service major, will coordinate NASU activities and manage the office, which is located in the Erb Memorial Center on Campus.

Needed: Correct addresses

Moving? Going to school? Changing box numbers? Remember to come into Vital Statistics (or call 553-1161, ext. 252) if you have not changed your address with us for a while. Check to see if we have the right address for you. Our address roll is used in every department throughout the Tribal organization, so if it is wrong with us you may not receive your mail. Vital Statistics is central location for all address changes.

Correction noted

The article on Warm Springs Apparel Industries in the last issue of Spilyay incorrectly identified Russ Winslow as plant manager. Berynce Courtney is manager and Winslow is a consultant for WSAI. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Public hearing set for Nov. 14

P.L. 81-874 Impact Aid Application for FY89-As specified in School Board Policy 911, the District plans to provide Warm Springs residents an opportunity to make comments and recommendations relative to the application and use of P.L. 81-874 Impact Aid funds.

We have scheduled this year's Public Hearing during the regular School Board meeting beginning at 7:30 p.m., on Monday, November 14, 1988, in the library at Warm Springs Elementary School. You are welcome and invited to attend.

Duo found guilty on narcotics charges in tribal court

A Warm Springs man and woman were both found guilty of narcotics charges in Tribal Court September 22, 1988 following a jury trial. Sally Renee Whiz and Erland Matthew Suppah, 40, were sentenced on October 21, 1988, according to Bureau of Indian Affairs investigator Rob Moran. The pair was charged with the offense of the intent to sell narcotics, dangerous drugs, hallucinogens and delirants. The couple was arrested in Simnasho during the Lincoln's Birthday Powwow February 14, 1988 after they made a sale of drugs to an undercover police officer. They were arraigned in Tribal Court February 17 at which time each entered a plea of not guilty.

Whiz was sentenced to 180 days' jail time, which was suspended, placed on 180 days' supervised probation and referred to Community Counseling for drug rehabilitation and fined $500. Suppah was sentenced to 180 days in jail with 135 days suspended and 45 days of straight time, placed on 180 days of supervised probation, referred to Community Counseling for drug rehabilitation counseling and fined $500.
