"Spilyay Speaks"

It won't be long until "Greenup time," as the farmers used to say years ago. It's always nice when spring arrives and the whole place seems as though it comes to life after a long winters nap.

Everything new sprouting out, the blossoms on the fruit trees, the buds popping out of the ground, acres and acres of green fields makes it so pretty all over. There will be a new logging season for the loggers, a museum is in the planning and something big is the re-organization of the whole Tribal Operation. We now have a new Chief Executive Officer (CEO), who will be working hard to get the whole set up in proper operation. I believe this is long out the whole tribal organization.

There are a lot of questions bouncing around out there but once the set up is in order there should be visible evidence of why this was needed sooner. Everyone is human and can stand just so much pressure because everything is not peaches 'n' cream in top management positions as many envision. Although appearances may show a job to be simple, it often is very complex beneath the surface.

We have had some of our top people handling the tribal operation. I don't have any answers as to why they are no longer in this position. Perhaps their suggestions were not taken seriously that there is just too much responsibility on one person's shoulders. Like I said earlier, everyone is human and can stand just so much. A human is not like a machine where you can turn them on and off. Even a machine breaks down, if put under too much pressure. We'll just have to wait and see how things work out as time passes... ## Warm Springs youth exhibit basketball talent

by Tony "Big Rat" Suppah

The accomplishment by the Oregon Travelers of Simnasho and the Inter-Tribal Sports team of Warm Springs, in 1987, too bring home the NIAA National Championship, to the Reservation, was some accomplishment. It gave us recognition as powers in Indian basketball. Letting other teams know we have talent here in Warm Springs, and the North West tribes. Some of the known teams are Team USA, Lapwai, Idaho; Chiloquin 69ers; Yakima Bucks; Portland; Magpies; Colville Tribe; Seattle and the Gym Rats.

The talent of Indian youth are more bigger and stronger, making the competition tougher, as each year passes. Results were seen here in the tournament competition. Indian basketball will always be here. It would be a lot better if our youth would compete in school ball, giving them experience, control ball, competition, new friendships, team concept and work on fundamentals. For whatever reasons athletes are discouraged, and never given a chance to use their abilities, and end up turning to Indian basketball for playing time experience.

Some of it is due to grades, but it usually not given a chance to play, or whatever the reasons, school coaches, don't seem to think that our kids, know how to play, or learn the parts in their own opinions, well enough to start or play. In 1987 was the first time ever, that both men and women teams from the same state and reservation, have ever taken the national championship home. In the 13 year existence, of the NIAA nationals.

The teams would appreciate your support. They don't win them all, but hey all have fun trying. "Winning comes with time, just never give up." We are losing more talent, due to the use of alcohol and drugs. For whatever reasons, only the individuals themselves know why they do it. It ruins your life style, your game, and most of all your mind and body.

Too lose the most precious resource of our reservation, "Youth", is a great loss to all of us. Meaning the families, friends and relatives. As parents, we must try to remain open for our kids, or a lot of times, were not there when the kids reach out for help. When the loss does occur, its always someone else's fault! We all have our faults, only we as parents, must be able to show or guide or children down the right road. Life itself starts in the home.

Keep our youth active, encourage them to remain in school. Always Roscoe Smith recently turned 65 and reflected on the past.

Smith recalls Yorktown

Roscoe Smith, who just celebrated his 65th birthday March 2, lives a quiet life as a retiree. His home, nestled among the Senior Citizen's homes on Highlookee Hill, overlooks a peaceful Warm Springs community. As his birthday neared, Roscoe reflected a bit on his life.

Forty-seven years ago, at the age of 17, Roscoe entered the U.S. Navy. He was a pharmacist's mate first class and was stationed in the South Pacific where he saw actual combat. He was aboard the USS

Yorktown CV-10, an aircraft carrier that housed 3,000 people. "It was about four and a half blocks long," he said. He has fond memories of his service life. "I can remember my experiences and the good times and the bad times—its all history now."

Roscoe now "has a lot of time on his hands." He does a "little wood cutting" and works in the woods during the spring and summer months part time. He also fishes some, to "keep busy and to stay in shape."

remembering their identity of being Indian and proud of it. "Were that before we are anything else. For they are the future leaders and we must work on preserving their reservations or them. It's never too late to change, its not easy, but it can be done. Let us be there strength. Teams are like families away from home, winning and losing together. Supporting each other

Team says thanks

To the Editor,

The 3N Livestock mens bowling team from Simnasho would like to say thanks for supporting their raffle and concession stand during the annual Lincoln's Birthday Celebration at Simnasho Longhouse.

Please pay overdue bills

To our cutomers,

Jim and I reopened our small appliance repair shop after so many people in the community kept asking for the service.

First, we would like to thank all of our customers who bring their appliances in to be repaired, pick them up and pay for them; and also those people who pay by monthly payments. It is these people who back our business and help us to earn a living.

We would also like to thank the Tribal Housing department for the work contract. But...again we are having problems with people leaving us with unpaid accounts. We don't want to cause hard feelings, we would just like to have people who owe us money to understand what our situation is and to pay us.

Jim puts his time and money into repairs and when we are not paid then we end up not being able to pay our bills. We would appreciate it if people could pay their bills or at least pay on the bills a little each month. Everytime Jim puts a new part in a machine our business has to pay for the part first so we do have to put money out on repairs often before we receive any money from you, the customer. We would just like people to pay their bills with us. To some people $30 or $40 may not seem like an amount that could break us but after adding up all the past due accounts it amounts to a good sized amount of money.

Please stop by our place and pay your past due accounts. We don't want to have to take these accounts into the court system but it looks like we may have to resort to the courts.
