Volleyball

The pounding of the volleyball and the shouts of encouragement from the coaches once again echo in the gym at the high school as practice is underway for the upcoming season.

This year is a building year for the girls varsity volleyball team. There were only three returning varsity players from last year's squad. They are Joscelyn Moses, Jan Osborn and Nikki Courtney. Another senior, who played JV ball last year is Katie Silvia. In all, there are four seniors, four juniors, 17 sophomores and 16 freshmen who turned out for the team this year. Coach Sturza said, "We are young."

The first volleyball game will be September 7 in Bend and on the 9th, the varsity team will travel to the Prairie City Invitational. Their first league game will be against Mac Hi on the home floor.

On Wednesday night, August 30, the volleyball team will have a preview night with an inter-squad scrimmage. All parents, family and friends are encouraged to come...it's open to everyone. This is the night you can see the team in action.

Cross Country

There are 12 hopefuls out for the Cross Country team so far this year, said Coach Dave Randle. As he indicated, there are some who are still working and cannot attend the practice sessions each day. Also, there are some away at a running camp who will join the team a little later on.

Coach Randle said if there is anyone who is still on the summer job can still turn out for the Cross Country team. Late entries will be accepted. This is a building year for the boys as graduation took it toll on the Buff runners.

There are a few returnees on the girls Cross Country team and some new faces that will help the team a great deal. As Coach Randle said, this is a building year for both the boys and girls teams. So we'll have to take them as they come and hopefully we will do better than we did last year.

Football

Although there were no sounds of the football pads a-popping, the team has turned out for some light workouts. But at presstime the tempo will have picked up to contact workouts in preparation for their first game against the Hood River team here on the home field, September 8. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

With a few regulars returning, the Buffs have their work cut out for them as some key players are gone via graduation. Several key positions have to be filled and one of them is at quarterback. Well, there are holes to be filled throughout the team, on both offense and defense.

There will be six tough conference games with the home coming game against the Nyssa Bulldogs October 20. This could be an interesting year for the Buffs.

Volleyball begins 8/21

Volleyball practice for Madras High School girls will begin Monday, August 21, 1989 at the Madras High gym. Practice sessions will be from 9 to 10:45 a.m. and from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Girls must attend both practice sessions each day.

Navajo Nation Fair is "showcase", offers insight to tribe

If you're looking for a unique action-packed weekend that's a blend of American Indian culture and tradition then it would behoove you to attend the 43rd Annual Navajo Nation Fair in the Navajo Nation Capitol, September 6th through the 10th.

The Navajo people have so much to share and to be proud of, says Navajo Nation Fair Manager Ben Bennett. In fact, that is the very reason for sponsoring an annual gala. Moreover, the theme for this year's fair is "Be Dineh and Be Proud."

"Our fair is basically a showcase of the Navajo Nation," notes Bennett. "It's where we show off our heritage...our creative ingenuity...and our present and past accomplishments."

Against a panoramic view of the scarlet rock, the Navajo Nation

Fair gives the firsttime passerby a closer insight of American Indians. Namely, the Navajo Nation. In fact, the Navajo Nation Fair is a showcase of American Indians displaying their fortes.

Scarcely anything depicts American Indians more eloquently than their love for singing and dancing. And what a better place is there to catch a glimpse of such unequal beauty and sound than at the world's largest American Indian celebration?

Here in the heart of Navajoland, the Navajo Nation and numerous other tribes from throughout North America vividly display their cultural talents during the Navajo Nation Fair.

Since its infancy about 43 years ago, the Navajo Nation Fair has grown to become the world's largest tribal fair. It's estimated that more than 100,000 people attend the five-day gala, attracting about the same amount of people as in most state fairs.

In addition to sharing their culture with others, the Navajo Nation Fair gives the Navajo people a chance to meet new people and see old friends. But more importantly, the Navajo Nation Fair is a time for celebrating the good fortune of the past year.

In addition to luring in other tribes, the world-reknonwed event also draws visitors from as far away as Europe and the Far East.

Visitors are welcome to view a host of events including a multi-sanctioned all-Indian rodeo, horseracing, an inter-tribal pow wow, social song and dance contests, Miss Navajo Nation contest, a baby contest, a frybread contest, night performances, a parade, country and western dances, concerts, a senior/junior livestock show, arts and crafts exhibits featuring world-famous artists, a horticulture exhibit, a home arts and science exhibit, food concessionaires and a carnival.

One of the most popular events is none other than the brisk-moving multi-sanctioned all-Indian rodeo, which lassoes in more than 500 contestants from five different Indian rodeo associations.

But if high-kicking broncs is not cultural enough for you, you may want to view a kaleidoscope of dancers that's unequalled, the inter-tribal pow wow. Although its called the Navajo Nation Fair, this particular event is a mixture of all tribes, which makes it all the more prestigious and competitive.

An increasingly popular event is
