Eagles ruin Buff's home opener

The Hood River Valley Eagles came to town and beat the Buffs 20-12, to spoil the home opener for the 1989 Buff football season.

Hood River loaded with talent and rated among the top teams on the states polls, had their hands full all evening long trying to keep the Buffs under control. The Buffs came right after Hood River setting up some tough defensive plays as the linemen put pressure on Eagle quarterback, Kerry McGonigal all evening long. It was the tough defense part of the Buffs as the Eagles were highly regarded in aerial attack.

It was Buff jersey No. 4, Mike Holcomb, in the Madras backfield who kept the crowd on their toes as from time to time made some big gainers to keep the pressure on the Eagles defense. Holcomb, a transfer from Redmond can do a lot for the Buffs if kept healthy. This will keep the defense guessing who it will be, Holcomb or Harris, to carry the ball as both backs have good credentials in carrying the ball and always dangerous on scoring at any time.

It wasn't until the third quarter before both teams could score with Hood River hitting pay dirt first and leading 7-0. The Eagles kicked off to the Buffs when Holcomb got a hold of the ball, saw some daylight and he was off to the races running 85 yards to score to put the Buffs on the score board. The PAT failed as Sophomore Ryan Boyals incomplete short of Holcomb, leaving the score 7-6, Hood River.

Hood River came right back flying through the air to mount another drive when McGonigal connected with Mike Harpe, the Eagle wide receiver for their second score and with the kick good the Eagles led 14-6.

To cap the scoring for the Buffs, Boyle found Kahseuss Jackson in the end zone with a six yard pass and the touchdown brought the Buffs within two of the Eagles, but Holcomb was stopped on a two point try and the score stood at 14-12, in favor of the Eagles. McGonigal rounded out the scoring for both teams on a quarterback keeper where the PAT was no good when the kick was blocked. The final score 20-12, in a close non-league encounter. Next for the Buffs is AAA Crook County Cowboys.

Crook Co. squeaks past Buffs

For the second week and a second heart breaker as the Crook County Cowboys, pulled this one out of the fire in a tough played game by both ball clubs.

After two hard played quarters, the Cowboys went into the locker room with a 14-12 half time lead. Both of the cowboys first half touchdowns came on long runs by Dunnaway, the first covering 62 yards and the kick was good, giving them the score of 7-0 at that point. Their second touchdown came on a long run by Pace, as he ran for 75 yards to pay dirt, again the kick was good. To show the Cowboys that the Buffs were capable of doing some long run scoring, Holcomb ran 84 yards for the Buff's first touchdown. Then the kick was blocked. The final scoring run came on a four yard run by Jason Harris and the kick failed.

Were they good breaks or were they bad breaks, well both terms apply the only thing. They were good breaks for the Cowboys in the third quarter as they managed to get a couple of quick scores, one from Kightlinger as he broke loose for a 97 yard scamper to score and again after a messed up punt gave the Cowboys the ball on the 5 yard line and Kightlinger plowed his way across the goal line for another touchdown.

On Friday, September 22, the Buffs play their first league game when they travel to meet the Burns Highlanders, who are improving right along and they are fresh from a win over the Lakeview Honkers in game last week.

The Buffs will be visiting on the Highlanders gridiron, which makes it more difficult to get things rolling. Last week the Buffs had a chance to see their other two candidates at the quarterback spot as Jake Couchise had a pretty good night. The other was Justin Chester, who also done a good job. Game time is 7:30 p.m. Friday night at Burns, plenty of time to go root for the Buff.

Greene, exerciser for month of August

"Exerciser of the Month" for the month of August is Sandra Greene. Training for the Hood to Coast Relay had motivated Sandra to exercise on a regular schedule which is five days a week, approximately two hours per day for the past seven months.

This year was the third year for Greene to participate in the Hood to Coast Relay. Greene states "The first year I survived it but was real sore, the second year I dropped from the team about a month before the run because I didn't train as much as I should have. I ended running anyway because the team was short one runner. I injured myself and couldn't run my last leg." Greene ran her three required legs plus more this year because their team was minus a runner. She was pleased that she never injured herself or was sore and says she knows she can do better next year.

Greene says her uncle, Tom Begay has been there to help motivate her by asking "Where we going to run this weekend?" and getting her to run. Also her boss has encouraged her a lot.

Besides running Greene enjoys volleyball and bowling, as does her family who also joins her in running. She encourages people to get out there and try it, work at your own speed, don't try more than you're capable of to begin with because you'll burn yourself out or injure yourself and get discouraged and end up quitting.

Cyclists wheel onto reservation for stay at resort

Kah-Nee-Ta was buzzing with activity Monday, September 11, as resort personnel prepared for the arrival of the tour participants as they peddled their way from Timberline Lodge. The employees were ready for the first arrivals as they wheeled in shortly after 10:00 a.m. Employees were still going strong after the last arrivals came in well after 6:00 p.m.

The scheduled events kept everyone busy. There was a festive mood as the food servers set up the buffet while the loudspeakers carried the latest tunes. Two beverage gardens were opened as was an information booth to help point the direction of their rooms or camp sites.

Hazel Gibson, reservations manager, said that every accommodation had been sold exclusively to this tour. The calls for reservations had started in March and were still continuing the day of the tour to see if there had been any cancellations. There were tents every where one could pitch a tent. The only area off limits to the tents was by the River Room Restaurant.

A band was at the Village stage three different times along with two sets of Indian dancing throughout the evening. The buffet menu was Spaghetti with meat sauce, green salad with Italian dressing, garlic bread, dessert, coffee and lemonade. If that wasn't satisfactory, the Snack bar and all the restaurants were open for business.

Tuesday was set for an early start as all the restaurants were opened at 7:00 a.m. and the buffet started serving at 6:00 a.m., even the Snack bar had continental breakfast foods. Many of the bicyclist started early as many tribal and bureau employees met the cyclists on their way to work pushing their way up the grade toward Madras. The tour group's final destination would bring them to Ashland, Oregon.

Bicyclist has to change tire on Highway 26 near Warm Springs before he can continue his journey.

Her season statistics include: serving-144/169 for 85 percent; setting-235/363 for 65 percent (excellent/attempts). She also participates in basketball and softball. She made basketball All-league 7AA second team as a sophomore and senior and she received softball honorable mention for pitching, hitting and second base as a junior. She is the daughter of Uren and Gwen

Buff spikers top Mac Hi

The girl's volleyball team showed pretty well after two setbacks by a couple of AAA schools. They handed the Mac High Pioneers a pair of defeats first by the score of 15-7 and 15-3, to take the series.

There were some good plays by Nikki Courtney, Carol Miller and Jocelyn Moses, also from Kati Silvia. Those were league games so the Buffs are off to a pretty good start for the season.

On September 19, they are host to Crook County and on Friday night they are at Baker. Saturday will find them at Ontario for a pair of league encounters with the eastern Oregon schools.
