Numerous activities bring sparkle to holiday season

The Christmas holiday season creates many memories for people; in fact, there are as many different memories as there are people. Among those memories are the various activities in which people participate. Warm Springs, during the last couple of weeks, has had events that will remain in the minds of people for years to come.

The annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony drew a large crowd. Participants sang songs and could enjoy a hay ride and refreshments. The tree stands tall on the campus, bringing bright lights to a small city.

The annual Christmas bazaar was better than ever this year, as a record number of exhibitors showed their wares at the Center.

Warm Springs Elementary school children entertained nearly all of Warm Springs during the Christmas program December 12. Voices rang clear as the classes made their way through numerous holiday tunes.

Public notice

The Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs is in the process of applying for a HUD Community Development Block Grant for the purpose of providing sewer system expansion east along Highway 26 to the Deschutes Crossing Restaurant. The project will also include the Industrial Park on the Kah-Nee-Ta Highway.

Schematic plans and application packages are open to review at the Warm Springs Planning office, located in the Administration Building on Tenino Road.

Feast scheduled

A "Clean and Sober Feast" will be held at the Simnasho Longhouse on Thursday, December 21. The feast, organized by Simnasho elders, is in recognition of those people who have been keeping clean and sober and are no longer using drugs or alcohol. The feast coincides with the winter equinox which is the Indian New Year. All community members are invited to attend.

Holidays to close schools, businesses

The upcoming Christmas holiday will cause the closure of school and tribal and federal businesses.

Jefferson County 509-J School district students will be released early from school December 21. School will resume January 2, 1990.

Tribal and federal offices will be closed Christmas Day, December 25. Office will reopen December 26. New Year's will also be observed as tribal and federal offices will be closed January 1.

Tribe seeks proposals from qualified tribal members

The Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon is seeking proposals from qualified tribal members or a consortium including tribal members who would like to buy or lease the Warm Springs Chevron Station or would like to lease the physical site and negotiate the removal and/or replacement of the existing structure. The prime retail site is located along busy U.S. Highway 26. The entire operation, including the building, equipment and inventory, is available for lease or purchase. The land is available on a lease basis only from the Confederated Tribes.

With expected sales in excess of $360,000, the two-bay service station building is complete with canopy, restrooms, equipment and all fixtures. The facility also includes two gasoline tanks and one diesel tank with a total of four pumps.

Proposals will be accepted until 5 p.m., December 15, 1989.

The Confederated Tribes reserves the right to reject any and all proposals or parts thereof and retains the right to negotiate with any and all parties that have submitted a bid.

Interested parties may obtain additional information or receive copies of the Request For Proposals from:

Robert A. Raimondi; Economic Development Department; Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs; PO Box C; Warm Springs, OR 97761. Phone: 553-3314.

The "Drug-Free Class of 2000" district second graders met in front of the City Hall in Madras, Monday December 4 to hear what the mayor of Metolius, the Sheriff, and others had to say regarding the fight against drugs. The "Class of 2000" has agreed to remain smoke free until the year 2000 when they will graduate. Along with Madras, the communities of Warm Springs, Culver and Metolius have joined together for this cause. The week of December 3 to December 9 has been designated the "Cities Fight Back Against Drugs Week."
