

On Patrol... Four injured during assault

Assault reported

Warm Springs Police officers responded to a call at 6643 Wolfe

Point Drive November 30, 1989 at approximately 7:15 a.m. and arrested Lonnie Huitt, also known as Daniel P. Knight, a 29-year-old member of the Klamath tribe.

Huitt allegedly broke into the residence and assaulted four people with a 2"x4" embedded with nails. The victims, Theresa Howe, 30, Carl Howe, 50, Amos Switzer, Jr., 48 and Chuck Young, 53, were treated by Warm Springs EMTs. Theresa Howe, was Air Lifted to St. Charles Medical Center and Switzer was taken to St. Charles by ambulance.

Huitt has been charged with assault with the intent to commit murder. He was taken to Portland for arraignment.

Town Hall set

Police are currently planning a "town hall" type meeting during which victims' assistance will be discussed. The meeting will be held on a Monday evening sometime in January. Watch for signs announcing the exact date, time and place of the meeting.

Crime prevention discussed

The Madras High School Culture Club met with Warm Springs police to discuss crime prevention in Warm Springs December 12. Further details of that meeting will be presented in the next issue of Spilyay.

Neighborhood Watch proposed

Any Warm Springs resident interested in establishing a Neighborhood Watch program in their area are encouraged to contact Rick Souers at the police department. Phone 553-3272 for further information.

Christmas is for children

It's more than nickel and dime psychology; teaching children the importance of giving and sharing is one way parents may ring in a happy holiday season.

Soon, feelings of goodwill and fellowship will fill the air. What better time to introduce children to the concepts of giving and sharing?

Howlak Tichum

Linton Winishut

Linton Winishut, age 83, died at Mt. View Hospital in Madras, Oregon December 10, 1989. Winishut was born June 5, 1906 to Frank and Nellie (Tommy) Winishut in Linton, Oregon.

He married Edna Ike February 9, 1925. She died September 16, 1983. They had nine children, two of whom survive. Winishut married Eva Brunoe in August, 1941. She died June 8, 1974.

Winishut served as tribal council interpreter from May 1950 to April 1953. He then served as a councilman from May, 1953 to April, 1956 and again from May 1962 to April, 1965.

Preceding Winishut in death are four daughters, Lorna, Rosalene, Aurelia and Ramona; three sons: Clayton, Harrison and Percy; one brother, Omar; and four sisters, Emily Charles, Nettie White, Thelma Michele and Cecilia Wal-sey.

Surviving Winishut are two children, Maxine Switzer and Reggie Winishut; one sister, Mary Ann Meanus and several grandchildren.

Dressing ceremonies were held, Tuesday, December 12, 1989 at 9:00 a.m. at the Agency Longhouse with Samuel Starr and Reverend Elston officiating. Overnight services were held conducted by Matilda Mitchell and Chubby Robinson. Burial was Wednesday, December 13, 1989 at 10:00 a.m. at the Tenino Cemetery.

Above information provided by Vital Statistics. A full Howlak Tichum will appear in the next issue of Spilyay.

Teachers have the answers

Where can you go for one-stop, full-service assistance? See a teacher. Where can you go for a sympathetic ear that listens to problems? See a teacher. Where can you go to get some information? See a teacher. Where can you go to find a friend? See a teacher.

The days are gone when a teacher was only a dispenser of knowledge and a keeper of order and discipline. Today's society has placed new responsibilities in the world of teachers. Being a teacher in the 1980s has become a complex and intensely demanding job. Even as some of the public asks for back-to-basics learning, other people are asking for parent classes, driving classes, values classes, disease prevention classes, drug and alcohol prevention classes. Still others say that teachers should prepare students to be good workers. Others are sure that the teachers should produce scholars who yearn for higher education. The teachers' world is complex because everyone is right. Teachers try to answer all the demands. They try to offer what the people need; and then, they wonder where to find the time.

It is a good time to think about what we ask of today's teachers. District 509-J is full with teachers who accept the challenge and care about children. It is a good time to say "thank you" to our teachers.

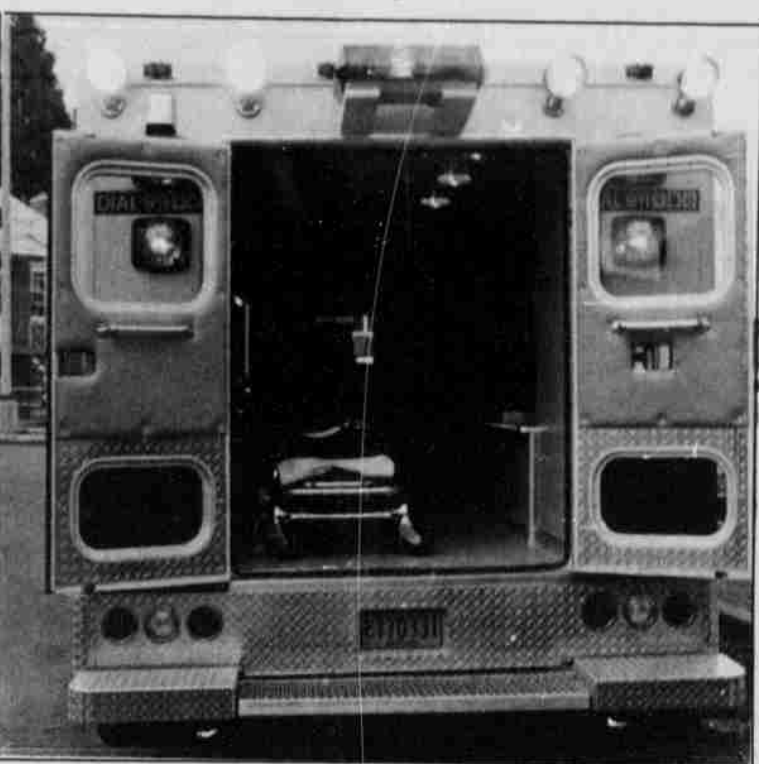

Darrell Wright, Superintendent

Attendance and Achievement

Improved attendance and achievement are two of our goals for the year. One depends and works with the other. Each month we want to recognize the parents and their children who have achieved perfect attendance for the month. Soon after the new year we will recognize in a special way students who have perfect attendance and who have been here on time everyday during December. We know it is with wonderful parent support that this takes place.

New ambulance purchased

A fully equipped ambulance has been added to the Warm Springs emergency fleet.

The Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs have purchased a new 1990 Ford Ashley ambulance for the Fire and Safety department. It is fully equipped with a diesel engine. This model replaces the 1974 Chevy that eventually will be sold.

The ambulance has the capacity to hold three patients in the back and includes additional room for caretakers. It has rear-wheel drive and an air-ride suspension. The ambulance staff has the ability to offer Basic Life Support and Advanced Life Support while transporting patients.

If anyone is interested in getting into the medical field as an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT), there are two training positions available. Please contact Dean Seyler at 553-3200 for more information.
