A new health center and 20 additional single-dwelling homes will be in Warm Springs' future should eligible tribal voters cast approving ballots in the upcoming June 5, 1990 referendum election. Tribal members at least 21 years of age or married may vote. One-third, or 521, of the eligible voters must vote to validate the election.

The new 36,000 square foot wellness center will be constructed on the old Warm Springs rodeo grounds just west of the Agency Longhouse. Projected cost of the new Center is $4.9 million. The referendum asks that $1.225 million in tribal funds be appropriated and that the remaining $3.675 million be borrowed from non-tribal sources, such as grants, loans or bond issues. The appropriation and/or borrowed amount may be reduced by funds available through grants or Congressional appropriation.

ers voted unanimously May 30 to noise, dust, smoke, odor, interferapprove the proposal submitted by Leland Beamer and Bruce Bischof despite efforts by some homeowners in the See Addition and reservation residents. The approval stipulates certain conditions and the operation must comply with all limitations specified in Article 6, Section 603c of the Jefferson County Zoning Ordinance.

Those limitations are:

1. The home occupation is to be secondary to the main use of the property as a residence and is to be conducted only by the residents of the dwelling.

2. No structural alterations shall be allowed to accomodate the occupation except when otherwise required by law and then only after the plans have been reviewed and approved by the planning commission. Such structural alterations shal not detract from the outward appearance of the building as an accessory structure to a residence.

3. One non-illuminated sign not to exceed three square feet and bearing only the name and occupation of the residence shall be allowed.

4. No materials or mechanical equipment shall be used which will be detrimental to the residential uses of the property or adjoining

Jefferson County Commission- residences because of vibration, ence with television or radio recep-

No materials or commodities shall be delivered to or from the property which are of such bulk or quantity as to require delivery by a commercial vehicle or a trailer or the parking of customers' vehicles in a manner or frequency as to cause disturbance or inconvenience to nearby residents or so as to necessitate off-street parking.

6. Retail sales shall be limited or accessory to a service.

7. No persons shall be employed except for members of the immediate family.

8. All conditions set forth by the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife shall be met.

9. All conditions set forth by Jefferson County and Environmental Health division are met.

10. The number of guests shall not exceed four persons.

11. No on-sight launch site is to be used by the operation.

12. No fishing will be allowed by paying guests in front of the retreat. 13. Those guests wishing to retain guide for fishing will be provided a list of approved guides. The guest will contract directly with the guides who will act as indeptendent contractors.

cause a new Warm Springs facility eye care which currently is severely limited. The new clinic will contain the latest diagnostic equipment.

Also to be considered by voters on June 5 are 20 new rental homes to be built adjacent to the Tenino Apartments, just south of the Agency Longhouse. The referendum asks that $1.470 million in tribal funds be appropriated to construct the new units.

The three- and four-bedroom homes will all have two bathrooms, and come equipped with ranges, refrigerators, woodstoves and miniblinds on the windows. The threebedroom homes will have 1,504 square feet, including a 209 square foot single-car garage. The four-bedroom units total 2,040, including a 850 square foot double car garage.

The new units are larger than other rental units built in the past. making them more suitable for local families. People currently in tribal and HUD rental units will receive priority for the new units.

Museum ceremonies to include many activities

The Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs and the Middle Oregon Indian Historical Society (MOIHS) have scheduled the tribal museum ground breaking and cornerstone setting ceremonies for Sunday, June 3, 1990. As many as 3,000 people are expected to attend the festivities which will be held at the Museum site along U.S Highway 26, one mile south of Warm Springs. If bad weather prevails, only the blessing ceremony will occur at the site; all other activities will take place at the Agency Longhouse

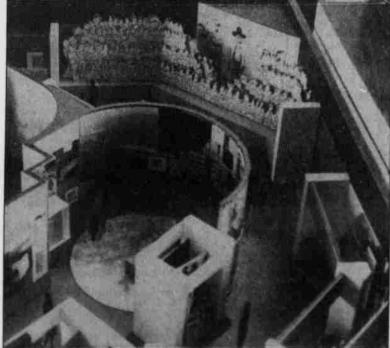

The day's activities will begin at 11:15 a.m. with traditional Washut services. Following will be a traditional parade and site blessing. Speeches, scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m., will be delivered by members of the Tribal Council, special guests, including financial supporters, Smithsonian Institute representatives and other visiting dignitaries, members of the MOIHS board of directors and tribal CEO Ken Smith. A salmon bake and Indian social dancing will begin at 2 p.m.

Items relevent to the museum and occasion will be placed in a time capsule that is to be opened in 2090. A long list of possible items to be contained in the capsule includes newspapers, museum architectural and exhibit plans,

Tribal Council actions pertaining to the museum, photographs, video tapes, copies of the 1855 Treaty and Tribal Constitution and By-Laws, an Eagle feather, a piece of the Treaty Oak, ceded area map, currency and letters from tribal members to their future families.

All tribal members are encouraged to attend the event as a large group photograph will be taken and used in part of the museum's exhibitry. All are requested to wear traditional attire.

Tribal members have been asked to wear traditional dress for Sunday's event as a group photograph will be taken. The life-size photo will be used in museum exhibitry, similar to the way the photo has been diagramed above. (Upper center of photo.)
