Madras girls drop opener

As I See's Um
by Sid Miller

When the Madras White Buffalo girls opened up their 1990-91 basketball season, it was on the road, as they traveled to Crook County on December 1, where they met a fired up Crook County squad and dropped the game 65-50. The Crook County girls just out-shot the Buff girls and had the hustle for that day.

Kelly Kronburger had the hot hand scoring several three-point shots and ended the game with 26 points. At times it looked like the Buff girls had lead shoes on and couldn't move the way they are capable of doing. A team that is usually first down the floor on fast breaks were left in the dust by the scrappy Crook County Cowgirls.

The Cowgirl press put some pressure on the ball handlers and caused several turnovers resulting in some easy baskets for the host team. It was just a day for the Cowgirls who were all fired up and came ready to play ball.

For the White Buffalo girls it was senior Carol Miller who had quite a game and was one of the top rebounders for the Buffs. She scored 10 points to share top scoring honors with senior Becky Soliz who also had 10 points at game's end. The next game for the Buffs is at Redmond.

Buff girls topple White Salmon

The Madras White Buffalo girls traveled to White Salmon, Washington for a game with Columbia River High, where they routed their opponents 72-43 in a non-league game last Saturday night.

The Buffs had four girls in double figures as Laura Sahme and Becky Soliz each had 12 points for high scorers. Becky Dodson and Michele Simmelink each had 10 points. Others scoring for Madras were Shirley Allen, 8; Carol Miller, 6; Kris King, 4; Heather Clowers, 4; Luann Foltz, 2; Talya Scott, 2 and Arlinda Duff.

The Buffs went right to work out-scoring White Salmon 20-8 in the first quarter and 22-13 in the second quarter to take a 42-21 half-time lead.

The Buffs were never in any trouble with the exception of foul trouble, but no one fouled out as they were whistled for 28 infractions to 15 for Columbia River. Sahme and Soliz both had two three-pointers while Allen had one.

Nielson of the White Salmon team, had 17 points, and led all scorers for the night. A. Miller had 10; Brouer had 5; McGraw had 3; Shutz had 2; Bradshaw had 2; Beckwith, Blades, Holtmans and Jeke all had one point each.

The Buffs host The Dalles Indians Monday night, December 10 for their first home game of the season. On Friday night, they will have the opening of their home holiday tournament, hosting Hood River Valley Eagles, Henley Hornets and the Woodburn Bulldogs with the first game starting at 5:45. The winners will play for the championship Saturday night. The losers will play the first game Saturday evening.

Madras girls win home opener

Making their first appearance at home, the Madras girls threw a balanced attack against The Dalles Indians to down them 57-31.

Michelle Simmelink controlled the backboards and put the ball back up for some easy baskets. She was the high scorer for Madras with 15 points. Carol Miller also had a good night under the basket and took her share of the rebounds. She scored 10 points. Shirley Allen collected the only three-point basket for the night. She played a good game and ended up with six points for the night. Kris King turned in a good performance both on defense and offense. She too ended up with six points. Becky Dodson was strong under the basket and scored five points while point guard Laura Sahme had several assists and ended up with five points. Luanne Foltz, off the bench, had a basket and two foul shots for four points. Margie Durette added three points with a field goal and a free throw. Becky Soliz played a good game on defense but the shots were not falling in for her. She ended up with two points.

Katie Kniesteat, the 5'11" senior for The Dalles, scored 13, while Dana Coleman added 10. LaDuke, Jernigan, Emily Moore and Heather Bury each contributed two points.

This brings the girls record to three wins and one loss so far this season. Their next game will be Friday night in their home holiday tournament. Henley and Hood River Valley will square off first at 5:45 Friday. Madras will meet Woodburn. All games promise to show some tough action.

Point guard Tony Holiday forces action during championship game against Hood River during Holiday Tournament at Madras High School December 7 and 8.

Madras Buffaloes win Tourney

The home town fans had something to cheer about this past weekend as the Madras White Buffaloes blasted their way to victory and came out the winners of their own tournament December 7 and 8, 1990.

In their first game, the Buffs jumped out to an early lead and were never in any serious trouble throughout the game as they handled a well-balanced Henley team by the score of 73-56 on Friday night. They were able to contain the Hood River Valley Eagles 67-49 for the championship on Saturday.

Eric Peterson was outstanding in both games, scoring 26 points against Henley and 19 in the game with Hood River. Scott Moses also had two real good games scoring 17 points against Henley and 14 on Saturday night against Hood River. Peterson and Moses were tough on the boards in both games.

Tony Holiday added some punch to the team at point guard. Holiday had no problems getting the ball through the trap plays put on by the defense. He scored eight points in the Henley game and 12 against Hood River. Ryan Boyle also contributed on the backboards giving the Buffs added punch in that department. Boyle did his share of scoring, with 14 against Henley and 10 against Hood River. Jeremy Symons, the other starter, was very effective on the defensive side and scored two against Henley and six against Hood River. Jake Cooc-hise came in from the bench and was very instrumental on both offense and defense. He scored four points in the Friday game and two points in the final game. Mark Harris also came in from the bench and had good games. As the season goes along and when things are ironed out, things could get pretty interesting in Buffalo County.

Coach Blinco said the team still needs some work in certain areas. He also mentioned that young ball players have a certain amount of time to play each year, like 20 games or so. Spencer Gerke and Leif Suppah have put in some playing time already and, while this is pre-season, the coach feels he should save their playing time for league action where they will be eligible the rest of the season. If he had played them during the tournament, that would have taken playing time away later on. They are going to have their days soon.

The next varsity action will be December 15 at Grant Union and December 18 at Hood River.
