"Spilyay Speaks"

Spilyay Tymoo would like to let all the boys and girls who are in the Armed Forces know that we are proud of them and fully support their efforts in this time of disrupt in the Iraq-Kuwait situation. We want them to know that there are a lot of people who fully support them. It's hard to face situations such as this when the young boys and girls have to face war. It's too late to turn back now as things have gotten underway with the fighting in the Far East. No matter how hard it is to face we should all stick together and back up our Armed Forces....that is if you are not a Saddam follower.

Sometimes I think all these anti-war demonstrators are sent in by Saddam to disrupt all the people of the U.S., and believe me some are real suckers. Those professional demonstrators could make Saddam look like a hero.

Everyone is against war but lets face it, we're in now and we've got to do whatever there is to do. I praise all those parents who have children in the service and say they are against war but are in full support of their children who are involved in the "Desert Storm." Many of them have experienced times like this themselves during the WWII, Korean and the Vietnam wars. Many, many veterans have feelings toward whats happening but they support the action that is taking place at the present time.

Let's not let the boys and girls feel they are doing wrong in their endeavors where ever they may be. Those demonstrators can cause a big problem and I feel they are playing right into Saddams hand. So I say down with those anti-war demonstrators. Because many of us have relatives who are involved now and all we can do is hope and pray for a fast end to the situation and everyone comes out well. Ahh-Nahh-Chi-Toon.

The Professor was demonstrating before his class the ill-effects of alcohol. He took a worm and dropped it into a glass of water and the worm continued to wiggle about. Then he dropped the worm into a glass of alcohol and immediately the worm died. Then the Professor asked the class what that proved? A young man from the back of the room replied, "Well Sir, that just proves that people who drink don't have worms." YIKES

There were these two guys who were talking when one said, "You've got to hand it to those tax people. If you don't, they'll come and get it." YIKES

Kindness during recent loss appreciated

To the Editor,

To all those who were so supportive and kind during the loss of our loved one:

We were all saddened when God called Edward Henry, Sr. home. We know he will be missed by all who knew him as a father, grandfather to many, uncle to many, a friend, a relative, a beloved brother and a dear husband. He was loved by all who knew him.

Thanks for the beautiful letters of condolence, the many sympathy cards, words of encouragement, the acts of kindness, the beautiful flowers, and all the necessary services rendered from the heart during the time of grief. All the love and concern shown in many ways is greatly appreciated. The list would be so long to name all who were so supportive to us. We just want everyone to know, we thank all of you for all that was done to help us through this sad time of our lives. Your kindness will remain in our hearts forever.

There will always be good memories of our loved one for his kindness, concern for others, for his enjoyment to spend time at the YMCA among friends, watching family youth participate in sports and all the good times he shared with everyone.

Thanks for tournament support

To the Editor,

We'd like to give acknowledgment to all the sponsors, saying thanks, God bless you all, for your support to this annual event for the kids. It's people like you folks, that makes the activities worth-while, giving the kids something to look forward to on weekends. It's too bad there can not be more put out for the youth of our community, to try keeping them off the streets.

Regardless of the outcome of the Lil Britches Tournament, January 12-13, 1991, held at Warm Springs

Community center, I'd like to say to those who all participated, You're all champions. Just to make the effort to practice and play is great. Being able to belong and participate makes it worth-while, to be able to look forward to something to do each week. I commend the other coaches also, for taking the time and effort to work with the children.

Just making it to practice is a responsibility in itself. Which I commend our players of the We Baaad and Roadrunners 12 and under teams, also to the parents who support their kids in these activities. We don't win them all, but we have fun trying, giving the kids experience and knowledge of the sport. A special thanks to Caroline Tohet, for the small give away for the visiting coaches, on behalf of her grandchildren who participated in the tournament. May he above watch and guide you always.

Again, my sincere apologies.

Briton seeks Indian pen friend

To the Editor,

I am writing in the hope that you can help me in some way in finding a pen friend. I have tried a number of Indian organizations but without much luck I'm afraid. I am thirty seven years old, married, with two children. I enjoy reading about the American Indians, painting, rock music, hill walking. (I believe they call it back packing in America) and just reading in general.

I would be very grateful for any help you could give me.

Yours sincerely

"You've got a place in heaven"

I dreamt one night I passed away
And left this world behind
And started down the lonesome trail

Some of my friends to find
Came to a signboard on the trail
Directions it did tell
Keep right to go to Heaven
Turn left to go to Hell

I hadn't been too good on earth
Just a hopeless boozing rake
And knew there at the crossroads

The path I'd have to take
So I started down the rocky path
That leads to Satan's place
And shook within not knowin'
Just what I'd have to face

Ol' Satan met me at the gate
What's your name my friend?
I said I'm just old Sober John
That's come to a sad end

He glanced through some files
You've made a mistake, I fear
You're listed as an alcoholic
We don't want you here

I said I'm looking for my friends
And a smile stole o'er his face
If your friends are alcoholics
They're in the other place

So I went back the other way
'Til the crossroads I did see
And turned right to go to Heaven

As happy as can be
St. Peter smiled and said come in
For you I have a berth
You're listed as an alcoholic
You've been through Hell on earth

I saw Ol' Cal, and blind Nick too
Bill W. and friend called Nell
An brother was I tickled
'Cause I thought they'd gone to Hell

So brothers all take warning
Learn something from my trip
You've got a place in Heaven
If you try hard not to slip

If someone tempts you with a drink
When you're not feeling well
Just tell him you're going to Heaven
And he can go to Hell
