

Annual powwow hosts visitors, friends, families

Military stationed in the Persian Gulf and their families were honored during special dance. Black Lodge drummers composed and sang new song "Soldier Boy" in honor of Indian troops.

Dancers enjoy the opportunity to visit during an Owl Dance.

The Lincoln's Birthday Powwow committee paid out over $17,000 in prize monies and other awards. The cooks were paid $800; and the championship judges were paid $120. Tribal Council donated $2,500 for food and beef was donated by Viola Kalama and Norene and Gene Greene.

The committee conducts various fund raising events throughout the year and performs at numerous functions, including workshops and conferences, does salmon bakes, auctions, raffles and collects individual donations. All proceeds go toward powwow expenses.

Committee chairman is Pierson Mitchell; whipman and whipwoman are Raymond "Captain" Moody and Melanie Colwash; Charlie Tailfeathers and Rudy Clements are emcees; Anna Clements is in charge of the raffle and royalty; Richard Craig and Kate Jackson coordinate the crafts and concessions; Rudy Clements is drum coordinator. Geraldine Blodgett and Shirley Heath run the kitchen and Anna Clements and Kate Jackson serve as treasurers. Fern Begay runs a mini raffle each week in conjunction with the auctions. George Clements, Sr. is in charge of contest judging; Jacob Frank, Sr. is contest point totaler and the three sisters, Nettie Shawaway, Matilda Mitchell and Sylvia Walulatum, and elders Florence Meanus, Herb Stwyer, Sr. and Ellen Squiemphen conduct the Sunday auctions.
