Many thrills and spills featured at annual Tygh Valley All-Indian Rodeo

The kick-off of the Western States Indian Rodeo Association season came to life at the All-Indian rodeo held at Tygh Valley, May 18-19, 1991. The weather was ideal for a rodeo with all the cowboys dusting off their gear for another long trek toward that National Finals rodeo held in Albuquerque, NM each fall.

In order for a cowboy to make it to the National Finals, he has to earn his way there. To earn his way there is by winning the most money in his perspective event. The cowboy with the most points at the end of the year has truly earned his way to the National Finals.

The thrill action packed rodeo with rodeo stock furnished by Buddy Pinz, the P-9 rodeo stock of Terrebonne, OR, was on hand to give the cowboys all the action they needed, with cowboys and cowgirls from all parts of the Western part of the United States and Canada, participating for as many points as they could get. There was something for everyone to enjoy right from the opening grand entry to the final event of the rodeo. As the show got under way on Saturday the opening of the rodeo the Star Spangled Banner was sang by this years Rodeo Queen, Shawna Jackson, who was mounted horse back in full Indian Regalia. After all the introductions of the VIP's and visiting Royalty, the show got underway at the bucking chutes.

The rough stock gave the cowboys plenty of action in the three riding events. The bulls were very tough on the cowboys, no mercy at all, but there were boys that needed that kind of stock to make the points they received. In the timed events there were some very good times turned by some top-notched cowboys making their first sanctioned show. While there were cowboys who had to struggle to get any time at all as in the wild cow milking those huge cows drug cowboys all over the arena before they could stop them long enough to get some milk. Times in the team roping were pretty close, and the crowd got their money's worth of an action packed rodeo for the two days. The barrel racers were not up to par as some were making their first run for the year and a bit rusty and crowd shy, but they were right in there trying to get that good time to earn some points.

The rough stock provided some good action especially the saddle bronc, which is known as the Classic of the Rodeo Game. The following is the results of the two day show:
