Cadet program revamped this year

The Warm Springs Cadet Program was revamped this year not only to include the "ride along program," but included academics through classroom instruction, field trips and physical fitness training.

Overall training included crime prevention, police notebook, radio codes and procedures, public relations, street and road identification, interviewing techniques, victims assistance, fire and safety orientation, public service announcements, firearm orientation and the Warm Springs Tribal Law and Order Code.

The program ended in mid-August. The overall 1991 Cadet of the Year was Orlando Stevens. His selection was made by the Public Safety Branch staff and was based on his professionalism, skills demonstrated, academic studies and physical fitness. Stevens also captured the overall "Academic Award". He finished the program with a 99.3 percent average.

Taking the Physical Fitness award was Bobbie Calica who demonstrated her capabilities through a battery of physical fitness challenges. Floyd Calica, Richard Tewee and Rusty Calica took the "1991 Appreciation Awards."

Reservation crime rate increases

There has been an overall increase in crime on the reservation this year. Most recently, there has been an increase in breaking and entering, thefts and malicious mischief. In August there were 11 breaking and enterings reported, 19 theft cases and two malicious mischief cases. Public Safety asks that the community become involved in preventing these and other crimes.

1. Keep an eye on your neighbors house when they are out of town.
 2. If you note suspicious activity or see something, report it immediately.
 3. Write down the license plate number, color, make or model of the suspicious vehicle if there is one.
 4. Get a brief description of suspects in the area.
 5. Note in which direction the suspects leave.

Nurses' duties defined in description

In these times of sophisticated personnel and industrial relations we put great stock in complete and careful job descriptions. Everybody concerned needs to know just what the position is expected to accomplish.

But don't think the job description is a new idea. Here is one for a floor nurse developed in 1887, recently published in the magazine of Cleveland Lutheran Hospital.

"In addition to caring for your 50 patients, each nurse will follow these regulations:

1. Daily sweep and mop the floors of your ward, dust the patient's furniture and window sills.
2. Maintain an even temperature in your ward by bringing in a scuttle of coal for the day's business.
3. Light is important to observe the patient's condition. Therefore, each day fill kerosene lamps, clean chimneys and trim wicks. Wash the windows once a week.
4. The nurse's notes are important in aiding the physician's work. Make your pens carefully, you may whittle nibs to your individual taste.
5. Each nurse on day duty will report every day at 7 a.m. and leave at 8 p.m., except on the Sabbath on which day you will be off from 12 noon to 2 p.m.
6. Graduate nurses in good standing with the director of nurses will be given an evening off each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if you go regularly to church.
7. Each nurse should lay aside from each pay day a goodly sum of her earnings for her benefit during her declining years, so that she will not become a burden. For example, if you earn $30 a month, you should set aside $15.

8. Any nurse who smokes, uses liquor in any form, gets her hair done at a beauty shop or frequents dance halls will give the director of nurses good reason to suspect her worth, intentions and integrity. The nurse who performs her labors, serves her patients, and doctors faithfully and without fault for a period of five years will be given an increase by the hospital administration of five cents a day providing there are no hospital debts that are outstanding."
