

Change, progress make 1991 memorable

Warm Springs, along with the rest of the nation, tolerates the only thing constant in our lives--change

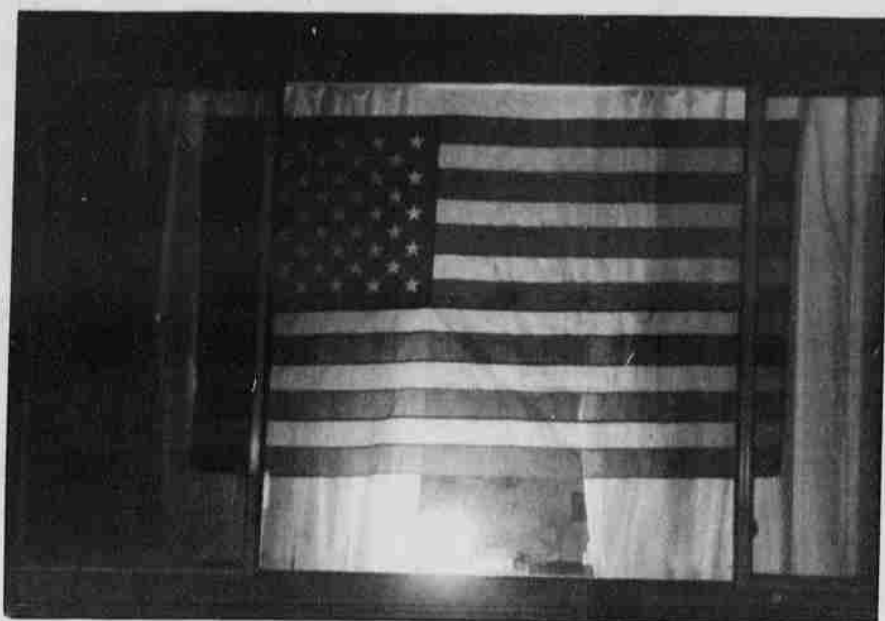

The WSFPI veneer plant closed down its operations October 22 after more than two decades of operations. Initially, 115 employees were to be laid off as a result of the shutdown, but as of December 13, 91 workers had been notified of their layoff that would be effective December 31.

Children were the main attraction at the groundbreaking ceremonies of the new Early Childhood Education Center April 18. The Center will provide space for the care and teaching of 460 children.

Progress on the Early Childhood Education Center is evident as the building begins to take shape. Completion is expected to be early to mid-1992.

Pride and patriotism erupted in mid-January as the Persian Gulf War broke out. Numerous community members had children and other relatives serving in Operation Desert Storm.

Remembering those in The Gulf, students at Warm Springs Elementary honored the military by tying bright yellow ribbons on different objects throughout the community.
