Where Is She?

I look to the sky to find a mate, lost in love is a fearful fate.

Where Is She? Please help me, to find a love warm and caring, tender as the clouds above.

I am a wandering soul without the love of a girl, passionately insane my mind is awhirli.

Where Is She? deep in my heart sound asleep letting me know I'm never alone.

My Love for You

Love is stronger than any emotion for it has no visible boundaries. And my love is but a spring fountain That flows like the wind in a breeze. My love for you can't be measured by time nor space, nor depth for it is too deep. And my love for you is also a hiding place A place two lovers can sleep.
