successful fire suppression program was allowing natural fuels to accumulate well beyond traditional amounts. The reason this was occurring was due to the absence of fire. Our dry climate inhibits decomposition of woody debris and plant material by bacteria, consequently fire becomes the major decomposing agent. By reintroducing fire under prescribed conditions we can reduce this fuel accumulation to acceptable levels.

Other benefits include increased browse with higher protein content for wildlife, rejuvenate grazing opportunities for cattle, increase short term site productivity by releasing bound nutrients for plant growth and creating a less fire prone environment. Fire has also been recognized as a major control factor checking or reducing insect and disease populations.

Since 1984 the Branch of Forestry has been involved with developing an understory burning program to meet these goals. The resource benefits of this burning is abundantly clear. We can reintroduce fire and provide favorable changes, biologically and socially. There is an increasing need to reduce the threat of catastrophic fire due to natural fuel accumulations as we continue to invest in our forest and range resources and build homes in these fuel types.

Our immediate goals is to annually treat 2,000 acres over the reservation.
This program is conceptual and will be developed through this new management period governed by the Integrated Resource Management Plan.

Currently a large area in the vicinity of Quartz Butte, Simnasho Butte and Laughlin Hills is being studied to provide management direction for the reintroduction of fire.
An interdisciplinary team from Forestry and Natural Resources have sketched a framework for this project to follow. Tribal members wishing to make a commitment to help develop a ten year plan are encouraged to become a part of this team. Our intentions are to provide Tribal members information and opportunity to help guide this process.
Anyone interested in a field trip to review past and current understory burning, view a formal indoor presentation and/or be a member on this management team or with questions may contact Dave Smith or Bobby Brunoe, at Natural Resources, 553-3233 or Jim Steele or Mark Jackson, by Captain Don Courtney

A Tribal member along with a Montana Indian were the latest arrested in the WS Drug Task Forces' effort on the war against drugs.

The latest intelligence led the task force team to the Wolfe Point area where another search warrant was executed that turned up a small amount of packages known as "bindles" which contained a white powdery substance suspected as being cocaine. Preliminary field testing of the substance showed that the substance did test positive as cocaine, however results from the crime lab are pending for verification.

As trial is pending, the task force continues to urge community members to get actively involved in criminal activity reporting.

Drug use, sale, manufacturing, and transporting are all crimes that affect our community one way or another...If you see it, report it.

From the Captain's Desk

For the first quarter of this year, there were 19 breaking & entering cases reported to the police department that resulted in only 5 persons being arrested. With that, remember these helpful hints:

1.) If you are planning to go on vacation, don't discuss your plans out in the public, you never know who might overhear your plans.

2.) Make arrangements for someone to either keep an eye on your property & house, or you might want to have someone stay there while you are away. In any event, make plans to have things done in & around your home while you are away.

3.) Check all your locks on windows & doors, make sure they are working properly. I went to a call at 'this business where a break-in was reported and it was discovered that the window locks had been broken for quite some time before the break-in.

Cooperate with the officers if they stop by...again we are here to help you remain safe.

Law Enforcement Torch Run 92'

This being the first year participation in the annual Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics, the WSPD made quite an impression in Central Oregon.

The annual event kicked off this year at the Jefferson County Courthouse in Madras with six officers participating in the run from Madras to Salem.

Captain Courtney contributed 22 miles, Investigator Kirk ran 21 miles, Officers Trimble donated 11 miles, Romaine Miller 8 miles, John DeBiao 7 miles, and Officer Hintsala ran 6 miles. As a department, 75 miles were covered by WSPD.

What makes this event different from other runs, is that this run is without the pressure of competition.
You run the amount of miles you want at your own speed. This run and the dollars donated are for the benefit of the special athletes in Central Oregon.

The event for the Central Oregon Law Enforcement Runners ended at the steps of the Capital Building in Salem. Our torch joined the Portland area torch flown in by Life Flight where McGruff the Crime Dog handed off to the various other agencies ready to complete the run to Eugene for the opening ceremonies.

Special thanks goes out to those who contributed and sponsored the WS police officer runners (families), the officers, the co-workers, and especially to the GM Public Safety Branch Jeff Sanders who continues to support the officers efforts toward physical fitness and a healthier community.

According to Captain Courtney, plans have already been made to begin the annual event here in Warm Springs next year.

Fish & Game

For the past month, the fish and game division made 190 contacts with the majority; 124 being fishing, 15 trespassing, 5 woodcutting, 5 traffic, 4 crimes, and 2 hunting.

A total of 16 violations were detected out of the contacts with 11 citations being issued, 7 arrests, and 4 warnings being given out.

Officers of most recent responded along with Wasco County and the Oregon State Police to two separate calls down to Sherar's bridge where it was reported that some of our people where highly intoxicated and causing problems in the area. As a safety factor, please refrain from the use of alcohol in this area.

Diabetes screenings set

The Warm Springs IHS Diabetes Program, in cooperation with the Tribal Community Health Promotion Department, will hold two blood sugar and blood pressure screenings each month. The last Tuesday of every month, the screening will be held at the Tribal Administration Building from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.; in May, it will be on Tuesday the 26th and in June it will be the 30th. The site of the second monthly screening will rotate, but will always be on the third Thursday of the month from 9 p.m. to 11 a.m. On May 21, the testing will be done at the Tribal Court, and on June 18 it will be held at the Police Department.

If you have any questions regarding the screenings, please call Candace Reich at the Clinic at 553-
