

Free fishing clinic for children planned

May is nearly past and with the beginning of June come thoughts of activities involving the five Fs: Fun, Food, Friends, Family and Fishing? National Fishing Week is June 1-7 and again, the Clackamas and Estacada Ranger District will be hosting a free fishing clinic targeted both for community children and those living in urban areas that may never have experienced the outdoors.

Small Fry Pond at Promontory Park in Estacada will be the site for this year's clinic on Saturday, June 6, which coincides with Oregon's free fishing day. National Forests in both Oregon and Washington will also be offering free camping on June 5 and 6 in conjunction with the celebration.

Because National Fishing Week is a celebration of fish as an important resource, the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs has selected a representative who will attend the clinic. Terry Courtney, Jr. will display a dip net and answer questions concerning the art of dipnetting and talk about Sherrars Bridge and Celilo Fall fishing.

The clinic is open to children 14 years of age and younger and will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Small Fry Pond is off Highway 224, seven miles south of Estacada. Participants are asked to bring fishing equipment and outdoor clothing.

The clinic is sponsored by the Mt. Hood National Forest Clackamas and Estacada Ranger Districts in cooperation with Portland General Electric and the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife. For further information call the Clackamas Ranger District at 834-2275.

Identify the location of this Geo-quiz and win a year's subscription to Spilyay for yourself or a friend. Call 553-1644 after 1:00 p.m. June 1 with your answer.
