

Taholah takes championship title at tourney

The annual men's and women's Pi-Ume-Sha Slo-pitch softball tournament was held over the weekend of June 26, 27 and 28, 1992. Spectators and players sat through the heat of the sun one day and rain and wind the next. But that rain didn't stop Raft River of Taholah, as they defeated Siletz in the men's championship game. Pendleton, Oregon placed third, White Swan, Washington came in fourth as the Reservation Suns followed behind.

The all-stars were awarded to the following: from Reservation Suns Paul Wapat, and Ted Strom, from Warm Springs, Tim Pigsley and Jason Palmer. Siletz all-stars were Kevin and Bristol, Donnie Bagley and Brooker Jones were all-stars from Pendleton. Lennie and Vern were the Raft River all-stars. Tiger's Warm Springs team was the sportsmanship team of the weekend and the Most Valuable Player was Benjie Kautz of Raft River.

In the women's tournament Warm Springs was the defending champions as they defeated the Bravettes of Warm Springs. The N.W. Athletics received third place while Taholah was the fourth place finisher, with the Yellow Jackets following.

Sue Hawks was the all-star for the White Swan Yellow Jackets, and Sue Kalama was the Taholah all-star. From the N.W. Athletics, Sandra Danzuka and Desi Smiscon were the all-stars, from Lapwai, Mary Taylor and Angel McCormick were awarded all-stars. The all stars from the Bravettes were Lynn Tanewasha, Leslie Cochran, and Bobbie Calica, while Linda Blodgett, Deanie Smith and Sue Davis were the Warm Springs all-stars. Sportsmanship went to the Yellow Jackets and Most Valuable Player went to Sue Davis of the Warm Springs team.

Brooker Jones of Pendleton crossed the plate as Warm Springs catcher, Willie Bagley attempts to put him out. Third baseman Rudy Clements looks on.

their friends and families. This monument will be built with no federal, tribal and state funds, and will not be located on any federal, tribal or state lands. It will belong to all Indian people and will be built by funds generated by the NAVMA, from powwow donations, NAVMA enterprises such as documentaries, etc.

We feel we must give proper thanks for our brave Native American Warriors, many of whom made the supreme sacrifice for the freedom we now enjoy and take for granted. In keeping with the traditions of our people, we are deeply honored to participate in the national and international events which honor our Native American Veterans.

Our warriors have not passed on in vain, we remember..... The Native American Warrior Veterans Memorial Association (NAWVMA) has scheduled a pow-wow/tribute to honor all veterans of WWI, WWII, Korea, Vietnam, Grenada, Panama and Desert Storm for August 28-30, 1992, at the Salt Palace, Salt Lake City, Utah. Bob Hope will be NAWVMA's Honorary National Chairman.

All events are open to the public, the scheduled activities are:

On Monday, Tuesday, & Wednesday, August 24-26 will be the Native American Patriot Games,

S.L.C., Utah. All Native American teams (basketball, softball, golf) are welcome. Pre-registration is required.

Thursday, August 27: The first annual National Indian Veteran's Meeting at the Salt Palace, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. All Native American Veterans & families are invited. Also, in the evening the NAWVMA Princess pageant will be held at the Little Theater at 6 p.m.

Early morning fire claims life of teen-ager

Chad Smith, 16-year-old son of Bruce Smith and Norma (Ike) Smith, died of smoke inhalation in a fire at the home of Woodrow and Iris Smith Sunday, June 28. The younger Smith had gone to his grandparents' home after attending Pi-Ume-Sha activities Saturday evening.

According to Public Safety general manager Jeff Sanders, the fire broke out between 4 and 4:30 a.m. and was reported at 5 a.m. to local fire officials by Stewart Smith, who is no relation to the victim, said Sanders.

Fire trucks arrived at the residence, located at 2221 East Tenino just above the Pi-Ume-Sha grounds, at 5:06 a.m. to find the house fully engulfed in flames. Preliminary investigation shows that a leaky faucet had dripped onto the electrical panel and eroded the wiring, causing a short. The fire had two points of origination; a lamp in the kitchen and the wiring along rafters in the basement. The victim was found in a basement bedroom. An autopsy conducted Monday, June 29, showed that Smith died of smoke inhalation. The elder Smiths were taken to Mt. View Hospital where they were treated and released.

The house was a total loss. Sanders said that a crowd gathered quickly at the house and that 10 to 15 "scuffles" broke out between the bystanders and police. He added that three to five individuals were arrested for interference, disorderly conduct and being under the influence.

The Pi-Ume-Sha committee took donations and raised over $1,500 for the family. A washer and dryer were also donated to the family.

TOTAL LOSS--Woody and Iris Smith's home was destroyed in a June 28 fire that claimed the life of their grandson, 16-year-old Chad Smith.

There were many Native American Veterans who served in that conflict and remember those cold dingy days spent on those cold mountains of Korea. This is the first time the Korean Veterans were honored as they were here in Warm Springs during the Pi-Ume-Sha Days.

Blood screenings to be held through September

The Warm Springs IHS Diabetes Program, in cooperation with the Tribal Community Health Promotion Department, will hold two blood sugar and blood pressure screenings each month. The last Tuesday of every month, the screening will be held at the Tribal Administration Building from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. The site of the second monthly screening will rotate, but will always be on the third Thursday of the month from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. The schedule for the screenings through September is as follows:

July 16--Garment Factory
July 28--Administration Building
August 20--Early Childhood Development Center
August 25--Administration Building
September 17--Macy's
September 29--Administration Building

If you don't have diabetes, but a member of your family does, it is important for you to learn more about the disease and to have your blood sugar checked regularly. The screenings are a good place to do this. Staff are available to answer any questions you might have and will also have printed materials to hand out.

If you have any questions regarding the screenings, please call Candace Reich at the clinic at 553-1196.

The Warm Springs Elementary LIBRARY will be open Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 12 noon to 4 p.m. through July 30
