"We Baaad" takes trophy at local basketball tournament

"We Baaad" came out the champions of the 12-and-under boys basketball tournament which was sponsored by the Chinooks basketball team of Warm Springs. The host Chinooks placed second after being beaten by "We Baaad," coached by Tony "Big Rat" Suppah. Teams from Prineville, Redmond, Wapato and Muckleshoot, Washington competed in the tournament.

In the earlier part of the championship game, it was real close and exciting, but after the half-time intermission, the "We Baaad" team slowly started pulling away. Especially in the closing minutes, "We Baaad" team built a comfortable lead, but they had to play hard to keep the fired up Chinook team from catching up.

The Prineville girls in a 13 and under tournament used height advantage to finally overpower the determined VOL team coached by Ron Suppah as the game was so close it went into overtime. In the overtime period the VOL's couldn't buy a basket as they missed shot after shot right under their basket, and Prineville was able to score a couple of baskets to win the championship. A complete game by game statistics will appear in the next issue.

Freshmen volleyball team posts good record

The Madras High School freshman volleyball team and coach Bill Wysham finished their season with a 10-4 win-loss record, 6-1 in the Greater Oregon League. They topped the season off with an awards dessert Thursday, November 19 during which awards were given to the following.

Captain Libby Taylor received a super-server award as she served 244 serves out of 250 attempts for the season. Co-captain Melissa Cavender was awarded Most Valuable Player. Lynn Graybael was Most Improved Player and Leah Candland received Most Inspirational. Other players who received awards were: Wendy Burtis, Annemarie Chambers, Erica Christensen, Khara Krause, Amy Krause, Niki Luse, Melissa Nartz, Ava Smith, Minta Woll and Kristin Wright.

Wysham felt this was the best season he had had in 12 or 13 years of coaching, due to the teamwork, attitudes and self-discipline the girls showed. The team's excellent winning record helped a bit, too.

The MHS freshman volleyball team finished the regular season with a 10-4 win-loss record. Team members were recognized for their efforts at an awards dessert November 19.

New weight room added at Community Center

As the Community Center begins to utilize its additional space, a new weight room has become available to community members.

"We're really interested in attracting more beginners and women" to this new facility, says Community Center director Fran Moses-Ahern.

Some of the equipment for the new weight room was purchased before the room was available and placed in the room last May. Since that time other equipment including a treadmill and stairstep has been added.

This room is used by the Diabetic group and people who prefer mild exercise and have developed their own personal fitness program. The stack-weight equipment provides a particular resistance for muscle tone and muscle building. A weight room located in the basement of the Community Center uses free-weights, allowing exercisers to add as much weight to the equipment for their conditioning level.

The new equipment has digital settings and some are computerized for various levels of exercise. Orientation from Community Center staff members is available any time for those requesting it.

Moses-Ahern explains that the weight rooms are open any time during the day. Fitness coordinator Austin Green has an office nearby to provide assistance in getting familiar with the equipment.

Moses-Ahern mentions that new weight room may be expanding soon, with a wall being knocked down, and more equipment brought in.

Currently, the room has much use. Many high school students use it in the evening. Moses-Ahern is setting up a youth fitness course and is planning a weight lifting mini-workshop.

Andy Leonard takes a stationary run on the treadmill in the weightroom.
