Better security added to fish trap

Warm Springs fisheries biologist Patty O'Toole distributes steelhead to community members in parking lot at Macy's store.

Recent poaching at the Pelton Fish Trap can cause concern by both Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife and Portland General Electric, which operates the trap. Although several incidents have been reported, one particular incident resulted in a gillnet being found in the trap with seven dead fall chinook salmon. Poachers cut through a chain link covering over the trap to get to the fish.

According to PGE Round Butte-Pelton Project superintendent Jim Wyatt, a heavy steel grate has replaced the chain link covering and a motion light has been installed to deter poachers. Wyatt expresses a concern about poachers removing fish, but is also concerned about the safety of people who may be near the trap, fearing they may fall into it.

Warm Springs tribal members continue to receive steelhead from the Pelton Fish Trap. This season, approximately 660 fish have been distributed with distribution continuing through February, according to Round Butte Fish Hatchery manager Bill Nyara. In 1991-92, the number of steelhead distributed totaled 1800.

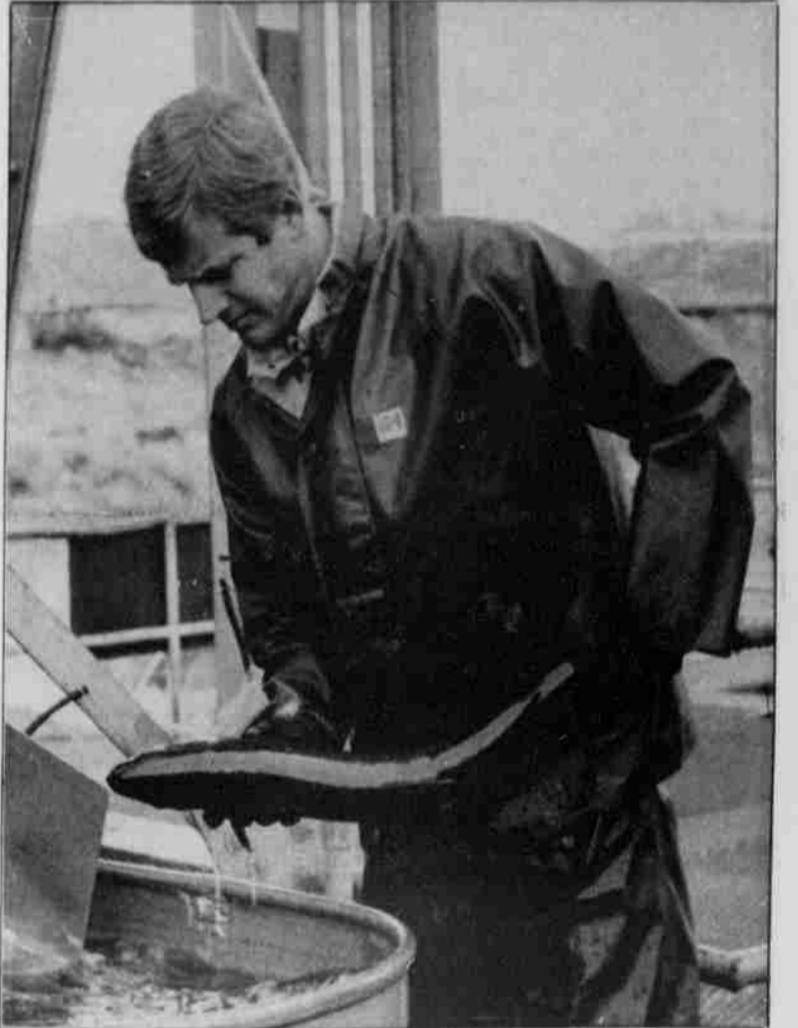

Also entering the trap are Fall Chinook, which are migrating in very low numbers dropping from 5,280 in 1989 to only 1,064 in 1991. The estimated return for 1992 is expected to be even lower.

Because Fall Chinook are wild, when they enter the trap they are returned immediately to the river.

Tribal members also receive spring chinook. Between May and August of this year, 1,427 were distributed. Tribal members interested in receiving steelhead may contact the Warm Springs Natural Resources office to find out the date and time of fish distribution.

Round Butte hatchery manager Bill Nyara collects steelhead from the Pelton trap and loads them onto tribal vehicle prior to distribution.

Senior relates "Freedom is to be responsible"

Jolene Boise

Eighteen year old Jolene Corita Boise is the daughter of Birney Greene-Boise and Randy Boise of Warm Springs. Her grandparents are Irene and Jack Towe, Norene and Gene Greene also of Warm Springs. She has two brothers, Joseph Boise age 21, and Randy Boise, Jr. age 5, along with three sisters, Desrae Boise age 4, Irene Boise age 9 and Jodene Greene age three. Boise is of the Warm Springs, Wasco, Paiute, Yakima, and Nez Perce Tribe.

She enjoys spending time with her friends, drawing and writing poems in her free time. She has participated in sports at Madras High School, they include her first two years in cross country and track. Her favorite sport is cross country because it's a challenge. Boise feels personal finance with Joe Blincoe is her favorite class. Awards she has received include varsity letters in cross country and track.

Her outlook of the past school years she feels they have gone by fast! With a lot of ups and downs but was also fun. She feels scared about this being her last year of high school because next year she will be out on her own. Socializing and spending time with her friends is what she will miss most about MHS. Boise is undecided about a career choice, she plans to begin with basic classes, at Boise Idaho University. She comments to the remaining lower class, "Hang in there, don't worry so much about trying to fit in." In five to ten years she sees herself possibly out of college and making good money and having a good life for her son.

Floyd Joseph Calica of Warm Springs is the son of Wauna Calica and Raymond Calica, Sr. His grandparents are Floyd and Mildred Tyler along with Joe and Inez Calica. He has two brothers, twenty-five year old Raymond Jr., and Rusty who is 16. He also has two sisters, twenty-eight year old Sheilyn and Mary age 22. Calica is of the Warm Springs, Wasco descent.

He has been actively involved with many activities, such as being Sgt. Arms (Parliamentarian) for the Native American Student Union during his sophomore year, NASU Historian this year which involves keeping track of NASU records. He has been a NASU member throughout his high school years. He has also been an active member of Future Business Leaders of America the past couple of years, and this year is on Student Council, as well as being a school board representative which includes attending school board meetings and keeping the student council up to date with information which is obtained at board meetings. Also this year he is currently the Junior Council Chairman for the Confederated Tribes which has just began this year. Other activities include attending a Kiwanis Law Enforcement camp at Oregon Police Academy reserve for four months.

His hobbies and interests include running, being a member of the Baptist Church, and being part of the Step Three Police Cadet Program in Bend since November 1991.

Calica feels all of his classes in high school are favorites to him. His feelings about this being his last year in high school, he states, "I'll miss being with my friends." And what he will miss most about high school is giving Rudy Puente, the vice-principal, a hard time.

Calica's career choice is Law Enforcement, he wants to attend college at Glencoe Police Academy in Brenswick, Georgia which is basically for Federal Agencies. He comments to the remaining lower class, "Freedom is not the freedom to do what you want, but freedom is to be responsible." In five to ten years from now he sees himself as Sergeant of the Police Department, to have worked his way up like his dad, and hopes to make it into the National Academy in Glencoe.
