

The world consists of many cultures

Students learned about Greek culture and sang a Greek New Years song.

Russell Kaiser talked to his first grade students about the items on display which represented China.

Dallas Winishut leads student drummers in a display of Native American culture.

Masks were made to display the west African culture during the Multi-Cultural Fair.

A Multi-cultural fair was held at Warm Springs Elementary last week, starting on Wednesday, May 19 and went through Friday, May 21, 1993. On display was several booths demonstrating the many different cultures of the world. Students of all grades did art work to decorate the booths. They used passports, and acted as if they were going through customs offices. Classes sang songs, learned Wasco dancing, played games and displayed the flags of the different countries, during an outdoor assembly on Friday. Staff and parents displayed items in the library that they collected when visiting different countries. Special visitors included; Sonia Herman, a native of Isreal, and Miwako Bagley who helped with the Japanese crafts.