

Academic year 1993-1994 begins at community schools

The cultural diversity at Madras High School is apparent on readerboard where students are welcomed back in three different languages.

Madras High School freshmen line up for locker assignments.

Head Start students benefit as well as enjoy playtime during the first day at the Early Childhood Development Center.

Warm Springs Elementary fifth grade students Michael Martinez and Oscar Queahpama begin day with some monkeybar activity.

Students await the opening of MJH locked doors Tuesday morning.

Two students anxiously check list for their names to lead them to their guide rooms on the first day at Madras Jr. High.

Buses warm up before first day routes begin.