Donations to graduating party greatly appreciated

Project Graduation is underway. The parents of the graduating class of 1994 have begun efforts to raise money for the annual Drug and Alcohol Free Graduation Party. For 10 straight years, the Warm Springs and Madras communities have supported the party through monetary donations or in-kind contributions, offering graduating seniors a safe environment in which to celebrate their great accomplishments.

Recent fund raising efforts include a bottle drive, the homecoming barbecue and a rummage sale. Many people contributed to these efforts, but help is still needed. All community members are encouraged to donate in the form of cash, gifts, gift certificates or food. Any donations will be greatly appreciated.

Checks made out to Project 94 Graduation can be mailed to Mary McNeVins, Co-Chairman, Donations Committee, 448 SE 8th, Madras, OR 97741.

On Patrol

OFFICER CASELOAD:

With another year comes the passing of another busy, exhausting and demanding caseload for the police department. Overall statistics again surpassed the 5,000 case mark for the third year in a row as officers are scrambling to get their follow-ups done and cases closed. Last count was approximately 5,300+.

POST OFFICE HAS ONE-WAY:

Of most recent that the community of Warm Springs need to be aware of is the traffic pattern change to the Post Office parking lot. Please note that there is now a one-way sign off of Warm Springs Street into the post office parking lot.

To avoid a possible collision, please be observant to the new pattern.

OFFICERS COMPLETE 1ST RESPONDER COURSE:

In recognition of their success to passing the final exams under the Warm Springs Fire & Safety 1st Responder course, the Police department would like to thank Suzi Macy for her commitment to the instruction provided.

These officers completing this course were: Investigator Oliver Kirk, Officers, Martha Winishut, Dennis Dowty, Warren Smith, Delton Trimble, Larry Holliday, Mark Coffee, Dawn Osmond, Don Winishut and Captain Oswald Tias.

Those Fire & Safety volunteers that additionally completed the course are: Michelle Elliot, Cheryl Holliday, Teresa Courtney, Dave Simmons and Art McConville.

Congratulations to those who passed.

DARE NEWS

With the classes about half way through the course curriculum, DARE officer Mary Calica-Stewart reports that the students are doing very well in course work with the following tips for those who lead children: FIFTEEN WAYS TO HELP CHILDREN LIKE THEMSELVES:

1. Reward children. Give praise, recognition for a job well done. Emphasize the good things they do, not the bad.
2. Take their ideas, emotions and feelings seriously. Don't belittle them by saying, "You'll grow out of it" or "It's not as bad as you think."
3. Define limits and rules clearly, and enforce them. But do allow leeway for your children within these limits.
4. Be a good role model. Let your children know that you feel good about yourself. Also let them see that you can make mistakes and can learn from them.
5. Teach your children how to deal with time and money. Help them spend time wisely and budget their money carefully.
6. Have reasonable expectations for your children. Help them to set reachable goals so they can achieve success.
7. Help your children develop tolerance toward those with different values, backgrounds and norms. Point out people's strengths.
8. Give your children responsibility. They will feel useful, and valued.
9. Be available. Give support when children need it.
10. Show them that what they do is important to you. Talk with them about their activities and interests. Go to their games, parent's day at school, awards ceremonies.

11. Express your values, but go beyond "do this" or "I want you to do that." Describe the experiences that determine your values, the decisions you made to accept certain beliefs, the reasons behind your feelings.

12. Spend time together. Share favorite activities.

13. Discuss problems without placing blame or commenting on a child's character. If children know that there is a problem but don't feel attacked, they are more likely to help look for a solution.

14. Use phrases that build self-esteem, such as "Thank you for helping" or "That was an excellent idea!" Avoid phrases that hurt self-esteem: "Why are you so stupid?"; "How many times have I told you?"

15. Show how much you care about them. Hug them. Tell them they are terrific and that you love them, just as they are.

JAIL NEWS:

A big welcome to our Lieutenant of Corrections Norman Counts, who brings with him over 20 years experience in the Law Enforcement profession. Being a past administrator both in Police and Corrections, a Chief of Police, and a Sheriff, he has found the "Warm Springs" experience very challenging thus far.

Of recent changes to the Jail have included addressing the primary function and responsibilities of security, welfare, and safety. In addition, the jail in looking into further educational and treatment options for the inmates.

A big thanks of appreciation goes

Logs delivered to Simnasho seniors

Timber Champ Lumber, owned by Mike and Lisa Berry, donated logs to Simnasho-area senior citizens. The logs were delivered to the Simnasho Longhouse and later split.

We are thankful to the young people who helped cut the wood and to the timber committee and Ron Recker for the donation of the wood.

Thank you again,
Mike and Lisa Berry

Chief of staff named

Roy M. Nakamura, MD has been named Chief of Staff for Mountain View Hospital District in Madras. A Board Certified Family Practice Physician, Dr. Nakamura sees patients in the Mountain View Family Care Clinic.

Dr. Nakamura completed his undergraduates and medical school studies at the University of Washington in Seattle. He completed his residency in family medicine in 1984. Dr. Nakamura worked at the Warm Springs Indian Health Services Clinic from 1986-1989, then left the area to pursue further education in epidemiology at the University of California at Los Angeles. He has had several research papers published and continues to follow certain population and disease trends. Dr. Nakamura returned to Mountain View Hospital District in 1991 to work full-time as the weekend emergency room physician. He began seeing patients in the Mountain View Family Care Clinic in April 1992.

out to Juvenile Coordinator, Daisy Ike, who most recently completed her first session of teaching and sharing on the Inheritance Scale which at first was questionable to the inmates of the detention facility. Soon after the first session, the inmates looked forward to further teaching as the class progressed.

Inmates of the facility are continuing to have accessible the GED course through our local COCC offices.

In the area of possible recruiting potential job applicants, Roscoe Stewart of the Conservation Corp is still coming into the facility every other Monday to address and recruit those interested.

Danzuka participates in jurisdiction course

Judge Gerald J. Danzuka of the Warm Springs Court in Warm Springs, OR has completed the Tribal Court Jurisdiction course held October 17-29, 1993 at the National Judicial College.

A new course at NJC, Tribal Court Jurisdiction enabled judges to focus on a number of areas, including: the public's perception of tribal courts and their judges, the function and purpose of tribal court bar examinations, how Indian Gaming Compacts affect state and tribal court jurisdiction, the role history plays in writing decisions involving federal Indian laws and tribal law, and Criminal and Civil Jurisdiction in Indian country.

Located on the campus of the University of Nevada, Reno, the Judicial College was featured in 1991 on CBS's "60 Minutes" as the leading national training and education center for trial judges. This perception was further endorsed in the 1993

"Eye to Eye" segment on violence in the courtrooms. Since the College was founded in 1963, more than 30,000 certificates of completion have been issued to graduates, including U.S. Supreme Court Justices Sandra Day O'Connor and David Souter.

Community support vital

Open letter to the community,

Since the beginning of 1993, the Education Services Programs Department has been very fortunate in having the support of the Education Branch general manager and employees from each department, Tribal Council and organization employees, tribal education committee, parents, relatives, and Warm Springs and Madras community members who have been very supportive of our Incentive Award Projects, Youth Projects and our Second annual Holiday Career Fair project. As director of this department, I want all of you to know how much I personally appreciate all your help and support to the Warm Springs students, whether they are in high school or in college or vocational training.

It is you, the people, who make positive changes happen. We could not do it without you. To all—thank you!

Sincerely,
Myrna Courtney, Director
Education Services Programs
