E Coosh EEWA: The way it is

Letters to the Editor

"Spilyay Speaks"

There are times and events that linger in the minds of individuals for ever. Some very important events that took place many years ago. Just like on June 6, 1944, When the Allied forces made that historic landing on the Normandy beach head on the southern part of France, where the Allied forces became the aggressors and on the way of ending the war in Europe.

How many people can remember those dark and frightful days of World War II. There are many untold stories of that horrible event which made a major move to end the war in Europe. As the World War II lingered on as the allied forces fought their way up the Italian main land in a slow battle with the Germans. Those days were hard on everyone even on the home front. The days of gas rationing, food stamps, people working in war plants and ship yards. Everything going toward the defense and War Department. How far can a person get on 4 gallons of gas per week. That's what everyone was allowed in those days. Gas stamps, food stamps, meat stamps. Everyone was allowed just a certain amount of things and the rest was going toward the Military Forces.

It is now referred to by many as, "The Big one," "WW II." and so on. Yep! with everything in a limited supply things were pretty scarce around here. The A gas stamp was for the regular resident, there were special stamps for commercial vehicles, and the Farmers were allowed more to farm their land as everything was needed by the Military. In those days people didn't go very far away from home, especially here in Warm Springs as we are sort of isolated in the mountains had quite a distance to go get food supplies in Madras, and with just 4 gallons of gas it was quite a chore.

After the big depression jobs sprang up all across the country during the war. In the shipyards in Portland people were hauling in the cash, especially if he was a welder. But the jobs sprang up in everything because of the war.

Today kids read about the "The Big One." in history books and never give it much thought because they never had to experience those dreadful days, like a bad nightmare. With the fighting going on in Europe. That long road to victory all began in North Africa where allied forces started the big push on the offensive for the first time since the war started and the Germans were making their move on the world. Here on the home front all the men were being drafted into the service leaving just the young boys and old fellers to run the show.

Yep! There was a war in Europe and a war in the Pacific, and it was frightening with fighting going on both sides of us. The Japanese Empire decided to join the Germans and go on a rampage in the Pacific, taking Island after Island scaring the wits out of everyone. Especially when they made that sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, on December 7, 1941, which caused the United States to enter the War. The fall of the Philippines, and the death march from Bataan. It was real scary of how the Prisoners were treated and how they must have suffered during the war.

All during these times the United States must have been preparing for that big move and training men for that great Historical event of the invasion of Normandy. Warm Springs and all the cities were almost ghost towns with all the men away in the service, and many families moved to the city to work in the war plants and shipyards. But there were still a few around that had beef cattle and stuff like that, because the meat situation was critical and meat was rationed all over.

Yep! D Day was a big event that shortened the war in Europe where many lives were lost. Today there are just a few men left who have really experienced those dreadful days and some are having a reunion to commemorate those days of the past, and to remember all those who gave their lives in the battles there. Yep! It will be something for all those men to return to that are where there will be some hard feelings of the past and we hope we will never have to face what they have gone through. "NIGH"

Family expresses gratitude for help during crisis

To the editor,

Thank you for the support! We, the family of Joe Boise wish to express our sincere gratitude to those that were on duty on April 9, 1994, the night our son was involved in a car accident. To the EMT's, for their quick response and their ability to retrieve our son from the wreckage and able to get him transported thru the AirLife to the St. Charles Hospital. To the doctor and the nurses; for their knowledge and expertise to respond to the immediate care our son required during his critical time. To the therapists that helped Joe thru his rehabilitation.

Thank you for all the prayers; for we know there were many. We truly believe these prayers were answered and our son was given a second chance. Our son was in critical condition, in a coma with a head injury. The prayers and his own self-determination helped him to recover & recuperate rapidly.

A special thank you to our mothers, Norene Greene and Irene Towe, also to Joe's Great Grandmother, Gladys Thompson. They stayed with us throughout the duress and gave us support unselfishly, even when they were hurting. Also to Gubba & Uncle AG for their words of encouragement before Joe left the hospital. To each and everyone that kept us in prayer; to all that visited or called for Joe.

Another very special thank you to family and friends that stepped forward and offered their homes to our children at home. Marcia Minthorn for keeping the girls and sending them to school. To Alice Wyena, who was able to keep Trevor & Triston. To Vicki and Leo Hellon for keeping Aswon. This was a great help and eased the stress, knowing our children were well cared for while we were with our son.

To the Warm Springs Fish Hatchery, the co-workers who called and gave Randy support. Letting him know he was not to worry about work, for covering in his absence. And to his supervisor, Steve, who made a personal visit and offered his support.

Joe is now home and has follow up appointments. Due to the head injury, he will be on dilantin for a short period. The dilantin is to prevent seizures and/or convulsions & he is required to take his medication nightly. His medication does not mix with alcohol. A special thank you to those who are his true friends and realize the importance of Joe's health and help Joe make the right choices regarding alcohol. We appreciate the words of encouragement you may have for Joe.

We are planning a dinner for family and friends who were there offering their support & to come see how well our son is doing. We will let you know when & where.

Birney and Randy Boise, parents Jolene, Irene, Desirae & Jodene, sisters

Randy Boise, Jr., brother & Trevor & Triston, Joe's nephews.

Jackson questions Indian gaming

To the editor,

Las Vegas, NV-Indian Gaming In early March, 1994, I was, by Tribal Council, invited to attend a Seminar on Indian Gaming in Las Vegas, NV.

I think Tribal Member people should read the report I brought back to Council. This is an informational report only.

The individual making this report is Max Jackson. I assumed, when I was selected to go on the two-day seminar in Las Vegas, it would be to report back, first things first.

If Council and the people decide to operate a gaming enterprise on the Warm Springs Reservation, we have an inhouse population of at least one million six hundred thousand (1,600,000). By inhouse I mean they could come to the establishment by day and go home the same night. This is in the Central Oregon area, including The Dalles area and the Portland Metropolitan area.

There are management and financial terms associated with the Indian Gaming world out there. "The cost in dollars could be at no cost to the Tribes", ever hear that before? I heard of one gaming team offering 1 million up front money to be that Tribes management team, I never checked this out.

Internal Controls by the State and Tribe's would have to be worked out. I don't think the financial and management teams would tangle with this one.

The State and Tribe's would be assisted by the Indian national Gaming Commission. There are many factors to consider.

An example of a successful Indian Gaming State would be Minnesota. Revenues generated in 1991 by Indian Gaming was 900 million-how much in 1993 figures were not available at this session.

Unlike manufacturing, Indian gaming raw materials are always there-honesty and productivity.

Sincerely,
Max Jackson

Thanks for supporting WSCP

To the editor,

First of all, the employees of Warm Springs Composite Products would like to express our gratitude to the Tribal Members of Warm Springs. We are especially grateful to the 640+ Tribal Members who took a few minutes to cast their votes at the Community Center or by absentee ballots.

In addition, I would like to thank the following people who showed tremendous support to the establishment of W.S.C.P.: Ken Smith, Secretary-Treasurer; Dennis Karnopp, Tribal Attorney; Members of Tribal Council; Nat Shaw, Public Relations; Mike Villalobos & Sue Ryan, KWSO Radio; Charles Jackson & Bobby Macy, Bus. & Econ. Dev.; Donna Behrend, Spilyay Tymoo; Joe & Dallas, Tribal Printshop; Madeline Queahpama, Vital Statistics and all the family and friends of WSCP employees.

I would like to give a special thank you to our secretary, Monica for her extensive help preparing the presentation material. Monica did an outstanding job of orchestrating, organizing and communicating the WSCP education program with other tribal departments. An extended thanks to Susan Moody and other Tribal members who dedicated their time and energy to promote our company.

I have stated many times leading up to the WSCP referendum on May 17, this company has enormous potential. My beliefs and feelings have not changed. The manufacturing of an environmentally safe and world class product, and most importantly, the creation of family wage jobs for Tribal Members/ MIT's.

Terry Turner, Phil Rodda, George Cornwall, Frank Smith and myself will do our absolute best to keep the momentum going. We have a special hard-working crew at WSCP. Their work and commitment will enhance our capabilities and chances to become a successful, world class manufacturing facility.

On behalf of the WSCP employees, thank you Tribal Members for your overwhelming support of Warm Springs Composite Products.

Sincerely,
Tony Stacona
Manufacturing Supt.

We're proud of you

To the editor,

Tony Stacona, we would like for you to know that we are very proud of all the accomplishments you have successfully completed: graduating from Madras Senior High School, Lewis & Clark College Durango, Colorado (4 years).

We would especially like you to know that we're glad the Tectonite (D.E.) Project that you have aspiringly worked exceptionally hard on (Public Relations) to have referendum brought to tribal voters, was passed on May 17, 1994.

It's people like you, we need more of who's first thoughts are of the people and not just yourself. Keep up the good work and again CONGRATULATIONS on all of the accomplishments you have completed.

Love,
