Surplus medical equipment disbursed to health facilities

The IHS is working in partnership with the Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Reserve Affairs, The U.S. Air Force Reserve (USAFR), and the U.S. Army Reserve (USAR) to complete the transfer of $6 million in surplus DOD medical equipment to IHS, tribal, and urban health facilities at 126 locations throughout the United States. The transfer will take place during August and September 1995.

Project TRANSAM is a congressionally directed operation that was established in 1994 in accord with the DOD's Civil-Military Cooperative Action Program (CMCAP).

CMCAP was initially authorized by Congress in 1993 as a means of enhancing military readiness for the reserves, while helping to address important domestic needs at the same time. Transfers of this type have been made possible due to DOD downsizing efforts and the increasing availability of surplus materials resulting from base closures both at home and abroad.

Responding to the announcement that the surplus medical equipment is now being disbursed throughout the IHS medical system, Dr. Philip R. Lee, Assistant Secretary for Health, Department of Health and Human Services, said, "It's all about partnerships to better serve American Indians and Alaska Natives. As we continue to operate in an environment of downsizing and streamlining, increasingly we are being asked to do more with less and to come up with innovative ways of accomplishing our objectives. The TRANSAM project is a perfect example of what can be creatively achieved when federal departments and agencies cooperate with each other in the spirit of teamwork. The success of operations like this one could have a tremendous impact on the way we do business in the future."

"Under our current budget, we estimate that only 70% of the health care needs of federally recognized American Indians and Alaska Natives are being met. Given that reality, it is absolutely necessary that we search for alternative methods to fill the gap. Cooperation and resource sharing among federal departments and agencies is one of those methods," said Dr. Michael H. Trujillo, Director, IHS. "The TRANSAM project by itself doesn't come close to meeting the outstanding need, but it certainly represents a step in the right direction," he added. Dr. Trujillo noted that the TRANSAM project for FY'95 will serve as a prototype for future missions. The potential for TRANSAM '96 is cargo with an estimated value of between $40-$60 million. Future programs would be predicated on congressional funding.

The TRANSAM '95 project was authorized by Congress under section 8032 of Public Law 103-335, the National Defense Authorization Act for FY'95. Under the 8032 provision, Congress ordered the transportation of $6 million in surplus medical equipment from U.S. military installations in the U.K. and Denmark to IHS medical facilities in the United States. TRANSAM has been strongly supported on both sides of the aisle in Congress. Its primary supporters on the Senate Indian Affairs Committee are Senators Daniel K. Inouye (D-Hawaii) and Ted Stevens (R-Alaska). "I am certain that the leaders of Indian country join me in expressing our gratitude and pleasure that the federal government has decided to make a portion of the excess military medical equipment available to communities in Indian country where the need for such equipment is so critical," said Senator Inouye.

The last of the $6 million in medical material committed for FY'95 was transported in July from Denmark and the U.K. to the General Services Administration (GSA) storage warehouse in Fort Worth. USAFR personnel and aircraft are currently moving the supplies from the GSA warehouse to centralized consolidation and redistribution locations throughout the United States. The USAR will then use interstate and local truck transportation to move the material from the redistribution sites to IHS, tribal, and urban health facilities nationwide. Some of the material will be transported directly from Fort Worth by USAR ground transportation. The final stage of the transfer will take place during late August and early September 1995.

For further information, requests for interviews, and coordination of on-site media coverage, please contact Mr. Kenneth Bricker, Public Affairs Specialist, IHS, at the IHS Alaska Area Office on 907-257-1177, FAX 257-1897. Team thanks sponsors for help

To the editor,
This letter is on behalf of the "Sweethearts Of The Road-oo," Portland to Coast, Women's relay team. We would like to thank Warm Springs Forest Products, Brunoe Logging and Earl and Rita Squiempfen for their assistance in our time of need! Unfortunately, we were never able to get our fundraising going and these sponsors helped our team out. THANK YOU SPONSORS! We couldn't have done it without you!

The Portland to Coast was held the week-end of August 25th & 26th. Our women's team participated in this annual event and although we didn't break any records, we did finish in 22 hours and 45 minutes. That was pretty good, considering everything we went through. We were short 2 runners, we had 2 people cramping up after the 2nd leg (big long hills). A great big hand to Mary, Hedy and Deborah for running the extra legs!

Our roster consisted of Monica Sampson, Roselyn Scott, Marissa Kalama, Deborah Clark, Katherine Kama-U, Maria Jaramillo, Irene Holland, Hedy Engel, Mary Stennfeld, Belinda (from NARA, never did get her last name), and Val. We would especially like to thank Marissa, Roselyn and Belinda for saving our skin at the last minute. We were short 3 runners and all 3 agreed, the night before, to run with us. Thank you ladies! Marissa and Roselyn did an excellent job; Marissa is only 16 years old and Roselyn is only 15 years old! Great job, girls!! We were all sorry that Lyda couldn't run.

Thank you; to those people who were helping us look for runners the last minute, too. I know Monica was getting pretty frustrated, but she came through for us! Nancy Seyler and Gladys put me on the right track when we got Marissa and Roselyn.

We would like to congratulate the other teams that entered in the annual event. Indian Road kill (Thurman Squiempfen, Captain), R.E.Z. EQUIPMENT, (Terry Squiempfen, Captain), and Twelve Tired Indians, (Satch Miller, Captain).

Of course a team can't get around without a van. A big thank you to Earl and Rita Squiempfen for the use of their van and to Mark and Mary Stennfeld for the use of their's. We would like to thank Gladys Squiempfen for the added bonus! She bought our team some T-Shirts, (nice looking, too). We really appreciate her thinking of us.

A big Thank You to Tray Leonard for the use of the Cellular phone, it sure came in handy out there. We almost always knew where our other van was and when there were problems. Thanks Tray. Its always nice when the runners have the cooperation of family when they are in their training mode. So Thank You, to all the family members for putting up with everyone during this time!

On behalf of the Sweethearts Of The Road-oo, I would like to thank everyone that helped. There are always those in the back ground that give us a pat on the back or give us words of encouragement during this period. All these people are the reason we can continue to do what we do. Thank You Everyone, For Your Support!
