

E Coosh EEWA: The way it is

SPILYAY SPEAKS

Let's see, what was I doing about 20 to 25 years ago? HMMM! I can't rightly recollect!! Yep! can't seem to put my finger on any particular event or thing that long ago. I guess nothing really exciting happened to me in them day's. The Missus said I should have kept diaries of events of all that took place.

The only thing of great interest in them days was that the Vietnam war was over and I can't remember what female or females I was harassing at that time. (GULP!)

So to me something looks real suspicious and fishy in the Bob Packwood case. Mainly since the last election where there was a fairly close out come. Looks like someone has put out a bunch of money to stir up this harassment deal on Packwood, mainly because he won the election the last time around. Why so much hush, hush! in all the details of the whole thing. Why didn't the ethics Committee give Packwood a chance to face his accusers face to face in public hearings? Could it be other Senators would have been exposed to certain action on their part to things that Packwood had to face.

The law say's that a person is innocent until proven guilty, but the way the Packwood case went he was threatened so to speak to resign, and was not proven guilty in any means. Everything is just here-say, as far as the whole situation goes. The Ethics committee made the point that if he didn't resign he would lose all his benefits he rightly deserves.

Yep! Why did it take all those women all these years for them to come forward and make these accusations on Bob, I'll bet their bank accounts have soared a bunch since these accusations have emerged. Some say Packwood was drunk when some of these things happened. Too look at the photos of some of the women he is accused of, "Man he really must have been drunk." Or perhaps these things happened so long ago and now these women need attention from someone they had to do this for their glory. Like they say at the "Dirty Moe," at closing time anyone looks like a real beauty."

It's a shame for a person who has devoted his time, energy and ability for the past 27 years to have to exit in this manner. Packwood done a great job while he was in office. A wizard in financial matters, and made some real contributions in the Tax matters that helped everyone across the nation.

Yep! He was unjustly kicked in the pants and all those old women will get the benefit out of this. When Bob Packwood made the statement he would resign, people like Vultures were applying for his job: Yep! A good man down the drain...

Vandalism hurts more than the homeowners

To the editor;

Just when we thought things were getting better in this world then incidents remind us of the anger, hurtful people that live around us. Our family works hard for everything we've got. At times seven days a week, 12-15 hours a day. Its bad enough that there are times the weather plays a big part in the construction of building houses but for ignorant, vindictive people to come into another person's house and deliberately vandalize the hard work that was completed is totally cowardice.

To you people that get a thrill out of destruction, think about what you're doing to everyone involved. Did you do this against the homeowner? If so, then realize this, the work that has to be redone is probably going to be out of the contractor's pocket, which is food out of our 3 children's mouths and bills that will have to be skipped for this month. Is it against our family? If so, then you've hurt the homeowner and delayed their moving into their new home. One day this might happen to someone close to you (if not yourself) and you'll feel the hurt, anger, frustrations and the rest of the feelings with it.

No word for "good-bye"

To the people of the Warm Springs Community:

I have been taught there is no word in "Indian language" for good-bye. For nearly five years I have been "blessed" to work with the people of Warm Springs. The experience of knowing all of you who have touched my life has enriched it so much more. I have grown and expanded along with the vision of the tribes and have appreciated the changes that have occurred with the move from the old clinic to the new Health and Wellness Center.

Although I have lived in Government Camp, I have always felt very much a part of Warm Springs community. As I anticipate graduate school in Seattle, WA, I feel my connection here even more. As I pursue practice as a Family Nurse Practitioner, I hope to continue to contribute to the health promotion and prevention of illness in Native communities. I will hold a very special place in my heart for the feeling of "family" that I have had while working with all my coworkers throughout the Health and Wellness Center.

God Bless each and every one of you,

In Grace,
Christine Burnell, RN

The Old Testament as perceived in 1990s talk

To the editor,

Hello from Pastor Rick, The Prophets of the Old Testament had a hard time. Their job was a "reality check" for the people of Israel. They came to the people and said things that the people did not want to hear. Now, use your mind and think what the response of the people was to being showed their faults before God. Ya, not good. . . Jonah was one of the few prophets that the people listened and agreed with his words. They not only agreed but they made changes to improve their place before the Lord. Well,

Thank you Mom

To the editor,

When I found out I had a bad heart you stayed by my side right from the start. It took me a while to accept but you put on a smile and said "It'd be, no sweat. Do as I say and be thankful each day. The doctors are good, my daughter," you said. "So don't be scared, hold up your head."

So I went ahead and did what you said woke up one day in a hospital bed. The pain in my side it hurt me inside. It felt like the worst but you there like a nurse. Who helped me recover what a wonderful mother.

Love always, Jessie M. Polk

Support of annual picnic appreciated

Seniors Picnic, August 24

Thank you to all the Seniors who went to our Warm Springs Seniors annual picnic at the Cove State Park. We received many positive comments about this years picnic. Hopefully, everyone had an enjoyable day. . . And, what's this we've heard about some of our women screaming their heads off when they were riding on Nancy Collins' speed boat? Right at the start in the morning, one of the patio boats that Emerson's crew was piloting sprung a leak and was cruising kinda lop-sided, but no one panicked, and everyone abandoned ship okay without getting wet. . . Also, the boat Wilson took out in the afternoon was stalling on him and his sailors way out in the middle of the huge lake, but he did a good job keeping everything under control, and slowly but surely, they made it back into port okay. . . Where was our cheerful Navy lady, Louise Jackson?

Thank you Danny Martinez, Russell & Sabrina, EMT's from Fire & Safety; Marci Clements, Linda Knight & Judy Charley from Health Promotions; Diane Shaffer & her clients from the Mountain View Nursing Home; Nancy Collins and her husband for bringing their speed boat and all of their help; Lester Poitra with his boat from Natural Resources; Emerson Squiempfen and his crew from the Work Experience Program; Elliot Lawson and Bryan Renfo, Summer Youth Workers; Gayle Rodgers from Social Services; Spilyay Tymoo; the Palisades Cove Marina for the boat rentals, and everyone else who helped with making the picnic a success.

four thousand years later and people are still human. . . To say to someone of your concern or to share an observation of their life is to be "speaking bad of someone," or "a put down," or "getting nosy." The same Old Testament responses of the people to the prophets in 1990s' talk.

Well, what to do? The prophets prayed for the words to speak in such a way as for the people to hear. The prophets' words had choices in their messages. Continue and suffer your life now and tomorrow; change and be loved by God. When you know you need to say to someone words that will not be accepted don't stop until you give the whole message. The words of your concern and observations; your words of choice and love. You see to be a prophet you must have both parts of the message. So, for one and all, including myself, think before you speak, end with words of choice and love.

See you in church.

Full Service Sunday School 10:00 a.m., Worship at 11:00 a.m. at the Warm Springs Presbyterian Church - on the campus.

Patt featured on K-VAL news

To the editor,

Hello, I do love to write as much as I can and I wanted to write about the low-income facility I now stay in, in the duck city, Eugene.

This facility is called the Uhlhorn Apartments, it is for brain-damaged folks only.

Today I'm writing this, is on Sunday the 3rd of September and a few of us who are brain-damaged and stay in the Uhlhorn Apartments were on TV, the K-VAL news.

It was very interesting, another head-injured female who stays in the Uhlhorn facility has helped her a lot, like taking care of herself in her own apartment, paying her own bills, fixing her own everyday meals, even keeping her own apartment clean with the kind of brain-damage she is unfortunate to have.

I feel that all of us who are very unfortunate to have our certain kind of brain damage are very fortunate to have our own apartment in the Uhlhorn facility.

All of us who are very fortunate to stay in the Uhlhorn apartments are brain-damaged, but our brain damage is different from one another. We're all unique and know that our very good Lord up above had to and must have a very special purpose for us here on earth.

We all should just wait for his time, his ways, "One day at a time." Gracias (thank you).
