Flood causes road damage

Damage to the BLM roads and recreation sites on the Lower Deschutes is estimated at about one million dollars. The amount of repairs and the speed at which they take place will depend on how much and when flood relief money becomes available.

Flooding on the Lower Deschutes earlier this month caused extensive damage to campgrounds and access roads along the river. The Bureau of Land Management in Prineville announced that for safety reasons, all campgrounds are closed until further notice. Toilet vaults have been flooded and can not be pumped until the ground is thoroughly dry. Additionally, a locked gate has been placed on the 17-mile gravel road from Buckhollow to Macks Canyon closing it until further notice. "Ongoing slides and severe erosion have made this stretch of road very hazardous", says Jim Kenna, Area Manager for the BLM. "We will do everything we can to get at least the most heavily used sites, back on line and functional", adds Kenna.

The river access road sections above Maupin and between Maupin and Sherars Falls have also been damaged. Because of this damage, the BLM advises people to not use the road unless absolutely necessary.

For further information on closures, please call the Prineville BLM at (541)416-6700. In addition, the BLM may be looking at several volunteer clean-up projects along the river. Anyone interested in helping out should let the BLM know. "We appreciate our customers patience and help as we begin digging out" says Kenna.

Tribal member expresses concerns

never change, that they get jealous at one another for their achievements. Jim, I hate to say you were right.

My other concern was, again, of the many deaths we are having, which creates financial embarrassment for people who still believe in the Indian ways. I have cooked for the funerals of DeWayne "Packy" Heath and Louise DelRosa, I want to commend those families for being there for each other, physically & financially. I have a lot of people trusting me with their problems, even if it is confidential. It seems that the Tribal Credit examiners are controlling and setting limits to family members. I really question their limits to investigate a family's relationship when a family member dies. I think they don't have enough information to say, "She was only your cousin, aunt, step-mother, uncle or however you are related." When my cousin lost his wife we were hurt when his children were told, "She was just your step-mother, we're not giving you nothing!" Hey, she's the only mother we knew, we lost our mother when we were toddlers, we don't even remember her." Another instance was when my nieces lost their aunt from out of state. Two persons applied for an emergency loan and after missing out on the dressing services were told, "You are denied your loan, because she is not your immediate family." Hey, again, she was my father's full sister. How much closer can we be? Or have to be? If I am delinquent and need an emergency funeral loan, please let me know immediately if I'm not going to receive anything. It's me who has to repay it. All I ask is don't question my relationship if you don't know and further hurt my feelings or any applicants when they are already suffering their loss.

Sparky seeks donations for fire/flood victims

Hi everyone from Sparky. This column will be dedicated to letting you know what's new and exciting at Fire & Safety.

The fire medics have been busy this month with structure fires. Remember everyone, if you have a fire, even a small one, please call 911. If you got the fire out, it's still a good idea to notify the fire department so they can come out and make sure your house is safe. If you see any suspicious behavior around unoccupied structures please let the police department know.

I am taking donations for Sparky's closet. Any items such as clothing, bedding, towels, dishes, furniture, etc. will be put in the "closet" for victims of a fire. People that have experienced a fire can come to Sparky's closet and take what they need. You may drop off any items at Fire & Safety. Please contact Suzi Macy at 553-1634 if you have any unwanted items you would like to donate.

If there are any folks out there that would like to be a volunteer for fire & safety, please call 553-1634. We need individuals who would like to devote some time to the community.

It's a job that is both exciting and rewarding. We have had several new applicants but we can always use more. If you would like to help those in need, give a try!!!

Now that the floods are over, I would like to give everyone a big heartfelt thanks, that helped with the crisis of Mother Nature AKA the flood of '96. On behalf of all the folks at Fire & Safety and all of Sparky's friends...Thank you, thank you, thank you!! Until next month, stay safe!!!!

Apology given

I, Alvagene Charlie, an enrolled member of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs Rez, am deeply saddened for what I put my people and friends while being out of it. My DUI and the time I sat in the Hoosk-kow made me realize I could have injured pedestrians, West Hills finest mutts and/or parked vehicles by my unjudgemental, blacked-out behavior. I'm so-so sorry! (Thslo-Thslo Thslorry!)
