Dam negotiations—continued from page 1

what period of time?" he asked. "And will it be a joint license for the entire project?"

PGE officials are hopeful that an agreement can be reached. "However," said John Esler, a PGE governmental affairs specialist told the Bulletin, "our position is that the Tribes are partners in electricity generation at the re-regulating dam, but we don't believe they have a case to be called the license holder for the entire complex."

FERC will accept comments about the project until April 26 and is expected to make a decision later this year on what standing PGE and the Tribe will have in a relicensing application.

Officer Training:

Officers of the WSPD recently attended and completed three days of training at Kah-Nee-Ta Resort March 26, 27 and 28.

Two days of training were spent on improving skills in the administration of Standardized Field Sobriety Tests in drunk driving investigations.

The third day of training was spent in Drug Recognition by drivers who might be operating a motor vehicle impaired.

All officers who completed the training were certified through the Board on Public Safety Standards and Training.

With this training, officers are now able to recognize when a person might be driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

McGruff Speaks:

In looking out for our community over the past few weeks, various community members have brought to our attention continued concern for children who are not restrained while riding in a vehicle.

Since our last article, small infants and toddlers have been noticed bouncing around in pickups, cars and vans.

Even more dangerous are those small children who are subjected to being held in the arms of the operator while driving to their destination in and around the reservation.

Grrr...how many of us, after we cross the bridge traveling off the reservation, buckle ourselves or our children up for fear that we face getting ticketed by the outside authorities?

We certainly don't need another state law adopted to tribal law to influence our CHOICE to safeguard our loved ones. Pleezee...do your part and BUCKLE UP!

Library survey inconclusive

Attendance was minimal at a March 26 public meeting held by the Warm Springs Johnson O'Malley Committee on library survey results. Seven people showed up at the Warm Springs Community Center social hall, including committee members, to hear analysis of the results.

Out of 300 surveys sent out on the question of having a Warm Springs library, only 56 were received back. Survey results were considered inconclusive to tell what the community's direction was on having such a facility on the reservation. Such results are referred to as an "accidental sample", rather than a random sample and can end up presenting a skewed view of the true situation.

The top five Library Resources and Services ratings for highest interest included: 1) 49 responses for the importance of a library as a resource for children; 2) 45 responses for books, materials and computers to help students and community members conduct research; 3) 44 responses for a collection of Warm Springs Tribal cultural information and local history resources.

4) There was a tie of 43 responses for a) community access to computers for school and personal use and; b) importance of a library as a resource for adults; 5) There was a tie of 40 responses for a) classes on computer skills and telecommunications and; b) satellite connection to provide interactive educational programs.

Once again, the survey results on the Warm Springs library were considered to be inconclusive because of the low number of surveys returned to the Johnson O'Malley committee.

If I Had My Child to Raise Over Again

If I had my child to raise over again, I'd finger paint more, and point the finger less. I'd do less correcting, and more connecting. I'd take my eyes off my watch, and watch with my eyes. I would care to know less, and know to care more. I'd take more hikes and fly more kites. I'd stop playing serious, and seriously play. I'd run through more fields, and gaze at more stars. I'd do more hugging, and less tugging. I would be firm less often, and affirm much more. I'd build self-esteem first, and the house later. I'd teach less about the love of power, And more about the power of love.
