

E Coosh EEWA: The way it is

SPILYAY SPEAKS

One of the hot issues today is the O. J. Simpson civil trial with all the bickering going on between the two sides. The verdict was finally decided upon and there were shouts of joy among the relatives of Nicole Brown Simpson and Ronald Goldman when the jury ordered O. J. to pay $8.5 million in compensatory damages.

It was said that the e$8.5 million represented the cost of Goldman's funeral. Nicole Brown Simpson's family did not seek compensatory damages. A bid for a miss trial failed by O.J.'s lawyers and the prosecutors are looking at nailing him for another $8.5 million. Just like all the soap stories on TV, during lunch time each day of the week, "Huh?"

Well, which ever way you look at it, the money is always in question, and as they say, "You can;t take it with you when you die." So you might as bleed him while you can.

Now for the minor side of all the problems like, let's see...how about the Presidents address to the Union. Yep! Ole Clinton said Education was the top priority in the country today. All children need the best education a person can get. Today there are students out there that can't compete with other because of the lack of funds. Many are top quality students who never have a fair shot at life because they lack backing when it comes time for them getting an education.

Balancing the budget, at times it looks like it's just a finger tip away but when the whole ball of wax pops out we are in a bad way. It will take some careful planning and work to ever get the budget balanced.

When the budget comes out each year and all the programs get their share of the pie, the Native Americans seem to always be on the short end of the stick. When they wring things dry and if there is a little drop left that's what the Native Americans get. We need all kinds of help but we never get any at all. Our natural resources need caring for, like our forests, waterways, and range lands. We need to restore our fish runs in all the streams. But we don't want to see slogans like "Spear and Indian and save the fish!" We've already been shot in the back as it is. All the broken promises, broken words in the past. We must always be alert of someone trying to break out treaty rights, trying to do away with our treaties we have with the U. S. Government. The state is always trying to rule and make all the decisions that should be taken care of here. We must always be ready to defend what rights we have and protect our treaty rights. Never make deals with the state officials. If we do we are jeprodizing our own treaty rights. Take some gaming establishments who have agreed to give up part of their revenue for special privileges to expand their gaming activities.

Well, they have nothing to lose because they gave their rights up a long time ago during the days of termination and relocation. Somewhere back in the 50's. We are in a different situation, we have a land base and our natural resources to protect. Once things get out of hand there will be no stopping until we lose everything. So we should be careful when dealing with the state officials.S

The Judge removed his glasses, leaned toward the witness and said, "Do you understand that you are swearing to tell the truth?" "Yes Sir."

Judge: "And do you know what will happen if you don't tell the truth?"

"Yes Sir." replied the witness, " Our side will win the case." YIKES

Judge: I'm going to let you off with a fine this time, but another day I'll send you to jail.

Driver: Sort of a weather forecast, eh, Your Honor?

Judge: What do you mean?

Driver: Fine today...cooler tomorrow. YIKES

John: Your honor, I don't think I can serve on the jury, One look at that man there convinces me he's guilty.

Judge: Quiet! That's the District Attorney! YIKES

Thanks for your concern

To the editor,
Hello friends and concerned, this is just to let you know the rumors of my son Cliff O. Pamperien were all untrue. He is not even home. He did not shoot himself and end up at St. Charles. But thanks just the same for all your concerns. You can write to him and wish him the best and give him a lot of encouragement at:

Thankful for help & support

To the editor,
This letter is for all that have been with us throughout this past year. We want to say thank you to all that helped us to survive by your words of encouragement, prayers, visits, donated food, wood to heat our home, vehicle repairs, etc...We appreciate it all. There were times that our home life fell in the wrong road for awhile. Those of you who stood by us and understood. We thank you for being there.
Uncle Leroy thanks for everything you've done. All other aunts & uncles, thanks also for everything as everything meant alot to us.
Eunice, you were there but we know that times were hard for you to accept. We love & respect you very much.
For all the families and friends that donated time, stock, money, belt buckles for the Memorial Wild Horse Race Challenge in Sept. Thanks a million. It was a great day. To both

To the editor,
WHAT IF: 1) Our leadership went to work from 8-5 to show example 2) The carry-over monies, which are about 1 million $ were directed toward the people for example, community swimming pool, movie house, library, dance hall, skating rink, culture center to skin deer, cut fish, dry meat, etc. etc. 3) A person from our community was picked to visit our schools once a week 4) People who have community service were sentenced to clean up our community with our help 5) We had NO alcohol or drugs in our community 6) Our own people were to make a sign "Welcome to Warm Springs" in Indian language.

Youth need love, to trust in God for life

To the editor,
Hello from Pastor Rick. I read a great article about where are our youth???

OBSERVATION OF OUR YOUTH...

This generation's pulse runs fast. Change is constant; focus is fragmented. They've eaten from the tree of knowledge. They live for now. Been there/Done that attitude... They take consumerism for granted... They process information in narrative images... Their "Bull" detector are always on... They've had everything handed to them... They don't trust adults... WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT THEMSELVES. We are oblivious. We don't do anything; we don't have any great achievements. No one's thinking for themselves anymore. We're just coasting. We're not standing for anything. We feel like everything is changing and we have nothing to do with it, so we sit back and let it happen. So what do you do with someone who is not connected and is vibrating at a higher lever??? You love them...you give them a hug and love them. You say don't trust my words or my life but trust in a God and the word of God for the life he has for you...Much has been done for our youth and still more is needed, but the fruit of life will come from love... See you in church.

the dancers, and all the testimonies given, grave diggers, we would also like to thank all those who traveled a long distance to be with the family and friends.

Once again our deepest appreciation had not been overlooked or forgotten, just overdue. It had been hard to put something together, our grief is still heavy but prayer and time, it will lighten.

The Marie Tom Family, Lizzie, Corbett, Merlin, Amanda, Eldon, Remo, Lance, & my grandchildren Leland & Tasheena

Interested in a reunion?

To the editor,
My dear people, I am sending this letter out to see how many people are interested in having a reunion of people who once resided in Greenville. So far I am thinking picnic of course. And am thinking about asking if people would want to bring pictures of the good ole days. I would be open to people who are interested. Or have more ideas to let me know. My mailing address is:
