WEC offers conservation incentives

Wasco Electric Cooperative would like to report to its members on the conservation activities for 1996 as well as encourage each and all members to participate in which ever programs that may be applicable to their needs.

Heat Pump Program
 The most energy-efficient, comfortable, clean and convenient way to heat and cool your home now includes a WEC rebate for qualifying units. WEC offers a $500 rebate for the installation of an air-to-air heat pump and a $1,000 rebate for the installation of a geothermal heat pump.

Water Heater Rebate
 A water heater is not normally something you consider replacing until it goes bad. However, when your water heater does fail, you could receive a $100 rebate from WEC with the purchase of a qualifying heater. Water heaters with an energy factor (EF) of .93 or greater will qualify for the rebate. WEC has a list of suppliers that carry qualifying heaters.

Home Weatherization
 We continue to offer free home weatherization audits for those of you who are looking for ways to reduce your energy consumption and increase the comfort of your home. Call the office to schedule an audit of your home and discuss the available rebates.

Commercial Lighting Program
 We offer a program aimed at reducing the lighting consumption within the small commercial businesses we serve. The rebates for this program are based on the calculated energy savings.

Irrigation Pump Testing
 This program is aimed at reducing the energy consumption and required kw demand for our irrigators. Again, the rebates will be determined based on the calculated energy savings.

Please call the Cooperative at 296-5051 or 1-800-341-8580 if you have any questions about any of these programs.

Firearm safety

The National Kid Safe Campaign reports that about 90 percent of all unintentional shootings involving children are linked to an easily accessible, loaded handgun in the home. But more than half of America's families keep firearms in their homes. Injuries and deaths from firearms are escalating at an alarming rate in the United States. In 1990, several states reported that firearm-related injuries surpassed motor vehicle accidents as the leading cause of death.

- Parents who do choose to keep firearms should keep these safety tips in mind:
- Children should never be allowed to touch guns, not even in the presence of a supervising adult.
 - Tell your children never to touch a gun no matter who gives them permission.
 - Keep guns unloaded at all times. Never leave even a single bullet in the gun's chamber.
 - Keep the gun's safety on. This goes even for times when the gun is unloaded.
 - Treat all guns and other firearms as if they are loaded.
 - All firearms should be kept out of children's reach and should be stored in a locked cupboard, closet or drawer.
 - Store ammunition in a separate place. This should also be locked at all times.
 - No firearms should be kept in a household where there is a family history of depression or suicidal behavior.
 - All gun owners and their children should take a gun safety course.
 - Teach gun safety at home.

The Indian Warrior (Veterans Corner)

The Indian Veterans groups across the country are all usually shortchanged. It appears that most instances is because of being on a reservation, the Indian veterans are always overlooked.

The Northwest Indian Veterans Association (NIVA), based in the Portland-Vancouver, area tries the best they can to help the Indian Veterans around the area. The NIVA staff consists of volunteer workers to get news out to Indian Veterans. Donnie Parker (Apache-Cherokee) has been working in the office while in the VA center domiciliary in Vancouver.

Jack Quincy, Minnesota Chippewa, and Richard (Dick) French, Yakima, each volunteer a day per week. Jack is there on Tuesdays from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. French is there on Thursdays from 9:00 a.m. to 2:30-3:00 p.m. They can be reached at 1-800-949-1004, Ext. 3413 or 360-696-4061 Ext. 3413.

The American Indian Veterans owe thanks to the Portland VA medical Center Director and its volunteer services staff for their help and information to the "Forgotten Warriors," the American Indian Veterans.

There is an urgent call to all veterans to come to the meeting being held March 6, 1997, at the PHS Center. If you have any questions, problems that need answers here would be the place to get the information you need. If its GI housing loans, medical problems or just about anything you may need you may get the answers here. Please attend.
