

Warm Springs Fish and Game officer stationed at Bear Springs

Even though Bear Springs has been part of the reservation for many years, the U.S Forest service has always had control of it. The Oregon Department of Transportation has also occupied the area for office space and to store road maintenance equipment. Slowly, but surely, the Confederated Tribes Of Warm Springs is getting Bear Springs back to be part of the reservation again.

Warm Springs Police has taken the opportunity of acting on the situation and have taken steps by placing a resident patrol position at Bear Springs. "We want to put a face in the area so that everyone (hunters, woodcutters, tourist, residents) will get familiar with the officer," says Chief Of Police Dan Kneale. "The officer we stationed at Bear Springs is officer Greg Stinson," says Kneale. "He's been with the Warm Springs Police Department for over two years." Officer Stinson is presently residing at Bear Springs and has been for the past two weeks.

Stinson will have the responsibility of patrolling the Northwest portion of the reservation including Sidwalter area, road 216, Highway 26 and reservation boundaries. This project has already started and should be completed two weeks after the Pi-Ume-Sha celebration. "All we have to do now is make sure that he is equipped with the necessary equipment to get the job done right. We have also applied for a $60,000 federal grant that will be used to add a rescue unit, medical unit, and a public safety sub-station for the Bear Springs area. "We are very excited and feel positive about the whole thing," says Kneale. It's something that has been needed for a long time. If everything goes well with the Bear Springs project, we hope to place another sub-station in the Seekseequa area.

"We want to be able and serve the community of Warm Springs as promptly and professionally as possible and still serve our guests on the highway as well," concludes Police Chief Kneale.

The youth barbeque was held on June 11 from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. At Elmer Quinn Park. The Work Experience Development Dept. put on the barbeque.

Warm Springs Elementary news & tidbits

by Helena Jackson, Community Liaison

Another school year has come and gone, it doesn't seem appropriate to end the year without thanking everyone that helped make this year complete.

A BIG thank you to those community volunteer readers who assisted with the second year of SMART (Start Making A Reader Today). Without your assistance the SMART program would not be possible. I would like to encourage other community members to participate in SMART this upcoming fall. This program is conducted on Tuesdays and Thursdays, if you can spare at least 1/2 hour on either day to read to a kindergarten, First or Second grader, it is a good way to generate interest in reading and also to make a new special friend. The more readers we have in the program, the more children can participate.

You may have heard your child talking about mini-classes at school. This was fun for everyone who participated, the staff members conducted 1 hour classes and every student at WSE was allowed to select from a list (we have some very talented people here at the grade school). This year we had 2 sessions and each student participated in two different classes. We had classes such as stamp art, juggling, balloon shapes, snacks, Spanish, cross stitching, computers, etc. It was so fun after it was over some of the kids kept asking "when do we have mini-classes again?"

I would like to thank those parents & community members who took the time out of their busy day to attend an awards assembly, chaperon a field trip, attend a Christmas/spring program, called in to inform the school of absences, stopped in to pay lunch money, baked goodies for school parties/activities.

If your child had the honor of attending a Rose Garden Event, please take the time to perhaps send a thank you note to Tribal Council. This is a good incentive for our students to be rewarded with, it lets them know their accomplishments are important and noticed.

I would like to encourage community members to participate in the community "Education Summits", especially if you have concerns at the grade school, middle school or high school. With more community involvement we can send a message to our children that "Education Is Important" and that we care.

I would like to thank JoDe Goudy for his farewell message to our fourth graders at the "Farewell Assembly", it was touching. Also thank you to our Johnson O'Malley Committee for the financial assistance to purchase WSE logo t-shirts for our outgoing 4th graders, I know they treasure their gifts.

The following are to be thanked for their generosity in donating to all our activities here at the grade school. Whenever we had an activity here at the Grade School. Whenever we had an activity these businesses & departments could be counted on to assist us....THANKS!

I would like to thank my husband, Dane and my son Dino for their love and support.

In closing, I would like to give a big thank you to the staff & students at WSE. Have a great summer and I look forward to everyone's return this fall. To our outgoing 4th Graders, do your best and good luck as you move on to the Middle School.

Success to All Young Nations In UNITY Youth Revival

From June 8 to June 15 an All Young Nations In UNITY Youth Revival was held behind the Community Center where special guests made their appearance. The attendance was more than expected. People young and old came to the Full Gospel Revival tent to give testimony and to share the word of the Lord. It was such a surprise to see so many young people attend and participate. The participants were served breakfast, lunch, dinner, and even a midnight snack. The cooking was done by Warm Springs jail inmates that took time to cook because there was no one that wanted to volunteer to cook. Most of the youth stayed in a tent or teepee by the Revival tent. Four of the Native Gospel Posse (NGP) rapped in freestyle.

The best testimony I heard was from a gentlemen who came from Montana. He gave a positive and encouraging testimony and he made it especially interesting by having a lot of motion during his testimony. He said "he was an Angel" and showed his wings by holding his ears toward the front as his wings.

Most of the youth got saved. They had to move chairs out of the way so more people could come up and be saved. The Freedom Team did some exhibition shows of breaking bricks and skits while they were here.

Most of the teenage youth put their tapes, CD's, and gang related items in a pile on the ground while the very youngest group of youth went up and jumped on the pile to break them up. After everything was done that night they put all the broken items in the grill to make a bon fire out of it. Some of the daily activities was to go swimming at Kah-Nee-Ta, playing softball, and open gym.

The singing part of the Youth Revival seemed like it was the most active out of everything that went on at the Revival because everyone got involved and most of everyone probably knew the songs or they got to know them real fast. Many were baptized on Saturday afternoon. After most of the youth got baptized they decided to go swimming for awhile. Billy Jo and Wanda Berry did an excellent job of organizing the youth revival. It took a long time for them to fundraise for the event, invite all the groups, and to make sure each group had a place to stay, and to make daily plans for what they were going to do and the food order.

Nightly bonfire burned items brought to the altar. They contained all that was evil to newly saved youth. Gang colors, CD's, cassettes, cigarettes, etc.

Many youth participants of the Revival were happy to get front row seating.

All that was thought to be evil was piled at the altar for burning.
