

Warrior Memorial Up-Date

The all Warrior Memorial is still in progress and things are looking up at this point. Even though things seem to be at a standstill there is progress being made.

One thing we do need to do is meet with the Land Use Committee to get everything all squared away and have them set up a general public meeting so as we can present this to the general membership. Hopefully that will be soon. We have set up two meetings in the past and they were canceled because no one showed up. What happened was the Veterans were sitting in one building waiting for the Land Use Committee to show up, in the meantime the Land Use Committee was in another building waiting for the Veterans to show up, finally they canceled the meeting.

Another meeting was set up for 11:00 am but they came in at 10:00 am, the Veterans didn't come in until 11:00 am and by that time they canceled the meeting again.

I believe everything is set to go, but we have to take this format on going through the motions meeting with the Land Use Committee and set up the general meeting with the membership. It won't be long once we get everything all set up and finally the construction can begin on our All Warrior Memorial.

This memorial is for everyone who has served in the Armed forces of the US. There are many who have never seen any combat but their names will be right there because the were willing to put their life on the line being in the service.

All the Veterans should feel pride in what they have done for our country as they were ready to fight and protect what we have today.

96.5 FM "More Country" to change format

Starting on January 1, 1998, with the coming of the new year, High Desert Communications announces the addition of a new format to Central Oregon radio air waves they split simulcast of KJK and KTWI, formally known as "More Country Radio" 96.5 of Prineville.

According to station manager Jerry Hicks, "the new format at 96.5 will broadcast, at 100,000 watts of power, Central Oregon's only adult contemporary format."

Artist's like Hootie and the Blowfish, Gin Blossoms, Phil Collins, Rod Stewart, Toni Braxton, Seal, Journey, Tina Turner, Madonna, Elton John and many more will be heard with a real local presentation. It's a format that I think is missing in the radio market of Central Oregon," says Hicks.

This format addition and quality programming is "very exciting to say the least. The marketing power of an 18 to 44-year-old focused hot adult contemporary, combined with the great ratings delivered by More Country-KJK, will even be greater. Here's a one-two punch sure to reach and deliver to radio listeners around Central Oregon, says Hicks.

"We look forward to our new and exciting format and hope our listeners will be just as excited at the opportunity to bring the new format at 96.5 to Central Oregon ears."

Persian Gulf, Agent Orange and Radiation

Registry Programs. Veterans who served in the Persian Gulf War or who claim exposure to Agent Orange or atomic radiation are provided with free, comprehensive medical examinations, including base-line laboratory tests and other diagnostic tests deemed by an examining physician necessary to determine current health status. Results of the examinations, which include preparation of the veteran's military service and exposure history, are entered into special, computerized data bases, called registries. These data bases assist VA in analyzing the types of health conditions being reported by veterans. Registry participants are advised to the results of their examinations in personal consultations. Veterans wishing to participate should contact the nearest VA health-care facility for an examination. VA operates a toll-free at a 1-800-749-8387 to inform Persian Gulf veterans about VA programs, their benefits and the latest information available about Persian Gulf affairs.

Treatment. VA provides medical treatment to any Vietnam-Era veteran who, while serving in Vietnam, may have been exposed to dioxin or to a toxic substance in a herbicide or defoliant used for military purposes, for conditions related to such exposure. Health-care services are available or medical conditions possibly related to any veteran's exposure to ionizing radiation from the detonation of a nuclear device in connection with nuclear tests, or with the American occupation of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan, during the period beginning September 11, 1945, and ending July 1, 1946. VA also provides priority treatment to any Persian Gulf War veteran who may have been exposed to a toxic substance or environmental hazard during the Persian Gulf War, for any disability related to such exposure.

Beneficiary Travel: Veterans are eligible for payment or reimbursement for travel costs to receive VA medical care. Travel payments are subject to a deductible of $3 for each one-way trip and an $18 per month maximum payment. Two exceptions to this rule are travel for compensation or pension examination and travel by special modes of transportation, such as an ambulance or a specially-equipped van. Beneficiary travel payments may be made to the following:

1. Veterans whose service-connected disabilities are rated at 30 percent or more.
2. Veterans who are traveling for treatment of a service-connected condition.
3. Veterans who receive a VA pension.
4. Veterans traveling for compensation or pension examinations.
5. Veterans whose income is less than or equal to the maximum VA pension rate.
6. Veterans whose medical condition requires use of a special mode of transportation, if the veteran is unable to defray the costs and travel is pre-authorized. If the medical condition is a medical emergency, travel need not be pre-authorized when a delay to obtain authorization would be hazardous.

Veterans' Recognition Plate to be Offered

Veterans will soon be able to obtain vehicle license plates which display their veteran status. And they will be helping the Oregon Veterans' Home Trust Fund at the same time.

Because of the successful passage of a requested change to Oregon law, Oregon Department of Veterans' Director Jon Mangis was able to request the creation of a vehicle license plate which recognizes veterans for their service. The purchase price of the plate will include a $5 per plate ($10 per set) fee which will be deposited into the Oregon Veterans' Home Trust Fund.

"We are pleased the legislature worked with us on this issue to ensure that almost any veteran in the state would support the Oregon Veterans' Home," said Mangis. "Many individuals, businesses and organizations have already contributed to the Trust Fund, but this will give other veterans a chance to show their support."

The plate will bear the word VETERAN, and will look similar to the plate shown here.

If the plate is applied for at the regular renewal time, the total cost will be $14.50 plus the $30 registration fee, for a total of $44.50. Subsequent renewals will also carry the $10 per set surcharge which will also go to the Veterans' Home Trust Fund.

If the group plate is requested between renewal periods, the cost will be the total of the replacement transaction fee, the plate manufacturing fee, and the group plate surcharge, for the total of $24.

VETERAN plates may be requested through local Division of Motor Vehicles offices. According to DMV sources, the plates have been ordered from the manufacturing and are expected to be available for purchase by the first of the year.

Howlak Tichum Christopher Courtney Heath, Sr.

Christopher Courtney Heath Sr., age 29 years passed away at the Yakama Indian Reservation due to an automobile accident on December 16, 1997. Heath was born to parents George Reed and Delores Heath on April 19, 1968 in Portland, Oregon. He was raised by grandparents Ellen and Walter Heath Sr. At the time of his passing, he was in the process of relocating to Harrah, Washington from Warm Springs. He lived previously in Bellingham, Washington.

Mr. Heath attend schools in Ft. Apache, Arizona, The Dalles, Oregon and Chemawa Indian School in Salem, Oregon. He was a laborer and an automobile mechanic. He enjoyed traveling to powwows and concerts (music), basketball and watching satellite sports. During his younger years he spent a lot of his years at Shearers Bridge fishing with his family. He was a member of the Longhouse and an enrolled member of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, Oregon.

He was a lifelong resident of Warm Springs and an enrolled member of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs. Switzer attended schools in Warm Springs and Madras, attaining his diploma in 1993. He worked in carpentry/construction for many years and was in the process of starting his own contracting crew. He loved to drum and sing at powwows where he attended all over the United States and Canada. He belonged to the "Eagle Thunder" Drum group and also drummed with "GreyEagle", "Seekaskootch" and "Little Island Cree" of Canada. He loved artwork, drawing, crafts and especially video taping. Gary was very loving, generous and loved to laugh and tease. He's going to be missed so much. He had been a traditional fisherman, following his grandfather, father & uncles footsteps, fishing the banks of Shearers Bridge along the Deschutes River. Preceding in death are brothers, Jimmy Wolfe (1985), Norman Wolfe (1994), infant brother Maxwell Heath; sister Kirbena Heath (1974); grandparents Elvina (1997) and Jasper Switzer (1969); Walter Sr. (1975) and Ellen Heath (1989).

Survivors include his mother Beulah and stepfather Raymond Calica, Sr.; father Kirby Heath Sr.; brothers Cyril & Kanet Wolfe, Reginald Heath all of Warm Springs, OR; Kirby Jr. & Kevin Heath of Yakima, WA; sister Gladys Heath of Yakima, WA along with numerous relatives.

Dressing ceremony was Wednesday, December 17, 1997 at the Agency Longhouse. Overnight services were held with Pierson Mitchell and Nelson Moses officiating.

Burial was sunrise at the Agency Cemetery on Thursday, December 18, 1997.
