SMART reader, Kinne, travels from Zig Zag

The SMART Reader Program began in September 1998 early in the school year and Spilyay Tymoo will again feature stories about SMART readers.

Anna Kinne of Zig Zag, Oregon comes to Warm Springs once a week on Tuesday (unless the snow is too awful) to read to children at Warm Springs Elementary. She reads to six or seven children between 12:00 noon to 2:30 p.m. She sometimes reads with one child for 15 minutes, sometimes half an hour and sometimes to two children at once.

Kinne was visiting Kah-Nee-Ta and came into Warm Springs Agency area to see the beadwork and other crafts at the Plaza. While at the Plaza she talked with Lois Smith about volunteer programs and how she could become involved. Lois suggested SMART Reader Program to Kinne, so she then called Wanda Buslach at the elementary school and became a SMART reader.

"I live in a small community. I wanted to do some volunteer work. I volunteered in Portland and could have again but I have a friend from Warm Springs and I also talked with Judy Kalama about volunteering in Warm Springs. At first I felt very timid about volunteering and didn't want to have to explain myself," says Kinne.

"When I was growing up I was lucky enough to be raised in a family where reading was a common practice. We had lots of books. Sometimes my life wasn't always happy, but I could go into a book and I could travel. I could go places, and be someone. So, books were a bridge to places that I wouldn't have been able to see otherwise.

Books to me are about communicating ideas from someone I might not have a chance to meet personally and communication is so important and so we communicate with music, art and with our gestures. But, understanding words is so important and it opens up worlds for us," adds Kinne.

"I'm hoping that it continues into the summer. I was disappointed when I heard the program ended in April. If there is some way I could continue into the summer, I will continue," concludes Kinne.

Annie Kinne reads with Martika.
