Vickie Adams to perform at the 67th Annual Toppenish Powwow and Rodeo July 1-4.

Courtesy of the Yakama Nation Review

TOPPENISH - World famous rodeo entertainers Leon and Vicki Adams will highlight the 67th annual Toppenish Powwow and Rodeo held July 1-4 in Toppenish, WA.

The Adamses have been named the specialty act of the year in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, most recently in 1997.

The opportunity to work the rodeo in Toppenish will be a home coming for Vicki, who is a Washington native. Vicki was an alternate Miss Indian America, representing her mother's tribe, the Yakama nation. She was also the Northwest Indian barrel racing champion for many years. Vicki is famous for her renowned dancing horses, well known as a trick and roman rider, and as a trainer of outstanding show and barrel racing horses.

Leon Adams also comes from a ranching and rodeo family, and has been a member of the PRCA since 1964, performing in his first rodeo when he was 12. Adams will bring Geronimo and Apache - roman riding bramas - the only act in the world of its kind.

The Adamses have both appeared in movies and train horses, not just for their own unique performances, but for some of the top cowboys and cowgirls in the world. Leon has trained roping and steer wrestling horses for some of the worlds top cowboys, and has hazed for several National Finals steer wrestlers.

Advanced ticket information may be obtained by contacting the rodeo office at (509) 865-5313 or 1-800-569-3982 or e-mail: top rodeo @ wolfenet.com.
