Hoops for Heart supports A.H.A

Lorien Stacona collected the most donations with $210 dollars

Students at Jefferson County Middle School shot hoops and did basketball skills to raise money for the American Heart Association. Approximately 30 students gathered donations and participated in the 4th Annual "Hoops for Heart" event which was held at Jefferson County Middle School on Wednesday, April 7, after school. The students raised $1,018.00 which was sent to the American Heart Association. Contributions collected by participants will fund research and education about heart disease and stroke, the leading cause of death among adult Americans.

The top fundraiser for the event was fifth grader Lorien Stacona who collected $210 in donations. Jason Walters, Mathew Garcia, Hannah Pugh and Rodney Katchia also collected large donations. Mr. Jordan and Mr. Sweeney, co-directors for the event, want to thank all the students who participated and the community members who donated to raise money for the worthy cause.

A special thank you to Erickson's Sentry, Safeway, Ahern's Grocery & Deli, McDonald's and Burger King. These local businesses made generous donations of food and drink for the participants to enjoy during the event.

Vickie Adams to perform at the 67th Annual Toppenish Powwow and Rodeo July 1-4.

Courtesy of the Yakama Nation Review

TOPPENISH - World famous rodeo entertainers Leon and Vicki Adams will highlight the 67th annual Toppenish Powwow and Rodeo held July 1-4 in Toppenish, WA.

The Adamses have been named the specialty act of the year in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, most recently in 1997.

The opportunity to work the rodeo in Toppenish will be a home coming for Vicki, who is a Washington native. Vicki was an alternate Miss Indian America, representing her mother's tribe, the Yakama nation. She was also the Northwest Indian barrel racing champion for many years. Vicki is famous for her renowned dancing horses, well know as a trick and roman rider, and as a trainer of outstanding show and barrel racing horses.

Leon Adams also comes from a ranching and rodeo family, and has been a member of the PRCA since 1964, performing in his first rodeo when he was 12. Adams will bring Geronimo and Apache - roman riding bramas - the only act in the world of his kind.

The Adamses have both appeared in movies and train horses, not just for their own unique performances, but for some of the top cowboys and cowgirls in the world. Leon has trained roping and steer wrestling horses for some of the worlds top cowboys, and has hazed for several National Finals steer wrestlers.

Advanced ticket information may be obtained by contacting the rodeo office at (509) 865-5313 or 1-800-569-3982 or e-mail: toprodeo@wolfenet.com.

Stables basketball team travels to BAAD Tournament

The Stable team that went to Pendelton and competed in the B.A.A.D. tournament

Kah-Nee-Ta Stable basketball team traveled to Pendelton, Oregon to participate in the BAAD basketball tournament.

In order for the boys to travel they had a car wash and a bake sale for the expenses. I have to commend the boys for all their hard work also the parents for being very supportive with the baked goods for the sale.

Thank you Guy Wallulatum, Helda and Lorraine Culpus for the money donation, thank you Lovey Colwash for making all the signs and getting the boys set up for the car wash which was at the community center.

The boys came home with sportsmanship trophy, Scott Kalama brought home an all-star bag.

We also want to say thank you to Darrell Smith for your huge contribution, it was appreciated, we were able to participate in the Chief Spirit Tournament which was held back in February.

Thank you parents for helping out.
